Devotions were led by the Rev. Donald Porteous.

Dorinda Winters of Adrian played two selections on the flute accompanied by Carla Williams, also of Adrian.

Speaker was Rex B. Martin, circuit court judge of Lenawee County, who spoke on the responsibilities of parents to their children.

For All We Hold Sacred
. . . Attend Church

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

It's November. And in many a local Church it's time to think about the budget for another year.

This is cause for being thankful. Really it is!

For aren't there many places in this world where men haven't any opportunity to support their Church . . . or any Church to support if they had opportunity?

And aren't there many places where men are compelled to work for causes they do not believe in . . . instead of free to work for a cause in which they do believe?

Frankly, much of the responsibility for keeping our land and our people what we want them to be rests with our Churches.

So let's rejoice in that happy American tradition —the Church budget.

And, in keeping with another fine tradition of our people, let's roll up our sleeves and help!

What's Going on at Boysville

By DICK McMILLAN

The Junior Prom held Saturday evening from 8:00 to 11:00 turned out to be a great success. Girls attending the dance came from St. Francis De Sales and Immaculata. The "Lamplighters" from Tecumseh donated their services to provide the musical background. The setting for the dance was the new dining hall, which minus tables and chairs seems to be an ideal place for a dance. Few decorations are needed and there is lots of dancing room.

Sunday, Nov. 18, a group of boys will have an opportunity to tour the Continental Baking Company at Detroit. Another invitation from St. Joseph Academy at Adrian has been presented to Boysville. The girls are having a record hop, Nov. 17, and they would like to see some of the Boysville faces.

The first-quarter honor roll was announced this past week. Those who made the honor roll include:

Ed Lemanski
Denny Frei
Orville Sutton
Frank Richter
Dan Maline
Mike Frei
Jim Schwanki
John Kostka
Richard Morden
Robert Schwanki.

Five other students who received honorable mention are:

Charlie Stone
Leon Sykes
Tom Morden
Tom Stone
Ron Klos.

Thursday, Nov. 8, Father William Childs from St. Mary's of Wayne visited Boysville and gave the various religion classes talks on future vocations.

The Intramural season has come to an end. In the Major League the prognostication of Brother Philip, CSC, at the beginning of the year turned out to be correct — the Bears won in a walkaway.

In the Minor League things were a little closer. First-place Wisconsin had to fight off a strong bid for the championship made by Michigan, but a sub-stained effort enabled them to maintain possession of first place.

Next week an Intramural Basketball program will begin.

Basketball practice for the Varsity, Junior Varsity and Freshman teams began last Tuesday. Because of the large number who showed up for the tryouts, the coaches are just now making final eliminations and team rosters are beginning to take final shape.

Witnesses Convene

Jehovah's Witnesses from the Tecumseh congregation and 15 other congregations will meet in Ann Arbor for their semi-annual circuit assembly Dec. 21-23, according to Daniel Kierczak, local presiding minister.

"Spread the Word of Life" will be the theme of the convention.

Highlight of the convention will be the public discourse, "The Bible's Answer to Our Problem of Survival," by Nicholas Kovalak, Jr. Dec. 23.

"The purpose of the convention," said Mr. Kierczak, "is to make each delegate more aware of his Christian obligations and to assist him to more effectively fulfill them."

The place of the assembly and other details of the convention will be announced later.

Fountain Honors Ed Nelson

When thirsty little ball players doing battle at the Ed Nelson Field want a drink of water, they won't have to go far next season. A fountain is being installed there, handy for players and spectators. It has been dedicated to City Manager Ed Nelson with a striking bronze plaque, citing Mr. Nelson's devotion to the young people of the community. The masonry work was done by Wilfred Waldron, who donated his services. The field stones used for the job were donated from a variety of area farms, with Mr. Waldron breaking them into halves with a 16-pound hammer. City Recreation Director John Henderson, instrumental in having the project done, reports that the city hopes evenually to have several more diamonds fashioned west of the two present layouts and concentrate the town's junior baseball program there.

Long and Short

BY TOM RIORDAN

"One of these days, this desert will bloom like Eden. All we need is a big slab of concrete across that river."

It was the 1920's.

Making the statement was the late Rufus Woods, publisher of the Wenatchee (Wash.) Daily World.

As he spoke, Rufus waved his arms in a wide arc to embrace the dreary scene—the desert of Washington State.

Thus began one of the most intense editorial campaigns any newspaper in America has staged. It lasted more than a decade and ended with the building of the Grand Coulee Dam.

William M. Greene, now copy editor of the Los Angeles Herald-Examiner and then a reporter working on Mr. Wood's paper, writes of the effort in the current issue of Country Beautiful.

Mr. Greene said folks referred to the project as "Rufus Woods' Magnificent Pipe Dream."

There was bitter opposition from townspeople, other publications, Congress—even the community's Chamber of Commerce.

But humor still crept in. Rufus asked his staff to work into stories wherever possible the dam project.

This hit its climax in a report of a holdup in town. The write-up concluded, "The robbers were last seen heading towards the site of the proposed Grand Coulee Dam."

The Farm Journal was among papers and magazines attacking Mr. Woods' drive, stating, "Of all the outrages on agriculture, we are beginning to think the Columbia Basin Project takes the cake. Who wants it? Nobody!"

Barbs like these stung, no doubt, but they seemed only to spur on the fiery publisher.

"Railroads and power companies and big cities all opposed it," Mr. Greene wrote.

But as time moved on, little by little, a few prominent individuals got behind it.

Rufus fought the governor, who was against the plan, cajoled the legislature, appealed to Congress, visited the president.

A half-million dollar appropriation to survey the area by the Army Corps of Engineers stirred the heart of Rufus Woods—but this didn't mean the dam would be built.

From the beginning, Rufus had

Official Examines Three Sites

A visual inspection will be made Wednesday, of the first phase of the proposed River Raisin reclamation project by a member of the Soil Conservation Department from Lansing.

The visitor will examine the Globe and Red Mill Ponds, which would be cleaned and deepened.

Then he'll look over the three proposed new pond sites:

► East of the Civic Center and Globe Pond.

► North of Comfort Rd., the old Quaker Pond.

► North of Sutton Rd., extending to Comfort Rd.

Woody Barclay, Lenawee County Soil Conservation officer, has stated that his "superiors are enthusiastic."

Tuesday afternoon, another quick survey was made by Ed Bacon, who is from the Michigan Conservation's stream improvement division, with interest primarily in fish and wild life.

Mr. Bacon was scheduled to confer with the project's committee that evening.

JOINT EFFORT—Gary Linger (left) and Tom Wilson, who hunted pheasant earlier this year on the Garrett Linger farm near Tipton, went back Saturday and bagged this 180-pound, seven-point buck. Tom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wilson, and Gary, both juniors at Tecumseh High School, had to drag the deer a mile in the brush. They will split this buck, and go back whenever school allows to try to fill the other hunting tag.

4 Days of Free Parking

Dec. 20, 21, 22 and 24 on Off-Street Lots for Christmas

By JIM LINCOLN

A fitting gesture for the holidays was made Monday night by Council when city offiicals, told that the merchants would not rent parking meters for shoppers prior to Christmas, voted anyway to give free off-street parking for four days—Dec. 20-21-22-24.

Council also lowered suggested meter rental costs from $55 per day for Fridays and Saturdays to $40 per day.

Merchants will be asked to rent the meters for the Dec. 7-8 and Dec. 14-15 weekends.

Original proposal from the city to the merchants was $760 for approximately three weeks of free parking before Christmas. This proposal was turned down by a meeting of the Retail Division of the Chamber of Commerce.

Police Chief Murell Clark said no parking tickets are ever issued on Dec. 24.

Ed Nelson, city manager, said Yule decorations would start going up Monday and the lights would be turned on Dec. 1.

THE CITY manager was requested to ask the State Highway Department for curb and gutter along N. Evans St., before the state turns the former portion of M-52 over to the city.

Discussion also concerning the state centered on improving aprons of the street and intersection at Brown, Burt and Macon Hwy.

In other action, Council:

► Authorized a payment of $2,500 to A. L. Roe for additional work in running the sewer to Faraday.

► Approved removal of old boilers from the Community Center.

► Approved a trailer permit at 205 E. Kilbuck.

► Referred an automobile car wash business in the old telephone company to the Planning Commission.

Thanksgiving Day Service Open to All

A special Thanksgiving Day service, traditional in Christian Science churches all over the world, will be held at the Tecumseh Christian Science Church, 111 N. Union St.

Everyone is welcome to the service, which begins at 10:45 a.m. Thanksgiving morning.

Hymns, prayer, and a specially prepared Bible Lesson-Sermon are all a part of the service, which also includes a period for spontaneous expressions of gratitude by church members in the congregation.

$6,000 in Checks Returned to Donors

More than 600 checks, given to the Save Historic St. Peter's Church Fund, are being returned to their donors this week.

Their face values accounted for $6,000 of the money contributed for the proposed effort to move and restore the old Tecumseh church which has failed.

Balance of the $7,012.63 given for the project is in cash. Of this amount, $28.56 was spent for stamped envelopes to return the checks.

The committee in charge of the drive, following the plan set up at the organizational meeting Sept. 6, will turn over the cash balance to the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation, Inc.

Donors who would like to get their gifts back before this is done, may pick them up at The Herald office by Dec. 1, 1962.

The cash gifts — coming from all over the United States — ranged from 25c to $20. Most were for $1.

Three committee members, Mrs. Joe Rice, Mrs. Louis S. Schneider, and Mrs. Harold Sisson, stuffed the 600 envelopes Monday evening for return of the checks, several which totaled $500.

Mr. and Mrs. Rice had previously addressed the envelopes.

WITH EACH check, a printed note expressed thanks for the gift and explained why it was being returned:

"Thank you for the contribution you made to our recent effort to preserve and restore Michigan's oldest church in continuous use.

"Unfortunately, the drive produced only $7,012.63, far short of the needed $100,000. The structure will soon be dismantled."

Construction of the new St. Peter's continues on schedule with first service slated there at Christmas, reports the Rev. Frank Hawthorne.

The old church will be used until the new one is ready.

Chamber Seeking Members

Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce started its membership drive this week with members of the board soliciting memberships at $25 each.

The new dues schedule is the lowest here in a number of years, since a full-time secretary will not be employed at this time.

The Chamber board voted last month on the dues and agreed to use the dues collected to promote Tecumseh in general.

Board members are expected to collect $25 from each member during their calls. There will be no billing.

Returns Home

Raymond J. Arft, Sr., formerly of Tecumseh, was released Nov. 16 from the Madison General Hospital in Madison, Wis., where he underwent surgery.

Union Service Planned

The Rev. Donald Porteous of the Methodist Church will speak on the subject, "Learning How To Give Thanks", at the Union Thanksgiving service Wednesday.

It will be held at 8 p.m. in the Methodist Church.

The Rev. Mr. Porteous is speaking in the place of the Rev. Paul Brantingham, who is hospitalized.

The annual service, to which the community is invited, is under the auspices of the Tecumseh Ministerial Association.

The Rev. Julian Gresham and the Rev. B. O. Bashore will participate along with the Rev. Mr. Porteous.

The Methodist choir under the direction of Miles Cowdrey will present the anthem, "We Plow the Fields."

The offering will be divided equally between the CROP program and the Family Counseling Service of Lenawee County.

Last year the service was held on Sunday evening, but the members of the Ministerial Association decided to hold it nearer to Thanksgiving this year.

Two Districts School Boards Ponder Merger

Blissfield and Deerfield Boards of Education are studying a possible merger of their two school districts.

Deerfield proposed the study, after a similar study with Britton-Macon School District showed those two schools could not profit by joining forces.

The Blissfield and Deerfield boards and their superintendents will meet Nov. 26 at Blissfield to get the talks underway.

Other districts in this area, feeling the pinch of increased enrollments in the upper grades, are discussing consolidations.

Among possibilities are a combination of Tecumseh with Clinton and/or Britton-Macon

Retail merchandising promotions come and go.

But the one which has by far the most appeal — to shoppers and storemen—is the cash giveaway.

Tecumseh merchants are teaming together to give $200 and maybe more—over a four-week period, beginning Nov. 30.

That Friday evening and for the next three will see $50 awarded to some lucky Tecumseh shopper.

There need be no purchase. Chances on the money can be obtained from any of the 26 participating, business places.

Those taking part:

Baldwin's Hardware

RULES FOR the promotion are simple:

► Participants must be at least 18-years-old

► Owners of participating stores and their immediate families are not eligible to take part.

► No purchases are required to obtain chances.

► Chances may be deposited at any participating store.

She wrote this in a "Good Neighbor" contest sponsored by the Connie Page Show, a morning television program.

Also appearing will be Senor Wenches, ventriloquist, and the Kenneth Jewell Chorale Group.

Beginners Square Dance Classes Given

So far, 20 couples are enjoying the fun, which is presided over by Mrs. Raymond Mattis, one of the best callers and teachers in the area.

Others are welcome to join. There will be no session this week because of Thanksgiving, but festivities pick up again Nov. 29.

At present the fee is $1.50 per couple each night, but as more join up, the cost will probably drop to $1.

The gathering starts at 8 p.m.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

Over the river and through the wood,
To grandfather's house we go;
The horse knows the way
To carry the sleigh
Through the white and drifted snow.

Over the river and through the wood,
Now grandmother's cap I spy!
Hurrah for the fun!
Is the pudding done?
Hurrah for the pumpkin pie!

Lydia Child's poem brings back pleasant memories to most folk, whether of the horse and sleigh generation or that of the iron horse.

What fun, to set off with the family in anticipation of the gathering of loved ones.

STANLEY PACKARD

Year 'Round Toy Project Paying Off

Tecumseh folk have been most generous with their year 'round contributions of used toys for the Jaycees to repair for Christmas distribution to the needy.

Stanley Packard, a retiree of Bruce Foundry, has been with the painting and repair this summer to aid the Jaycees.

The Jaycees in turn assist the Tecumseh Service Club with delivery, as well as repairing the toys.

Anyone who has toys, games, stuffed animals or any articles they wish to donate for the project may leave them at the fire barn, according to Ken Zornow, chairman.

Long & Short

said, "More than a million years ago a giant glacier pushed the Columbia River out of its ancient bed and forced it to cut a new channel.

"Eventually the glacier melted and the river went back to its former course, leaving the abandoned river bed now called Grand Coulee."

This was a huge, dry, boulder-strewn chasm, 52 miles long and up to five miles across.

There were mute red and green streaked cliffs, some 1,000 feet high, over which once thundered a cataract mightier than Niagara.

The dam, Rufus told his staffman, should be where the glacier once stemmed the river, so the water could be stored in the coulee to irrigate the surrounding land and provide power for new towns and cities.

The Great Depression, ironically, worked in favor of the project.

When Franklin D. Roosevelt's campaign train rolled through Washington State in '32, devout Republican Rufus Woods clammored aboard and told FDR about the dam.

President Hoover had earlier shown sympathy to Rufus when he visited the White House, but "he seemed tired and discouraged."

Rufus even quoted from a speech Mr. Hoover made in Seattle in 1926, "Every drop of water that runs to the sea without yielding its full commercial return to the nation is an economic waste."

But to no avail.

The hardsell with FDR, however, paid off. Following his election, he looked for projects to ease unemployment.

Mr. Greene noted, "I will never forget that Saturday in April of 1933. It was after four in the afternoon and the presses were through with the day's run.

"A few of us were still in the editorial room. A Western Union messenger boy came in with a telegram for Rufus and we directed him to the boss' cluttered office.

"A few moments later Rufus came out wreathed in smiles . . . President Roosevelt personally had approved $63 million to start work on Grand Coulee Dam. We were all too stunned to speak. But not Rufus.

"I knew it would happen," Mr. Woods said.

But Rufus wasn't satisfied. This was enough to build a low level dam. Rufus wanted a high level dam, which would make power as well as provide irrigation.

The campaign continued, keyed with a special edition of his The Daily World, the lead story headlined "Two Million Wild Horses!"

That was the energy the dam would harness.

In 1936, FDR gave Rufus his wish — a high level dam.

Grand Coulee now is taken for granted. So is the lake that extends 151 miles behind it, the millions of tons of water which hurl over the dam — twice as much as Niagara Falls.

During World War II, Grand Coulee produced great quantities of power for the "Northwest's burgeoning war industries."

By 1944, it was handling production of 40% of the Pacific Northwest's power demands.

A $7 million sugar plant was built. Boeing jet testing facilities, with 1,000 jobs, set up. Population doubled in 10 years.

Retail sales during that time zoomed from $42 million to $100 million during the same period.

The author concludes his piece with:

"What once was a wasteland of sand and sagebrush is now a checkerboard of fertile fields producing bumper crops of potatoes, wheat, and beans.

"The 350,000 acres already under cultivation yielded crops with an estimated gross value of over $42 million last year.

"Waters from the dam have turned the desert into a bird sanctuary and a mecca for sportsmen and vacationers.

"Where once there were only alkali flats and rattlesnakes there is now a network of sparkling blue lakes.

Rufus' pipe dream has become a reality."

Residents Express Holiday Opinions

Thanksgiving Day is a time of thanks, a time of feasting and a time for families.

The result of a brief survey made by the Herald among Tecumseh area folk places emphasis on the fact.

Answers to the question, "What does Thanksgiving mean to you?"

Elmer Pocklington, Ridgeway —"I'm thankful for more things I haven't got than for those that I have. I don't have to look very far to see people with things I'm glad I don't have. Sometimes it's children."

Mrs. Joe Rice, 310 W. Logan St. — Thanksgiving is the time when I make a special effort to thank God for the blessings of the past year and Christmas is the time when I make a special effort to thank my friends for their kindness through the past year.

Harriett Blanden, 5140 E. Monroe Rd. — It's a time to give thanks for everything we have. We usually have a family dinner with relatives.

Mrs. George Halberstadt, 4202 Rogers Highway — We're thankful that we have a roof over our heads. We've had furnace and water pump trouble but everything is OK now. I'm glad to have had a big garden. It wasn't too much trouble and now we have 600 jars in the cellar to show for our efforts. I canned three month steady, something every day. It's nice to eat homegrown things. Thanksgiving Day we go to my mother-in-law's. We celebrate her birthday too, which is just a couple days after Thanksgiving.

Mrs. Rick Creswell, 219 S. Pearl St. — We gather with my dad's side of the family, relatives that we only meet with once or twice a year. We enjoy each other and a meal together.

Barbara Klught, 308 E. Pottawatamie St. — Shouldn't Thanksgiving be every day of the year?

Rose Cubberly, 120½ W. Chicago Blvd. — When the Pilgrims and the Indians first celebrated.

Mrs. Roger Williams, 2505 Russell Rd. — It means my husband is going to be up north deer hunting . . . It really has a deep meaning. Without the people that came here on the Mayflower and the many who gave their lives, we wouldn't have much today.

Thanksgiving

Observe and seek out all the commandments of the Lord your God; that you may possess this good land, and leave it for an inheritance to your children after you for ever.

— I Chronicles 28.8 RSV

When the Pilgrims held their first Thanksgiving feast in 1621, the turkeys were supplied by four men sent out to shoot wild birds.

When Abraham Lincoln, urged by the editor of Godey's Lady's Book, began a yearly national Thanksgiving Day in 1863, most people who ate turkey had raised it themselves.

This week, though, most of us will drive to the supermarket to pick up our turkeys — all neatly dressed and wrapped in transparent plastic.

At the same time we will buy everything else for our feast, each item in a nice package. Only by hearsay will we know that they grew instead of being manufactured.

After paying at the check-out counter, we may wonder whether we still owe any thanks for them.

Thankfulness calls for imagination nowadays. We have to remember that God works through persons as much as through nature.

We have to trace his handiwork in the co-operation of thousands of human hands back of the loaf on our table.

Thanksgiving is a time to think about the whole process by which God gives us food and other good gifts today.

Gratitude means more than just admitting we have received them; it means using them as the Giver has intended.

Our fathers could perhaps see better what God has given us in this good land of ours, but for our children's sake we have more need to thank him for it by seeking out and observing all his commandments.

We must heed his natural laws if we are to preserve the fertile soil on the surface of our land and the mineral supplies underneath.

We must heed his moral and spiritual laws if our people are to work together in harmony and spread its blessings to all.

Kiwanis Governor Seen Here

Jim Sisson was the discussion leader for the Administration group and Brenda Gallant was the recorder.

Philip Miller was discussion leader for the Juvenile Problems group with Jolene Dragich, recorder.

Don Brazee and Douglas Murdoch accompanied the Tecumseh High School seniors.

Barbara Speerstra was one of the resource people for the Juvenile Problems group.

Other Tecumseh people who helped with the day's program were John Henderson, John Saling, Murell W. Clark, the Rev. Blair Bashore, Dr. A. J. Whelan, Cal Zorn, James Beardsley and Ed Nelson.

Mills Swick of Macon, Gustav Tiede and Andrew Crutchfield also participated.

Fred McCrate, senior from the Britton-Macon High School, was discussion leader for the Taxation group.

Brother Philip Armstrong, CSC, of Boysville was one of the resource people on the Juvenile Problems panel.

Moms of FFA Members Plan Next Banquet

Eighteen mothers of the members of the Future Farmers met Oct. 29 at the high school.

Plans to be used for next year's FFA Parent-Son banquet were discussed.

The group holds three meetings each year to assist the FFA with the annual banquet.

Sharp Eye, Ready Gun Give Buck

A sharp shooting eye and some extraordinary luck produced a six-point, 180-pound buck for Richard Machan in his own back yard.

Richard was working with his father in the barnyard of the family home on Holloway Rd. a mile west of Holloway Thursday morning.

They spotted a deer in the corn field. Louis Machan said his son grabbed a .22 rifle from the barn, and dropped the buck at a 130-yard range.

The Machans did a "lot of tramping" looking for deer in the area last year, Mr. Machan said, but didn't have the luck they had in their own yard.

He added that just before the hunting season opened, he nearly hit a doe with a pickup truck

Libraries Plan Talk on Money

Library boards, librarians, government and school officials and others from a four-county area will gather at Adrian Wednesday, Nov. 28, to discuss the future of the state's libraries.

Lenawee, Monroe, Jackson and Hillsdale Counties are included in the regional conference, an outgrowth of the Governor's Conference on Libraries, held last September in Lansing.

Wednesday's meeting will start at 7:30 p.m. in Adrian Public Library, with Rex B. Martin as chairman.

A proposed state aid formula to benefit libraries throughout Michigan will be aired and discussed.

A film on highlights of the state conference will be shown. Members of the reaction panel will include J. C. Beardsley, Tecumseh city attorney; Rollo Conlin, state representative from this district, and library, government and farm representatives.

Open to all interested, the meeting is sponsored by the Michigan Library Assn., State Board of Libraries, Michigan Council for Better Libraries and the libraries of Lenawee County.

Keeping Up Curriculum Is Difficult

"Instead of focusing our curriculum on tomorrow's needs," Neville Hart told guests attending the open house at Tecumseh High School Thursday evening, "We are having difficulty maintaining our present curriculum."

He stressed this "especially in the vocational, music and science areas, all badly in need of improvement."

"Those (parents) not content with anything less than the best for their children, must wage a campaign of education, not with the children, but with the adults who are content with less.

"A solid education should be the goal every parent seeks for his offspring. A good education may be their only inheritance," he added.

Mr. Hart pointed out that Tecumseh High School is badly over-crowded, 840 students occupying a building with a capacity for 600.

By 1971, enrollment will rise to more than 1,000.

This crowding has had its adverse effect on over-all educational opportunities for Tecumseh youth, Mr. Hart emphasized.

It has already caused "swing shifts" with some students going from 8 until 3 and others 9 until 4.

This could eventually lead to two separate sessions, 8 to 1 and 1 to 6. This "abbreviated schedule will result in loss of our accredited status, and of course, your children will be obtaining a second-rate education," he noted.

MR. HART advanced several possibilities to alleviate the situations:

- ► Erect a new high school.
- ► Place additions onto the present building.
- ► Build temporary structures.
- ► Make elementary school one-through-seventh grades and junior high, eighth and ninth grades.

Mr. Hart told the guests that, "Today, a broader, deeper scholarship and a more profound intellectual competence is required than was envisioned, even in recent years.

Young people now face tremendous challenges and schools consequently must begin to offer a wider range of educational, vocational and social opportunities to help them live happily and productively in our modern world," the THS principal emphasized.

Mr. Hart concluded his talk, "Your children need your support. Don't sell them short."

NEARLY 500 parents attended this year's open house, which climaxed the local celebration of National Education Week.

They went through a "mock" class day, the same followed by their youngsters, only in miniature, meeting for seven minutes with each instructor.

The band and chorus presented a program in the gymnasium.

Donuts, coffee and milk were served guests by Future Nurses and home economic students under the direction of Mrs. Charles Brown and Mrs. Mervin Boltz.

Members of the Future Teachers Club distributed programs.

The mishap occurred at the corner of Cairns and Sunset Sts.

ATTENTION GIVEN A SOW during and just after farrowing can mean saving an extra pig or two — perhaps a difference between profit and loss. Before farrowing, keep the sow hungry and in good condition but not fat. Provide plenty of clean water and no feed the first day after farrowing. Protect the sow and growing pigs from cold, wet floors and drafty sleeping quarters. With favorable weather, the sow and litter can be turned on pasture lots when the pigs are 7 to 10 days of age.

FARM CREDIT and farm management are closely related. Most farmers are borrowing more than ever before. Aside from collateral, sound moral character and a good credit history, there are other management traits in a borrower that lenders look for. Among them are presence of a positive plan of operation and a balance between livestock and crops. Others are the intelligent use of fertilizer and effective weed control to produce high yields. A lender may also be concerned with whether the borrower buys only what he needs, controls machinery costs and repairs machinery when it's not in use.

STOP MASTITIS SPREAD BY USING individual paper towels for sanitizing udders prior to milking. Using only one cloth, mitt, or sponge to wash all cows may spread infection. They are almost impossible to sanitize unless boiled after each milking. A paper towel that has been used to wash an udder should never be returned to the bucket of solution. Use a rag, sponge or mitt only for removing mud. Follow this with a sanitizing solution applied with individual paper towels.

ALFALFA PLAYING OUT? With good fertilization it's no trick to keep good stands for 8 or 9 years. Plenty of potash and phosphorus is the key. Alfalfa stands established on college test plots in 1851 are still producing 3 to 4 tons of forage per acre. Researchers found that annual topdressing is better than putting on fertilizer every other year.

Money Needed for Santa's Suit

If Tecumseh's Santa is to have a new suit, the Jaycee Auxiliary members must have some help to finish the project.

The Retail Division of the Chamber of Commerce allotted money for the purchase of velveteen but neither organization can purchase the fur for the lapels, a wig and whiskers for the jovial character.

Anyone or organization who can help is invited by Mrs. Dwight Helm's chairman, to call her or Mrs. Charles B. O'Neill, Mrs. Ray Shelton or Mrs. Walter Wonderly, members of the committee.

Ruth Krout Wed to Michael McCann

Ruth Ann Krout, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer L. Krout of Tipton became the bride of Thomas Michael McCann, son of Mrs. Wiley F. McCann, 212 N. Maiden Lane, and the late Mr. McCann at noon Nov. 17.

The Rev. Fr. Thomas J. Collins performed the ceremony at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church. Mrs. Benjamin McWilliams presided at the organ.

The bride chose a floor length gown of white Chantilly lace fashioned with Sabrina neckline, long fitted sleeves and a skirt of lace and tulle.

HER SHOULDER length veil of illusion was attached to a rhinestone crown. She carried a cascade arrangement of white Fuji chrysanthemums and ivy.

Anna Kathleen McCann, sister of the groom, was maid-of-honor in a gown of red chiffon with white lace overblouse and headpiece of red satin with veil.

She carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums.

Johnell Furguson of Toledo was bridesmaid in similar attire to that of Miss McCann.

A RECEPTION for 250 was held in the St. Elizabeth auditorium immediately following the ceremony.

Rev. Fred Thomas, Evangelist

EVANGELISM FIRST
1960-1964

At the age of twelve, Rev. Fred Thomas, of Elkhart, Indiana, began his ministry in the field of evangelism. A well-known speaker, he now serves as a full-time revivalist in the Church of the Nazarene, an international denomination with headquarters in Kansas City, Missouri.

Mr. Thomas has conducted unusually fruitful campaigns throughout the United States and Canada, with thousands seeking God under his ministry. He was also an outstanding pastor for twelve years, holding charges in various churches in Indiana.

Many have come under Mr. Thomas' ministry at district assemblies, camp meetings, and church colleges. Others have come to know him through his articles in the "Herald of Holiness," official Nazarene publication.

The church and its pastor extend a hearty welcome to you and your friends. Each and every service will be filled with good things: spiritual songs, choruses, special music, a dynamic gospel message, and, best of all, the presence of God. Be sure to be with us at our opening service. You will enjoy our friendly hospitality and will be a regular attendant at these special services.

DAR Members Show Heirlooms

Members of the Lucy Wolcott Barnum Chapter, DAR of Adrian with the regent, Mrs. Herbert Beck, were guests of the Abi Evans Chapter Nov. 9 at the Methodist Church.

Mrs. Charles Branigan, program chairman, opened an entertaining program entitled "Treasured Possessions" by reading a story written by her mother, Mrs. Florence Linton, for the magazine, The Youth's Companion.

Other treasured momentos were presented by the members.

Mrs. Hoyt Whelan displayed her toy three-legged iron kettle like those used in colonial days to hang by the fireplace. It first belonged to her great-grandmother in Massachusetts.

Mrs. Orville Laidlaw displayed a daguerreotype of her great-grandmother and the bonnet worn in the picture along with some weaving and glassware.

Mrs. Cecile Smith showed her collection of antique glass toothpick holders in the shape of hats.

Mrs. Neil Pearson displayed her antique pitchers and handmade pillow lace of her paternal grandmothers brought from England in 1883 along with bobbins and patterns used to make it. She mentioned that there was pillow lace on some pieces of Queen Elizabeth's trousseau.

Mrs. Donald Wright had a collection of sterling silver with her that had been in the family for some years.

Mrs. Braningan also presented a glass collection and hand woven coverlets. She is making coverlets with the same patterns and the same material, wool and linen, that were used to make the original ones in her possession.

Tea was served with Mrs. Ellsworth Robison and Mrs. Kenneth Hall at the silver service. Others on the committee were Mrs. Louis S. Schneider, Mrs. George Wittrup, Mrs. Earl Lindsley, Mrs. Joseph Russell, Mrs. Harold Hall and Mrs. Cecile Smith.

Livestock for Juniors Is Coming

More than 350 Michigan 4-H Club livestock members are busily preparing prize animals for next month's 33rd annual Detroit Junior Livestock Show.

Dates of this year's show are Dec. 3 to 6. The event is jointly sponsored by the 4-H Club department of Michigan State University and the Detroit Junior Livestock Society.

This year's show has been extended to four days to allow exhibitors to participate in a more complete carcass evaluation program, says Ralph Morrow, MSU 4-H livestock specialist.

Carcass entries will arrive on the afternoon of Dec. 3. Exhibitors will have the opportunity to participate in an on-foot judging of the animals later the same day. Carcass placings will be made on Wednesday.

Exhibitors of lambs, market hogs and steers will arrive at the show on Tuesday. Entries will compete for grand champion honors on Wednesday and the prize livestock will be sold in the annual auction Thursday.

More than 700 animals brought over $93,000 at last year's sale.

Careless Walker

Blankets Are Needed for Algeria

Unlimited quantities of food and blankets are urgently requested for impoverished refugees starting life anew in Algeria.

Refugees returning to this war-devasted country are now facing the cold winter months and critically need emergency help, according to the Christian Committee for Service in Algeria (CCSA).

In recent months food supplies have been depleted. A limited quantity of U.S. Government donated food is being made available.

CROP is now conducting its annual campaign for food gifts at harvest. Since CROP resources are nearly depleted, contributions from present CROP campaigns will be especially important.

In addition to food 650,000 blankets are desperately needed by Algerian refugees because of the serious lack of housing, bedding and clothing.

Give a blanket and a quarter" (for processing) through your Church, through the local Council of Churches, or through CROP, Box 206, Lansing.

SOCIAL SECURITY Questions and Answers

QUESTION: As a self-employed person I pay my self-employment tax on 1962 earnings when I make my income tax in the early part of 1963. Will I pay at the increased rate of 5.4 percent?

ANSWER: No. You will pay your self-employment tax at the 1962 rate of 4.7 percent because you are paying on 1962 income. The 1963 earnings will be taxable at the new rate of 5.4 percent.

QUESTION: I have heard that there are two trust funds; one for disability insurance benefits, and one for old-age and survivors insurance benefits. If this is true, where does the money come from to maintain these two funds?

ANSWER: The largest percentage of the social security tax contributions of employees, their employer, and the self-employed goes into the Old-Age and Survivors Insurance Trust Fund, but a fixed percentage of one-quarter of one percent each on employees and employers, and ⅜ of one percent on self-employed persons, is credited to the Disability Insurance Trust Fund. Interest earned by the money in both funds is added to the funds.

QUESTION: Will the present tax rate schedule remain the same even though there may be changes in the present social security law?

ANSWER: Whenever changes are enacted in the social security program, Congress carefully considers the added costs and methods of financing these costs. Congress has repeatedly reaffirmed its intent that the system should be soundly financed and self-supporting. In view of this policy, it is possible that taxes may be increased if additional benefits are provided.

QUESTION: I intend to apply for my social security benefits, but I will continue to do some work. I plan to restrict my earnings to $1200 a year. What do I include in counting this $1200?

ANSWER: If you are working for wages or a salary, count your gross wages or salary, not just your take home pay. Also count wages paid in a form other than cash, such as meals and living quarters. (However, if you work as a domestic in a private household or work on a farm, count only your cash wages). Count earnings from all types of work.

QUESTION: I am an employee. Exactly how much more social security tax will I have to contribute in 1963 than I did in 1962?

ANSWER: The new rate means you'll pay fifty cents more on each $100 of your earnings up to the top taxable earnings of $4800 a year. Your employer will pay the same.

QUESTION: I understand there will be an increase in social security tax rate in 1963. How much will the increase be?

ANSWER: Starting in January 1963, the social security contribution rate will increase to 3⅝ percent for both the worker and the employer. This is a one-half of one percent increase. Self-employed people will pay seven-tenths of one percent more or a total of 5.4 percent on their net earnings.

Two new members, Mrs. Steve Fulop and Mrs. Mendel Decker, were welcomed to the club.

Mrs. House and Mrs. Don Sunderland spoke on highlights of the fall conference at Battle Creek Oct. 30.

The program included a bazaar with each member contributing baked goods and handmade articles for auction.

Mrs. Doug Murdoch and Mrs. Arthur Schwartz furnished turkey favors.

Mrs. LeRoy Titley was co-hostess for the 16 members and guests.

Merger Investigation with Tecumseh, Dundee Started by Boardmen

Building needs for the 1962-'63 school year were discussed at the November Board of Education Meeting.

The enrollment in the high school and elementary grades is expected to increase again next year.

"We will need additional space to take care of this increase. This will be especially true at the elementary level," Commented Supt. Bill Saxton.

The board is in the process of investigating merger possibilities with nearby schools.

"Dundee and Tecumseh schools have been contacted to find out if they would be interested in meeting with our board to discuss whether a merger would be feasible," states Mr. Saxton.

Mrs. Raymond Kahle, a first grade teacher, has resigned effective Nov. 15 to take a librarian job at Milan High School. Mrs. Kahle will be replaced by Mrs. Bruce Corley.

NEW LOOK—Bruce Foundry, hit by a costly fire last June, has a new face, as well as new interior remodeling. The new brick facade and bright paint (above) are complemented by foundation plantings of evergreens. Another improvement will be the tearing down of an old house just north of the building's main entrance. The damaged portion of the foundry is shown (below) by the light of the early morning fire, which roused neighbors back last June.

Few Experience Serious Want

Many nations have Thanksgiving Day.

None are more heartfelt than America's day of praise for the bounties that have made us the wealthiest and most envied nation in the world.

The desire to give thanks for blessings received is older than recorded history. The ancient Egyptians did it, and so did the Greeks and Romans.

But their celebrations had a specific direction: thanks to their deities of the harvest for good crops.

The tradition remains in many sophisticated European countries, in festivities for grain and grape gathering.

But when the Pilgrims sat down with their Indian friends in the first American Thanksgiving, they had more than a harvest to raise thanks for.

They had lived through harrowing times of cold, hunger and danger from an unknown wilderness.

They had established a new church, and the right to worship as their conscience guided them.

Americans still have all these things to be thankful for. The danger of world conflict, while ever-present, at least has been held at bay. Public and private welfare programs mean few persons have to be cold or hungry.

The vast majority of Americans go through their lives without ever being in serious want. Hardly ever meet anyone who has known real hunger or a coldness that had no fuel or clothing to cure it.

This makes Americans unique in today's world.

Let's count our blessings.

Some Interesting Reading

During the first weeks of December, each household in Tecumseh will receive a handsome annual report of city activities.

In the form of a calendar, the summary carries detailed accountings of all city departments, budgets and revenues, embellished with photographs.

An hour's reading by citizens will give an enormous amount of information about the operation of city government. They'll garner information about police, fire, water, improvements and other vital city functions.

Readers will also be given a peek into the future, regarding planned activities that will take place next year and in years to come.

Tecumseh has been operating under the council-city manager type of government for a dozen years and this marks the first time a comprehensive report is being prepared for residents. Many communities produce them every year.

City Manager Ed Nelson, assisted by John Henderson, put together the volume of facts.

Residents of the community have long received current details of local government through stories in The Herald and via official council proceedings, which are printed following every meeting as legal notices in this newspaper.

The annual report distills down these facts, adding the complete budget figures.

It will make interesting reading.

Money Always Welcome

Money is always a welcome gift. What is that cute saying some community hails visitors to its limits with? Something like "Keep our town green. Bring Money."

Which takes us to the idea Tecumseh merchants are backing this Christmas season—the giveaway of $200, in four prizes.

Starting Friday evening, Nov. 30 and continuing each Friday night to Dec. 21, folks who Christmas shop in Tecumseh will have the opportunity to grab off one of those $50 prizes.

It's one way of saying "thanks" to customers of local stores and also to show propective trade that merchants here are always coming up with that little "something extra" for patrons.

Details of the event appear on this week's front page. Our next issue will carry the participating merchants putting on the give-away.

Probably the best conclusion we could make to this editorial is to remind folks that Tecumseh business places are always pleased to serve. And when you buy locally, you are actually helping yourself and your family.

ALLAN SEAGER

Seager Work Praised

Novelist Allan Seager's most recent work, the translation of Stendhal's French book, "Memories of a Tourist," drew lavish praise from Detroit News reviewer Jay McCormick Sunday.

Mr. McCormick, who is a fiction writer and teaches in the Department of English at Wayne State University has almost as many nice comments to make about Tecumsehite Seager as his translation.

What follows are portions of Mr. McCormack's review.

Stendal wrote "Memoirs of a Tourist" in 1837, "— for the money there was in it," as his translator, Allan Seager, points out with candor.

. . . . Seager seems just about the perfect man to translate him. There are strong resemblances between them, when you come to think of it—and you don't quite know which one to compliment on the fact.

Seager, who has found his own Civita Vecchia as professor of English at the University of Michigan, is not only the outstanding novelist in the state, but a writer of international importance as well.

He has published five novels and a volume of short stories, all recognized as superb by other writers and a select public (though to his credit, he would be the first to hoot the snobbish note in the last phrase).

But like Stendhal in the days when "The Red and the Black" and "The Charterhouse of Parma" were appearing, Seager too has had to tap the foot and wait for fame to catch up with reputation.

He is probably far better known in London, Paris or New York.

Instead of writing a tourist guide to France, Stendhal wrote about a tourist—obviously himself, disguised as "a commercial traveller in hardware."

It was a lucky switch for readers, because it let Stendhal keep moving while speaking his mind freely.

THOSE WERE things he was good at. And though in the book's preface the translator mentions having "—seen the French staring at their own monuments with it in their hands," he has to add, "Not that it is wholly reliable as a guidebook."

It depends on what you want to be guided to. There's a lot of "reliability" in Stendhal's description of the Pont du Gard five leagues from Nimes, for instance:

"You know that the Pont du Gard, only a simple aqueduct, rises majestically in the midst of a wilderness. The mind is thrown into an astonishment long and profound . . . It had to be built across a deep narrow valley. There is no sign of luxury or ornament here.

"The Romans made these astonishing things not to inspire admiration but simply and only when they were useful. A composition for effect, which is so eminently modern an idea, the mind of the spectator rejects at once, and if he is reminded of this craze, it is only to scorn it."

"The mind is filled with feelings it does not even dare articulate, much less magnify. True passions have their modesty."

THE STENDHAL touch is partly revealed here: "—no sign of luxury or ornament . . . True passions have their modesty . . ." and yet this from "—A man 54 years old who in his heart does not really believe he is too old to fall in love . . ."

The whole book is full of sharply particular views, beyond capture by the shutterbug whatever his equipment—views of ancient churches, river steamboats, provincial hotel rooms, the bright-colored, bawling merchants' Fair at Beaucaire; and a collection of people, ranging from Carthusian monks cowled in white wool, to dull Genevan businessmen, than whom says Standhal there can be no duller.

But more than all in "Memoirs of a Tourist" there is Marie Henri Beyle, whose pen name was Stendahal — without doubt one of the wittiest, most honest and nonchalantly profound writers of any country or age.

Circle Trades Gift to Needy for Exchange

Instead of their usual Christmas gift exchange, members of Mary Foster Circle will donate $1 for a needy church family.

Thirteen members attending the November meeting in the home of Mrs. Art Cubberly decided on the donation.

Mrs. Carl Hale presided at the meeting and the devotions were given on the Thanksgiving theme by Mrs. Joseph Poley.

Bertha LaPointe read two articles, one by Billy Graham and another by Catherine Marshall from the book, "Let's Keep Christmas."

The Christmas Tree Lane tea will be held Dec. 8. Tickets are 50c each.

Mrs. Ed Beal will be the program chairman.

A WSCS family night supper will be held Dec. 12.

Mrs. Carl Hale will be hostess for the Christmas party next meeting.

VOLUME 112 — ONE HUNDRED THIRTEENTH YEAR — NUMBER 9 | TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 29, 1962 | 16 PAGES — TEN CENTS A COPY

Long and Short

By TOM RIORDAN

Sharon Ries, a Tecumseh exchange student now on Formosa, writes another interesting story for this week's Herald.

It appears on page four.

Sharon expects to leave Dec. 8 to begin her return trip home. Anyone wishing to write her should do so immediately.

She expects to arrive back in Michigan Jan. 24 and will have made a complete circuit of the globe.

Come Jan. 1 and new post office mail increases go into effect.

First-class letters will cost 5c and post cards 4c.

Cost of sending newspapers and magazines through the mails wasn't overlooked in the rate jump.

In order to help offset the increase, The Herald will increase its yearly subscription rates for the first time in many years — at least prior to 1956 when your present publishers took over.

The Lenawee County rate will be $4 and out-county $5.

As for military subscriptions, we'll continue them at just $1. Any Tecumseh area man or woman in service is entitled to this deal.

The buck covers handling costs. It's one small way we can tell our service folks we're happy to bring them the hometown paper each week, no matter where they may be serving.

For the economy-minded, no matter when your subscription expires, you can sign up for another year between now and Jan. 1 at the old rates.

Tecumseh stores will be open every Saturday night — in addition to Fridays — now until Christmas.

Beginning Dec. 17, business places will not close until 9 week days as well.

Back in 1932 there was a young lady by the name of Alda Bodette in Toledo who was a star basketball and softball player.

She spent eight years in competition with some of the finest feminine athletes both in the United States and Canada.

Two of her teammates included her sisters, Grace and Ivadel.

A couple of Sundays ago, The Blade in Toledo ran a picture of a softball team for which the Bodette girls performed.

Alda, now of Tecumseh, proudly clipped a copy and showed friends who stopped into the shop she and her husband now run — Pickard's Floral.

"Big Buck" Lifts Man on 7-Point Rack

James Merillat, neighbor of Mr. Torres, and Jim's dad, Clarence Merillat, 630 N. Union St., witnessed the feat.

Special to The Herald

DEER HEAVEN — One of the newest arrivals here, Big Buck, who formerly lived northeast of Tecumseh, reports an amazing death struggle in which he almost turned the cards on a human hunter.

Big Buck checked into this peaceful grazing land Saturday afternoon. His report has created a sensation here.

Contacts back on earth relay information that the incident has caused a stir there, too.

Big Buck was jumped by two hunters, Manuel Torres and James Merillat, who are neighbors on Macon Rd.

The incident took place about 150 yards behind the homes of the two humans and right in the middle of a favorite eating and strolling area of Big Buck's.

IT TURNS out that the two hunters, back from an unsuccessful deer search 200 miles to the north, decided to check the swamp behind their homes. Between them they had three buckshot shells.

When Big Buck, a 200-pounder, strolled into view just 50 yards from the humans, they fired first. One shot missed, another shattered Big Buck's left rear leg and a third peppered his coat.

Big Buck told friends here that he bolted to the east, but was handicapped with a bad leg. A 300-yard dash couldn't shake the humans.

At this point, he decided to tangle with them. With head lowered, Buck charged Mr. Torres. He rammed the human with his seven-point rack, lifting him into the air.

BUT HIS leverage was bad with the almost useless hoof. Suddenly there was a burning sensation in Buck's left shoulder. Then everything went dark.

Big Buck's valiant attempt to best the human failed by a narrow margin. But the story is spreading all across this land of tender grass and tiny trees and sunshine, where nary a man has trod.

It already is making Buck famous.

MAN WINS AGAIN—Manuel Torres shot, chased and then was attacked by this 200-pound buck Saturday, all within view of his back door at 9201 Macon Rd. The seven-point rack on the deer was not just something to look at for Manuel, who took a blow from it in his stomach and was lifted off his feet. Manuel's Mexican bowee knife came in handy at the time and ended the deer's life.

Christmas Mail Goes First Class

If you aren't sure your friend or relative is at his old address, better send the Christmas card first class.

This warning from the post office reminds that cards mailed at the third-class rate of three cents will not be forwarded to a new local address or returned, under rule changes made Jan. 10, 1962.

The undelivered letters will be disposed of as waste, unless the sender has requested their return.

Cards bearing a four-cent stamp will be forwarded if possible, or returned if a return address has been included.

Such cards also may be sealed, and may include written messages.

Deadlines already have passed for assured delivery of air and surface-sent parcels for most areas of the world. Air parcels to servicemen overseas should be mailed by Dec. 10.

400 Expected for 'Fantasy'

Nearly 400 are expected to attend the Tecumseh Garden Club's "Christmas Fantasy" in the Community Center Monday evening at 8.

Being staged in the large room, the event will feature Mrs. Harold Pickard, who with her husband operates a local floral shop.

Mrs. Pickard will fashion about 60 Christmas decorations from a variety of objects.

These will be large and small, suitable for home decorations, both inside and outside, and personal adornment.

IN THE second portion of the two-hour show, Mrs. Pickard will be assisted by 15 models. Included are:

Mrs. Robert Murray
Mrs. Earl Baldwin
Mrs. Orrie Gilbert
Mrs. Fred Randall
Mrs. Thomas Corkery
Mrs. Vern Manwaring
Mrs. Carson House, Jr.
Mrs. William Adams
Mrs. Stanley Cook
Mrs. Carlton Cook
Mrs. William Clauson
Mrs. Wilbur Andrews
Mrs. Richard Colson
Mrs. Douglas Dunn
Mrs. Richard Hammel

Following the event, the items made during the evening will be placed on display in the "Glass Room."

None will be offered for sale, explains Mrs. Neil Pearson, president of the Garden Club.

Smiths Are Power Class Co-Hosts

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel O. Smith of Spring Arbor were hosts to the Power Class of the Tecumseh Friends Church Nov. 24.

Twenty-four class members and two guests enjoyed an evening of pencil and paper games, including an armchair treasure hunt and scavenger find.

Guests included John Thomas of Jackson and Ira Haas, the father of Mrs. Paul Brantingham.

Ashley Chase, president of the class, announced that the December meeting of the group would include election of a slate of officers for the coming year.

The meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hart.

The Smiths are former members of the Power Class. Mr. Smith is an assistant superintendent with the Michigan Center School District, and part-time professor at Spring Arbor Junior College.

Mrs. Smith is the former Alice King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry King, 1001 Sunset St.

Three Boards Eye Proposal for High School

An informal meeting of the Tecumseh school board with the Clinton and Britton - Macon boards will be held Monday night at the superintendent's office.

No action can be taken, but an unofficial discussion of a prospective comprehensive high school for the three school districts will be conducted.

The two other school districts contacted the Tecumseh district last week in hopes of having such a meeting.

Cause for the meeting is the overflow of high school students, not only here at THS, but also the other two schools.

At the November meeting of the local board, Supt. James McDowell reported that the local high school could probably operate on the same present basis next year, but afterward the board would have to decide on other steps — split high school sessions, additions to the high school, or consider a comprehensive high school with other districts and a new building.

VFW Auxiliary Has Reception

Mrs. Merton B. Tice, national president of the VFW Auxiliary, made her official visit to Michigan Nov. 23 and 24 at the Civic Center in Lansing.

Those attending the meeting, reception and banquet from the Tecumseh chapter were Mrs. Harlon Boyes, Mrs. Lloyd Stites and Mrs. Richard Eisenminger of Tipton.

DAR Plans Musicale

"Let There Be Music" is the theme of the regular meeting of the Abi-Evans Chapter, DAR to be held Wednesday, Dec. 14, at 2 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Hoyt Whelan on W. Chicago Blvd.

The program will include:

Piano duet, Liszt's Hungarian Rhapsody, by Mrs. Fred Oberlin, Mrs. Arthur Schwartz.

Vocal solo, "Jesu Bambino", Pietro Yon, by Mrs. Al Merz.

Piano solo, "Bolero" Ravino, by Linda Oberlin.

Reading, "The Littlest Angel," Tazewell, by Mrs. Fred C. Dickinson.

Vocal solo, "Sweet Little Jesus Boy," by Mrs. Schwartz.

Piano solo, Grand Hymn Finale, by Mrs. Paul Brantingham.

Tea will be served by Mrs. Donald Smith, Mrs. Floyd Elliott, Edith Ingersoll and Mrs. E. T. Armstrong.

Kids Can Telephone St. Nick

The Jaycees, assisted by the Auxiliary with the cooperation of the General Telephone Co., have made arrangements for a direct line to the north pole this year.

Tecumseh area children may talk to Santa Claus by telephone from Monday through Friday the week before Christmas from 6 until 9 p.m.

The correct number for Santa Claus land will be printed in a later issue of The Herald.

Charles O'Neill is chairman for the men and Mrs. Ray Shelton is the chairman for the ladies undertaking the program.

SOUNDS REAL NICE

$50 for Shopping

How would you like $50 to Christmas shop with this weekend?

Some lucky person can get just that, simply by dropping into any of the 26 Tecumseh merchants co-sponsoring the Yule give-away.

A full-page ad on page three contains the names of all the shops and full details of the fun.

The prize will be awarded at 8 p.m. Friday in a drawing at the Four Corners.

The winner must be present. A maximum of 10 names will be drawn and if no one claims the money, it will go back into the jackpot and the prize the following week will be $100.

All told, the jackpot contains $200, with drawings slated for the next four weeks.

Friends Aid Widow

Pick 17 Acres of Corn

A widow of two weeks, Mrs. Charles Service, 1700 Service Rd., Clinton, knows she has many friends.

Neighbors from nearby farms organized a corn picking bee in her behalf the day before Thanksgiving.

They didn't even tell her about it, following the Biblical thinking of Matthew, "When thou doest thine alms, do not send a trumpet before thee."

Mrs. Service was napping when the men began to pick the 17 acres of corn on the Service farm.

Lyle Whelan and Dennis Goll with two self-propelled pickers from the Whelan Implement Co. worked two days, along with others.

Trucks were furnished by three of the group, which included Don Blatchford and son, Gary, James Draper, Walt Simonds, James Woodward, Elmer Phillips and Guy Hoover.

Mrs. Service is most grateful to her good neighbors, who not only picked but hauled the yield of corn to Clinton for storage.

THINK BIG

To Get Federal Money, Plan Has To Be Bigger

As usual, the government thinks big.

This time it's the proposed River Raisin Development project.

The first leg of this plan — a chain of three lakes in and south of Tecumseh—was deemed promising by two visitors from the United States Soil Conservation Dept.

But Earl E. Fenton of Lansing and Kenneth McManus of Jackson said to obtain federal financing, the scope must take in the entire down river area.

IT WAS the opinion of the local committee that a starting point might be the new pond east of the Globe and the restoration of the old Quaker Pond, plus a new one north of Sutton Rd.

From there, other communities would become interested and gradually a full river reclamation program could spring.

This tack might not be the proper one.

There is a chance that County Drain Commissioner Don Mitchell can step in and help on the program. He'll be contacted.

The two visitors, along with Woody Barclay, Lenawee's Soil Conservation representative, spent Wednesday afternoon examining the Tecumseh project with City Engineer Cal Zorn and Councilman Royal Welch.

ANOTHER possible approach is being suggested by a former resident, David Laidlaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Laidlaw, who is now connected with the Kensington Metropolitan Park Authority.

Mr. Laidlaw is relaying information to the local committee regarding the program in which tiny Stoney Creek was turned into a large lake and recreation area without the help of federal funds.

Behind Page One

Rik Kureth has been cast in one of this winter's stage productions of the Ann Arbor Civic Players. He'll be in "Becket", which will be staged January 17, 18 and 19.

In last week's story about the two-car accident on Sunday, it was omitted that the driver of one car, Mrs. Martin, 5 Occidental Hwy., was injured and hospitalized.

She spent from Sunday evening until Wednesday in Herrick Memorial Hospital with badly bruised legs.

Homemaker of Tomorrow Search Begins on Tuesday

A high school senior girl from Tecumseh may be among those who will share in $110,000 in college scholarships being offered again this year by General Mills in its ninth annual Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow.

In past years, winners have come from every type community in the nation — large, small, medium — and from all types of schools — public, parochial and private.

Senior girls here will join with a record number of more than 410,000 others in more than 12,500 of the nation's schools Tuesday in a written examination to help determine winners in the 1963 Search Program.

The test emphasizes the importance of homemaking as a career, is the determining factor in selecting local and state winners. Personal observation and interviews are added factors in selecting national winners.

The 1963 All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow and three runners-up will be named in the spring at the culmination of an expense-paid educational tour of New York City, Washington, D.C. and Colonial Williamsburg for winners from the 50 states and the District of Columbia and their advisors.

Scholarships range from $1,500 for each State Homemaker of Tomorrow and $500 for each state runner-up to $5,000, $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000, respectively, for top national winners.

Holiday Here

Helen Jewell of Smiths Creek spent the holiday weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Aifred Jewell of Billmeyer Hwy. While home she also visited with a sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Every of Tipton. Other guests at the Every home were Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Ash of Britton, Helen's grandparents.

Helen is employed by the county hospital at Smith's Creek.

Louise Anderson, Gary Fairbanks Marry

Louise Anderson and Gary Fairbanks were united in marriage Sunday afternoon at the First Methodist Church by the Rev. Donald Porteous.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Anderson, 420 N. Evans St., and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Fairbanks of Britton.

Wallace Whiting was the soloist accompanied by Mrs. William Raeburn.

White carnations were used in the altar vases and white satin bows marked the family pews.

THE BRIDE given in marriage by her parents, chose a gown of Chantilly lace and peau de soie fashioned with a fitted bodice long sleeves and a Sabrina neckline embroidered with sequins and seed pearls.

The bouffant skirt featured an overskirt with three tiers of lace extending into a chapel train.

Her veil of silk imported illusion was attached to a Swedish crown of pearls and sequins. She carried Frenched white carnations and ivy.

Mrs. James Palmer was matron-of-honor in a light blue satin brocade gown with bell skirt. A satin bow held her nose veil and she carried autumn chrysanthemums in a hand basket.

Linda Fairbanks, sister of the groom, Susan Williams and Debbra Cheever were the bridesmaids attired identically to Mrs. Palmer.

Laura Steuwe was the flower girl in a gown of white organza with satin bow and head piece. She carried a hand basket of fall blossoms.

Douglas Gilpin was the ring bearer.

LARRY ANDERSON, brother of the bride, was best man and other attendants were Lester Ruhl and Dan Weimer.

Guests were seated by Roger Fairbanks, Joe Anderson, Jim Hilgeneck and Ronald Anderson.

About 300 gathered for a reception held in the social rooms of the church following the ceremony where the bride's table was covered with linen accented with blue bows and small candelabra.

The bride is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and the Jackson College of Beauty Culture.

The groom attended Britton-Macon High School and is employed by Meyers Aircraft Co. He is one of the National Guard.

The couple are making their home on South St. in Britton following a short trip to northern Michigan.

The rehearsal dinner was served at the home of the groom's parents.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

Christmas is fast on the heels of Thanksgiving. If one is in doubt, all he needs to do is visit Gaston's Jewelry.

Owner Sally Pope was busily perched on a stool in the front window Monday spraying snow in several directions.

Lovely gold wreaths suspended from the ceiling on bright red ribbons enhance the window which features a blinking red light inside a huge ball.

The wreaths were fashioned by Sally's own fingers, using pieces of macoroni in various shapes sprayed with gold paint.

The fragile ball was made by winding an inflated balloon with spools and spools of thread covered with starch.

After it had dried, Sally pricked the balloon and presto — chango—a beautiful ball to cover with snow and glit.

It's a fascinating place to be and ideas for decorating seem to generate as one watches Sally, assisted by co-worker Mrs. Don LaBounty turning the jewelry shop into a Christmas wonder and wish land.

LIFE ON FORMOSA

By SHARON RIES

(Editor's Note: This is another letter in a series by Sharon Ries, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ries of Tonneberger Dr. Miss Ries is in Taiwan as an International Farm Youth Exchange student.)

KOAHSIUNG, Taiwan — Pong! Bang! That earsplitting noise you just heard was the puffed rice man producing his product just outside the door of my present main street home. Since my host father is general manager of the local Farmers' Association, we live in the main business section of this farming village of 5,000.

Our home is situated amongst all the stores and is the same size and shape as each of the stores, but is only used as a home. The family who runs each store lives in, behind and above their store, so we actually live in a residential section of the town.

Just a few moments ago our little man, clad in his khaki bermudas and white tee shirt and his 14-year-old helper, parked themselves and their equipment in front of our home and began to make puffed rice squares.

I'll give you a peek at their fascinating process. The curious crowd gathered around is so large you'll never be able to see. Each housewife who wants a big tray of puffed rice squares brings all the needed materials:

One medium sized tin of uncooked rice, brown sugar and other ingredients to make the candy syrup.

While our candy maker is busy brewing the syrup, his partner pops the can of rice into his small barrel-shaped vacuum machine. The machine — about five inches in diameter and ten inches long — is supported about 12 to 14 inches off the ground over a "hibachi" (insulated pail) filled with glowing coals.

AS HE TURNS the barrel round and round over the hot fire, the air is also being drawn out.

After 15 minutes of roasting, the air pressure reaches the correct number and number one man (our syrup cooking man) rushed over to let the rice out.

He quickly inserts the barrel into a waiting burlap bag with a small hole near the top and a wire screen in the bottom. With a steel fork he reaches through the small hole and BANG! — rice noisily makes its grand exit from captivity — golden brown and puffed to perfection.

This is only half of the process. Now number one man pours the puffed rice into a large metal washing pan about 30 inches in diameter. The syrup is ready now and he quickly pours it over the rice and mixes it thoroughly with two wooden paddles.

Before it has a chance to harden, he dumps the mixture into a 30-inch square wooden mold about two inches deep.

AFTER ROLLING it flat with his rolling pin and letting it harden for a few minutes, he cuts it into two inch squares and the contributing housewife collects it and proudly carries it home to her family.

By this time another batch of rice is ready to be made into candy and the process continues until there are no more customers.

One day in front of our home, he had exhausted the customer supply in the immediate area, so he moved all his equipment to a new location the next day and began again as the always curious crowd gathered round to watch.

NEWCOMERS

Who Have Moved to Tecumseh

Relatively new to the community are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Alexander and their eight-year-old daughter, Carol Ann, a third grade student at Tecumseh Acres School.

The Alexanders returned to this area from Pompano Beach, Fla., a little more than a year ago.

When they were first married in 1948 they lived in Adrian.

Mrs. Alexander teaches Spanish in the Deerfield and Britton Schools. Her husband is a pilot for Zantop Air Transport in Detroit. The company is a freight line with headquarters in Robinson, Ga.

Mr. Alexander was a licensed pilot before going into the Air Force in World War II, when he ran cover for the Battleship Missouri.

He was formerly employed by Standard Oil in Indiana and Kentucky.

Mrs. Alexander's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Beerbower of Bryan, O., spend the week days in the Alexander home as company for Carol Ann.

Nov. 18 when they were within a block and a half of the Alexander residence their car was struck by another. Mrs. Beerbower was hospitalized at Herrick Memorial with bruises as the result.

Holloway Church Planning Supper

A family potluck supper will be held Thursday, Nov. 29, at 6:30 p.m. at the Holloway Presbyterian Church.

Tables will be decorated in observance of birthdays for the whole year.

The Volunteers Class of the church school met Nov. 17 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elwyn Green with 16 present.

During the business session a report was given on the box sent to the "adopted" Korean child.

Announcement was made of the annual dinner to be served Dec. 13 to the World War II mothers of Adrian at the Holloway church.

Unique Squirrel

Mrs. Earl Baldwin has invited anyone interested in seeing an albino red squirrel to come to the Baldwin home on Murphy Hwy. "Whitey" as the Baldwins have named the frisky little animal, has made his presence known three times. Sunday he played close enough to windows and in the "special" squirrel tree so that the family got a close look at him.

He is all white except his tail which is a beige color.

Green Bees Make Plans

The Raisin Green Bees Extension Club met Nov. 19 at the home of Mrs. Wynne Matteson with 11 members and one guest, Mrs. Amos Wilson of Clinton, present.

The lesson, "Communication: Expressing Yourself With Words," was given by Mrs. Merlyn Downing and Mrs. Stanley Dermyer.

Ten members went to the November birthday party at Maple Lane Manor with five members from the Clinton Homemakers Extension Club.

The group voted to assist the Tecumseh Service Club by donating small wrapped articles for the Christmas basket project.

The December meeting will include the annual Christmas "Unplanned" potluck dinner, a $1 gift exchange, the gifts for the Service Club and the filling of a basket for a family.

The mystery gift, a "Powder Room Poodle" made by Mrs. George Halberstadt, was awarded to Mrs. Merlyn Downing.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by, Mrs. Dermyer.

The December meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Robert MacDonald Dec. 17 at 6:30 p.m.

Our Readers Write

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The Herald invites the area's children to send letters to Santa Claus via this paper. As many of the letters will be printed as time and space permit.)

DEAR SANTA,

How high is the snow? Do you get tired riding in the sleigh?

How many helpers do you have? Do you use an airplane when your sleigh won't go?

I would like a transitalk intercom and a Magnetel speedway.

TO THE EDITORS:

In the last six or eight months, efforts have been made to preserve two buildings of historic value in the State of Michigan.

Efforts to raise sufficient funds in each case have failed. I refer to a home occupied in Iron River by the late Carrie Jacobs Bond where she composed some of her immortal songs, and to "Old St. Peter's" Episcopal Church in Tecumseh.

I consider the people of Michigan very short sighted in failing to contribute to the drives organized in each instance.

My contribution in both cases has been returned to me, thereby indicating that both buildings will be demolished.

I have never seen Mrs. Bond's home, but I did visit with my family "Old St. Peter's" and was thrilled with the beauty of it.

TO THE EDITORS:

I live in Tecumseh and work in Tecumseh.

I would like to do my shopping in Tecumseh, too. But the salespeople in this town sometimes make this very hard to do.

Some of the stores surprise and delight me with their wide range of merchandise. But the best-filled shelves in the world won't do any good if the sales clerk don't know what's on them, and waste time looking for something they should be able to place their hands on right away.

This morning, I telephoned a store to ask if they had a certain item.

The saleswoman left the phone to check. After a few minutes, she came back and said the item was in stock.

So I made a trip downtown. I looked on the shelves, but couldn't find it. I waited several minutes for a clerk, only to have her say, "We don't carry that."

Another clerk was having a personal conversation with a visitor — obviously not a customer. I waited impatiently until she was finished talking, then asked her for the item I wanted. She got it for me, and handed it to me. Then I had to wait again until the other clerk came back and took my money.

Why don't the store owners get together and hold salesmanship classes for their clerks? It would do much to make this a better place to shop.

These clerks often act like they're doing customers a favor, instead of doing their jobs.

LOCAL BUSINESS

The value of the newspaper as a promotional medium is most fully appreciated by individuals or groups attempting to gain support for some community project.

If he were willing to take the offer, the local newspaper editor would probably be publicity chairman of nearly every organization in his home town.

For, leaders accustomed to dealing with the public know that the local newspaper is the key to effective publicity.

The effectiveness of newspapers was recently noted by Eric Sevareid, famed journalist and broadcaster. He said that newspaper writing had to be done with great care.

"Six months later you have your statements staring you in the face in a black-and-white record . . . Listeners forget what you said on radio and TV," Mr. Sevareid stated.

Of course these observations should apply to advertising as well as other content. And it is the black-and-white record that reminds which makes newspaper advertising valuable to the local merchant.

As Mr. Sevareid suggests, anyone—merchant or newsman—who displays information in print may be called to acount for the publication. This is exactly what the retailer wishes from his advertising.

The retailer who is not completely honest in his newspaper advertising is rare indeed. His main objective is to give an accurate picture of what he has to offer the public.

The retailer knows the consumer may even come to the store bringing a copy of the local newspaper with him.

"MAN WITH A HOE" IS ONE OF FAMOUS BARBIZON ART COLLECTION TO BE ON DISPLAY IN TOLEDO MUSEUM

Barbizon Art Goes on Display

First modern-day major exhibition of the landscape art of France's famed Barbizon school will be shown at the Toledo Museum of Art now through Dec. 27.

"Barbizon Revisited: Masters of the French Landscape," is the first significant display of Barbizon school art since 1889.

The Barbizon exhibition will be seen at only three other Museums in the United States.

It is a collaborative undertaking of the Toledo Museum, The California Palace of the Legion of Honor in San Francisco, The Cleveland Museum of Art and the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston.

A total of 111 works of art, 89 paintings and 22 drawings, are included in the show.

PAINTINGS by Barbizon masters were the first contemporary European works acquired by Americans in any quantity. American taste in the late 19th and early 20th century appreciated a movement devoted to nature and the dignity of labor.

The Barbizon 19th century French school of landscape painting derives its name from the village of Barbizon, a small community of some 800 inhabitants in north central France, about 35 miles southeast of Paris.

Barbizon subjects were the rural landscape, animals and peasants and their labors. The Barbizon artists were devoted to contemporary life, yet avoided the 19th century urban expansion and industrialization in favor of rural life and nature.

Their models were the shepherd, the wood-gatherer, the farmer and the stone quarrier—not the middle class clerk or industrial laborer.

The Dec. 3-6 event is jointly sponsored by the 4-H Club of Michigan State University and Detroit Junior Livestock Society.

This year's show has been extended to four days to allow exhibitors to participate in a more complete carcass evaluation program, says Ralph Morrow, MSU 4-H livestock specialist.

Carcass entries will arrive on the afternoon of Dec. 3. Exhibitors will have the opportunity to participate in an on-foot judging of the animals later the same day. Carcass placings will be made on Wednesday.

Exhibitors of lambs, market hogs and steers will arrive at the show on Tuesday. Entries will compete for grand champion honors on Wednesday and the prize livestock will be sold in the annual auction Thursday. More than 700 animals brought over $93,000 at last year's sale.

The main emphasis of the show is the education of the 4-H Club youngsters. Exhibitors receive first-hand lessons in producing top quality steers, lambs and hogs for the meat trade during the show.

The 4-H members attending from Lenawee county include Ruth Wilt, Donna Murphy, Gregg Smith and Dean Kirkland of Tecumseh.

Elevators Play Role in Effort

During the 15 years that the Christian Rural Overseas Program has been in operation nearly 14 million worth of food and other supplies has been exported to relief agencies overseas.

Over $22,000 of this amount has been contributed by the people of Lenawee County.

Farm Bureau groups, granges, and churches have supplied the leadership necessary to do this job and once again this year are organizing to help feed the world's hungry.

The Michigan goal for 1962 is $150,000 worth of food. Because of generous giving by Michigan people during 1961 it was possible to ship nine carloads of beans along with skim milk powder, corn oil and many other products.

Letters from people who receive CROP gifts tell how much this help is appreciated, even to preventing actual starvation in some areas.

Jean Brighton and Jack Holderman Marry

White gladioli and chrysanthemums filled the altar vases of the First Methodist Church Saturday evening for the wedding of Carol Jean Brighton and Jack Leroy Holderman.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. Brighton, 713 S. Union St., and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Versal L. Holderman of Michigan Center.

The Rev. Donald Porteous performed the ceremony before about 200 guests.

APPROACHING the altar on the arm of her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of Chantilly lace over satin with fitted bodice, Sabrina neckline and long tapered sleeves.

Her waist-length veil was attached to a crown of beads and sequins and she carried white roses.

Her only jewelry was a pearl pendant, gift of the groom.

Janice Bryan in a mint green taffeta frock was maid of honor.

Martha Grubba and Marlene Boyce were the bridesmaids wearing yellow and apricot colored dresses like Miss Bryan's.

All the bride's attendants wore short veils to match their dresses and carried bouquets of chrysanthemums.

DAVID L. TUMEY was the best man and the guests were seated by John H. Grubba, Terry Phillips, Phillip Radant and Van Frayer of Britton.

Bonnie Brighton, sister of the bride, was the flower girl and the rings were carried by Douglas Holderman, brother of the groom.

A reception was held at the Tecumseh Grange Hall where Mr. and Mrs. Frank Robinette were the hosts.

Guests from Jackson, Detroit, Pontiac, Brooklyn, Michigan Center, Tipton, Tecumseh, Adrian and Britton were registered by Pat Long.

Those assisting at the reception were Mrs. John Grubba, Mrs. Robert Moril, Karen Robinette, Mrs. David Tumey and Mrs. Harold Boyce.

The bride is a graduate of Tecumseh High School. The groom is a graduate of Michigan Center High School and is employed at Bruce Foundry.

They will make their home at 301 Russell Rd.

Goodrich-Hazen Completes $130,000 Highway Garage

ADRIAN — The State Highway Department today officially accepted the keys to its new $130,000 maintenance garage near here.

The new 82-by-162' building is located on M-52 two miles north of Adrian. It will become headquarters for about 35 Highway Department employees responsible for all maintenance work, including ice and snow control, on 150 miles of state highway in Lenawee county.

For the past three years, the Highway Department rented garage facilities in Adrian.

Lenawee county, three years ago, became one of 19 "direct" maintenance counties, where Highway Department personnel perform maintenance work.

In the other 64 counties, County Road Commissions do maintenance work on state highways and are reimbursed by the State Highway Department.

Funds have also been authorized for construction of a subgarage in northwestern Lenawee County.

The site will be chosen and the garage built next year.

General contractors on the new Adrian garage was Goodrich-Hazen of Adrian.

Highway Department officials expect to complete the move into the new building in two weeks.

OBITUARIES

● MICHAEL P. WALLACE

Services were held Saturday morning at St. Dominic's Church, Clinton for Michael Wallace, 87, of Ypsilanti who died Wednesday at the Washtenaw County hospital where he had been a patient for the last two months.

Mr. Wallace was born June 10, 1875, in Clinton, the son of William and Mary Noone Wallace.

He attended Clinton high school and married Margaret Smith of Clinton Feb. 16, 1904. She died in 1949.

Mr. Wallace moved to Ann Arbor in 1937 where he was engaged in buying and selling produce.

He is survived by one son, Robert Wallace of Britton, a daughter, Mrs. Archie Spohr of Britton; two grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

A daughter, two brothers and three sisters preceded him in death.

Arrangements were made by the Proctor Funeral Home and burial was in the parish cemetery.

● MRS. R. H. NICKERSON

Services were held in South Bend, Ind. Monday for Mrs. R. H. Nickerson, who passed away Saturday after an illness of several weeks.

She is survived by her husband; one daughter, Mrs. Robert Stone of rural Tecumseh and three-grandsons.

Gloria Dei Has Program for Advent

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Baaske and family and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Tiede were accepted into membership of the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church Sunday.

Holy Communion will be observed Sunday, Dec. 2 and beginning the following Wednesday Advent services will be held each Wednesday evening at 7:30 p.m. until Christmas.

Husbands and wives social evening will be held Dec. 1 in the Parish Hall at 8 p.m.

Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Ruettinger were guests of the Luther League. They showed colored slides of California and Mexico, including some of Disneyland.

Communion To Highlight Family Service

First Sunday in Advent will be observed at St. Peter's Episcopal Church with the Parish Communion during the family service at 11 a.m.

According to the Book of Common Prayer the priest reads a special exhortation to the congregation on Advent Sunday as a preparation to the general confession which is said by all before receiving the Sacrament.

The parish is worshipping in the old building but plans are underway for the move to the new church in time for the Christmas midnight Eucharist, according to the Rev. Frank Hawthorne.

Vigilance

The need for spiritual vigilance will be stressed at Christian Science church services this Sunday.

Common Market To Be Discussed at Adrian College

"The European Common Market—Challenge or Threat" will eb the topic of Lawrence E. Good's talk at Adrian College, Thursday, Nov. 29.

This will be a 10 a.m. assembly in Downs Auditorium which will be supplemented by an informal discussion at 3 p.m. in the Rush Union.

Veteran Cage Squad Opens Friday

With plenty of experienced players, Tecumseh High School's basketball squad opens its 16-game slate Friday evening at Dundee.

Junior varsity tipoff is set for 6:30 p.m. and the varsity game about 8:15.

Coach Doug Murdoch had a tough time selecting his five starters.

He has settled on Norm Tucker, Tim Sisson, Jerry Hebb, Dan Greene and Jack Dick, all lettermen.

Bradley McCombs and Clark Nichols will also see plenty of action.

HEBB IS the tallest at 6-3 and will be expected to handle much of the rebounding, something that has long been a problem for Tecumseh hoop crews.

Where the points will come from is conjecture. Coach Murdoch's says all his lads are good ball handlers and shooter.

Tucker and Hebb will probably hit most consistently. Last year Norm flipped in 170 points and Jerry had 145 as they finished behind John Britton, the team's leading score.

Coach Murdoch feels this veteran quintet will do much to improve on its 6 and 9 record of last winter.

The first three foes—Dundee, Flat Rock and Airport—are ranked among the top Huron League clubs.

THIS IS TAKING part in a holiday tournament at Adrian, which will see each of the four teams play three games in three nights. Other tourney entries are Adrian, Blissfield and Coldwater.

Handling the junior varsity once more will be Jim Hoffman, whose 1961-'62 team posted an 11 and 4 record.

JV personnel includes Greg Allen, Doug Goldsberry, Bill Thomas, Don Baird, Bill Tilton, Jim Lawson, Gregg McEnroe, Jeff Osburn, Larry Hughes and Steve Derby.

This year, there is also going to be a freshman team, which will be coached by Ray Newton, who has 30 candidates working out. The frosh schedule will open in December.

Ski Resort To Open in Irish Hills Area

Lenawee County's first winter ski resort will open next month in the Irish Hills.

The half-million-dollar recreation center will have year-around sports for the public, including all winter activities, plus golfing and swimming.

Reigning over the 12 ski slopes and separate toboggan runs will be a sparkling resort lodge, with two floor levels, two mammoth fireplaces, two cafeterias, a ski shop and golf shop.

An observation deck will extend across the front.

THE LARGEST snow machine in this part of Michigan will assure ample covering for the slopes whenever the temperature is below freezing.

The developers say they will be able to serve 2,000 skiers and toboggainists at a time.

Gene Sell of Blissfield and Dayton Sell of Clinton, with the resort manager, Robert Jackson, have been busy with final details for the mid-December opening. They expect the resort to draw enthusiasts from throughout the southern Michigan and northern Ohio areas.

Ohio residents, long accustomed to summer recreation in the Irish Hills area, are expected to form a large share of the participants.

Rope tows and T-bars tows have been provided for all the slopes.

For those who like their winter sports "on the level," a 10-acre lake will be lighted for day and night ice skating.

THE DEVELOPERS say the 125 acres to be snow-covered will be easy to maintain, since they are pipes have been run to them, grassy slopes. Underground carrying water and air. This combination, when whipped by a giant compressor, will put out a mist that will turn to snow when the temperature gets to a maximum of 28 degrees and the humidity is 60 per cent.

At lower temperatures, the machine works even better. As much as 18 inches of snow can be produced for the slopes in an hour.

Located at the site of the former Irish Hills Country Club south of the towers on US-12, the resort area has been given a rebuilt road and large parking area for the convenience of winter sports fans.

Astride Helps Set Tech Record

Astride S. Roberts of Tecumseh is one of a record 2,765 students enrolled at Michigan Tech for the 1962-63 school year, reports T. C. Sermon, registrar.

Miss Roberts, a graduate of Tecumseh High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald B. Roberts of 802 Red Mill Dr., She is a junior majoring in geological engineering.

Tech's enrollment this year is the highest in the history of the College," said Mr. Sermon.

The 2,756 figure represents only those on the Houghton campus and does not include the 608 students at the Sault Ste. Marie branch of students enrolled in night courses offered through Tech's Institute of Extension Services.

Mrs. Clyde Smith has accepted a position with the United Savings Bank. She assumed her duties Nov. 19.

Unusual Bowling Contest Open to All

Area bowlers will have an opportunity to win $50—by not throwing strikes—in an unique four-ball pin contest.

Called a nine-pin event, it is being sponsored by the Tecumseh Rotary Club four evenings, Dec. 5, 6, 8 and 9 at the Airport Bowl.

The contest will be in operation from 1 to 5 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m.

Each contestant will roll one ball for four frames. The object is to score nine pins with each toss. This would give a perfect tally 36 and a top prize of $50.

A score of 35 would pay $10 and 34 would net a $2 prize. Entry fee is $1, with receipts going to Rotary Club projects.

Both men and women are invited to take part, regardless of average of bowling experience.

About not getting a strike — it scores only five points and can really mess up the attempt to hit in the prize list.

Shoes will be available at no extra charge.

Quaker Pond Was Place of Beauty

By CLARA WALDRON

Just how old an old-timer do you have to be to remember the Quaker Pond?

If you can go back for at least 25 years you probably knew it in its last days, but if you can double that span, or a little more, you can recall the pond and the mill at the heyday of their beauty and usefulness.

And what a beauty spot it was! A tranquil sheet of clear water, cupped between high, green, wooded banks, its expanse was broken only by a rugged little island, topped by trees, with the murmur of rushing water in the background.

Lovely as it was, however, in those practical days its beauty was only incidental. The emphasis then was on its usefulness. Water power was of the utmost importance and here was water power for the asking.

To the most casual observer the basin of the pond is a "natural." Here the hills come close together and the high banks of the river, where it makes its long, slow curve westward between them, form a natural barrier. This could have required but very little grading in 1838 when Samuel Satterthwaite and Tilton Curtis harnessed the river's power to run a saw mill. A dam under the bridge — and they had a pond.

The mill stood not far from the foot of the east hill and traces of its race are still visible. Trees from the basin itself probably furnished the first logs to go to the saw, for early pictures show the pond with denuded slopes.

IN 1847 Mr. Satterthwaite, in partnership with Aaron Comfort, built a grist mill on the same bank but nearer the middle of the valley. Inevitably this enterprise became known as the "Quaker" mill.

After prospering for several years it ran into financial difficulties and in 1864 both mills were purchased by Woolston Comfort, who improved the dam and races and installed new machinery.

In 1871 the saw mill burned and was not replaced but the grist mill, under the same Quaker owner, continued to serve the community until about the turn of the century. It was then purchased by Pliny Gratz and again remodeled.

THE ORIGINAL building was of plain but pleasing design, a modest two and one-half stories in height and seemed to cling precariously to the top of the bank, an illusion caused no doubt by the rush of the mill race which flowed beneath the floor. Here was located the water wheel whose vibrations shook the building and whose swirling, white water as glimpsed between the floor planks was an awesome sight to childish eyes.

Part way between the mill and the bridge was a spillway, which helped to regulate the flow of water. The stream which poured through this joined the mill race and the two ran into the river below the dam, forming pools where sometimes there were fish and always there were bloodsuckers to fasten on the legs of unwary waders.

It was the dam itself, however, which held the most facination. Here a curving catwalk had been built below the bridge, just beyond where the green water slide over the lip of the dam and down the long wooden apron.

Probably it had a utilitarian purpose, but it was sheer joy to the young fry. With toes dangling in the moving water, listening to the rush of its fall and the occasional thunder of the bridge planks as a team passed over head, it was small matter how long it took to "grind the grist."

THERE WERE a few row boats on the pond, mostly used for fishing. Now and then a gay blade came down river in his canoe. Neighborhood boys swam there on warm summer afternoons and an occasional picnic party rowed out to the island, but by and large, "The Quaker" was a working pond.

The mill was one of five on the river, Newburg, the Red Pond, the Globe and Abner Spofford's mill on Blood Rd. had been built previously, five within as many miles, and all needed.

Now, if the Quaker lives again it will come into its own as a source of beauty and pleasure.

QUAKER GRIST MILL, BUILT IN 1847 OVERLOOKED THE OLD POND

Horse and Buggy Bridges Bring Modern Problems

Lenawee County has 200 bridges of the 2,200 in Michigan labeled inadequate by the State Association of the County Road Commission.

John Barr, executive secretary of the Association, has said that some 3,800 bridges on the state's side roads are holdovers from horse and buggy days.

They are narrow and nearly all of them, according to Mr. Barr, are 60 to 80 years old and can't stand the strain of modern loads.

One bridge near Petersburg collapsed recently. On one near Adrian, school bus drivers were forced to stop, unload their passengers, and carefully ease the empty bus over the unsafe crossing.

Township roads were taken back into the county systems but under the 1951 act which revised the whole road system in the state, motor vehicle taxes can be used only for maintenance.

Replacement requires local funds — which most townships and villages won't spend.

Patching up the old bridges is proving to be an endless and most futile job.

Handys Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Handy of 1204 W. Chicago Blvd. spent four days of their Florida vacation at the Lehigh Acres Country Club Motel in Lehigh Acres, a new community in southwest Florida.

Prepare for Night Emergency

Can the doctor, firemen, policemen or ambulance driver find your house if an emergency strikes at night?

Help can be delayed, sometimes for nearly an hour, if your house can't be quickly and easily located.

To prepare for any possible emergency, you need to be able to give directions to your house by phone just as much as you need the household first aid kit or fire extinguisher.

Here are tips on how to get help when it is needed:

► First locate the nearest major street or highway intersections.

► Plot the quickest, most direct route to your house from this intersection. Either use a map of the area or, better, drive the route yourself.

► Accurately note the directions that must be traveled and the distance, either in miles or in blocks.

► If there are any confusing curves, forks or twists in the road that might confuse a driver, make a special note of these.

► Make sure street and road signs in your area are all in place and legible, that they are the reflective type that can be read most easily at night.

► Develop a short, simple but accurate description of your house. If there are any look-alike houses in your neighborhood, do a careful count from the corner to yours or find another means of identifying it.

These directions can be typed on a card or note paper that can either be pasted in your telephone book near the emergency phone numbers or can be kept near the telephone.

Then, if a nighttime emergency strikes, you can read from the directions that you've prepared, without risking giving confusing or even wrong directions.

The fifteen minutes, half hour or hour that you'll save in time can quite literally save a life.

Janet Graham presented an informative program at the Patterson PTA Nov. 15.

Miss Graham stated that Americans could learn to love the Russian people, but it is the duty of parents to educate children to the tricks and goals of the Communist Party.

Attendance at the meeting was small, possibly due to the conflict with the open house at the high school.

Mrs. Jim Lincoln's third grade won the attendance plaque.

TRY SIX BLUEJAYS

Mondays are impossible—after a fine weekend it is frightfully hard to crack around and get back to the old grind. If the weekend was exceptionally good and Monday morning looks especially bad, troubles are only compounded.

Several weeks ago we had such a "hard to get started Monday". It was a miserable morning — dark and dreary.

Hard rain which fell during the night had let up but the drizzle that pit-a-pattered on our flat roof threatened any minute to turn back into a downpour.

A truly uninspiring morning — really, the only thing it was good for was to turn over, pull the blankets a bit higher and go back to sleep. Can't do that on Monday morning though, it's up and at 'em.

Late Sunday afternoon the bird feeding stations had been filled. What a banquet. Scratch-feed and corn, a big fully-packed sunflower head and for dessert, lots of acorns.

There was something for everyone but on such a morning we expected few takers.

FINALLY, although it wasn't easy, we shifted into second gear—have you ever noticed how on Monday morning nothing moves fast except the hands on the clock?

But back to our story—Ida had come, breakfast was over and Mom was ready to leave for work. She came in to say goodbye, glanced out the window and wow!

It was a dreary Monday no more. We had a window picture full of busy, busy birds.

Bluejays were coming from everywhere. Two were on the feeder gobbling breakfast, one sat on the fence waiting his turn, two came flying in from Marsh's and from somewhere across the creek, a sixth jay was screaming.

If his call were "Come and get it!" certainly he was being heeded. I just mentioned where the birds were but of course none of them stayed in one spot long.

They were all over and believe me, having six blue jays to watch is a sure way of snapping out of the blue Monday slump.

WE WERE all trigger sharp and alert now but who wanted to get to work? There was looking to be done! The dull weather seemed to accentuate the blue of the jays. They were beautiful, exceptionally bright and vivid.

Big, too. Somehow they looked twice as large as usual—I suppose it was because they were so busy and there were so many of them.

Two, and once in a while three, would share the feeder for a minute, but it never lasted long. Really, they spent so much time screaming and driving each other away that none had much time for breakfast.

Those who weren't on the tray were impatiently waiting their turn—more correctly, I believe they were waiting a chance to swoop down and drive the others away. There was a constant coming and going.

OUR ROOF seemed to be a good "waiting" spot. We would hear one skid to a stop up there and in a second, a blue bomb would dive at the one or two bluejays on the feeder.

Quick exits were the order of the day. Another trick was for a bird to sit atop the suet-post and launch an attack from there. They always seemed to jump right at another bird—we had some rather good fights.

Much too soon, Mom had to tear herself away and reluctantly we turned to Monday morning business. Progress was slow though, the bluejays show went on most of the morning.

So it is that for a sure cure to Monday morning doldrums I say, "Try six blue jays."

Con-Con Report

Printed Material

(Editor's note—This is another in a series about the proposed new Michigan constitution.)

Citizens' interest in Michigan's proposed new constitution is evidenced by a continuing stream of inquiries reaching the Con-Con office at Lansing's Civic Center asking for printed materials describing the new document.

Voters will make their decision on the constitution at the polls on April 1, 1963.

The small staff of aides which remains to wind up the work of the convention has been kept busy in recent weeks filling the scores of daily requests for copies of the proposed constitution and two other pieces of literature produced by the convention for distribution.

More than 50,000 copies of the text of the document have been mailed out to groups, libraries, schools and interested individuals. About 35,000 of the 110-page booklet explaining in detail revisions proposed by the convention have also been distributed.

Greatest demand is for a 12-page pamphlet, "The Proposed New Constitution of Michigan—What it Means to You." This leaflet contains the preface from the larger booklet and summarizes the most significant changes. Upwards of 150,000 of this pamphlet have been sent out from the Con-Con office.

Many of the 144 ex-delegates to the Constitutional Convention have made themselves available to fill speaking engagements before interested groups throughout the state. Frequently these meetings have been panel discussions with two or more former delegates participating.

CON-CON delegates lost their official status when the convention adjourned Aug. 1. Their pay and expense checks had ceased on May 15—ten weeks prior to their final adjournment.

Most delegates, however, regard their post-convention chores as a public service which is a continuing responsibility to the citizens of their districts.

A visual aid to their work which will be available before January 1 is a documentary sound film of convention activity produced through the cooperation of the audio-visual departments of the state's three major universities.

The Con-Con office plans to have enough prints of this film on hand to provide for wide circulation throughout the state. Citizens groups who would like to have the film for showing at meetings after Jan. 1 may contact their former delegates or communicate directly with the Constitutional Convention office at Lansing.

Requests for pamphlets and copies of the new document may be sent on a postcard to:

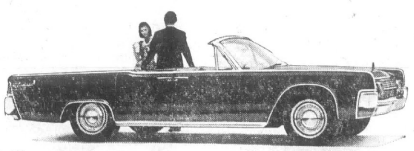
LINCOLN CONTINENTAL



INVESTMENT WITH A DOUBLE DIVIDEND

Looks alone will never tell you the age of a Lincoln Continental. So carefully crafted is this car that even as the miles roll off, its response to command remains as crisp as on the day it was delivered.

The body is rustproofed—inside and out. Critical underbody parts are galvanized. Stainless steel is lavishly used, even for fuel lines. Brake components are chromium plated. Four coats of enamel give the body its baked-in luster.

No wonder Lincoln Continental brings such high resale returns. No wonder it is the most admired car in America . . . a double dividend for its owner. We invite you to see and drive it soon.

Mrs. Schober presided at the piano as the group sang a number of songs befitting the occasion.

Director Is Given Plaudits

By One of the High School Staff

BRITTON—The Senior Class presented "Quit Your Kidding" in Britton-Macon High School gym Nov. 15-16.

Alfrava Latham, the director, did an excellent job of casting.

The play was quite fast moving, except for part of the second act.

Judy McClue was a "natural" as the maid who had trouble adapting to the language of "city folks," and should have skinned shins from the number of times she fell over the ottoman.

Tom Komon and Connie Godzina were typical teen-age brother-sister combination, with their constant squabbles, and Tom's guise as a girl, a rather tall, awkward one, added to the comedy.

Joe Prochaska was right at home as Tom's teen-age pal.

Susan Rowlands did well as the mother in a serious role, as did Diane Bailey in the role as the mature older daughter.

Fred McCrate, Yvonne Osterhout, Sandy Beal, Larry Dicks and Keith Steele as the young adult friends entwined in the plot, carried their parts out well. Janice Ehlert had the difficult job of being the somewhat "snippy" aunt, and she did it effectively.

Several stage prop mistakes, such as answering the phone when the door bell rang, added to rather than hindered the comedy.

The play was enthusiastically received by the audience.

Circle Hears Story of Home

BRITTON—The Mary Circle of the Britton Methodist Church, meeting at the home of Mrs. Dale Monigan, heard a program on Spofford Home, a home for children with special needs. It was presented by Mrs. Paul Frazier.

At the business session plans were made for a Christmas tour of homes with crafts, baked goods and gifts for sale at some of the homes.

The project for January will be a doughnut sale.

VOICE OF THE HERALD

New Hurdle for Schools

The Tecumseh School Board no more than hurdles one problem when another whisks into view.

Plagued with financial deficits for several years, the electorate approved additional millage last year for operation.

Now, the board must view and study a crowded high school, one that is not adequate for the present and future enrollments. Other school districts, not just locally but across the country, are facing the same situation.

The present high school building, constructed for an enrollment of 600, is now handling approximately 850 students or about 40% more youngsters than planned.

With other districts having their troubles, is a comprehensive type high school the answer?

Possibly, but there are numerous objectives difficult to reach and accept.

For example, if the Britton-Macon and Clinton districts were to combine with Tecumseh for a large high school, the district would have an evaluation of about $55 million, state equalized, and an area encompassing approximately 300 square miles.

The size is about one-third the size of the state of Rhode Island, and the evaluation is just $20 million more than the present Tecumseh district.

Where the building would be located could develop into a major problem and issue with the voters. End-of-route students riding busses conceivably could have rides of at least an hour, unless the new district increased buses to eliminate the long ride.

School officials say operation of the school would be about the same. However, construction of the building would mean less taxes for every property owner, since the total cost would be spread out over a larger area.

There will be months of planning, if the idea were adopted at all, before the issues could be placed before the voters.

J.C.L.

Ex-Director Hits Peak

Thomas Tipton, a former director of the Tecumseh Presbyterian Church choir, is the newest star in America's musical heavens, according to a recent article in the Detroit Free Press.

Collins George, Free Press music writer, wrote that Mr. Tipton has made his way to stardom by plain, old-fashioned hard work.

Born in Wyandotte as Thomas Pointkowski, he studied there and nourished a dream of becoming ar opera singer.

He was in the army long enough to complete musical studies at the Michigan State University under the GI Bill.

He won a Grinnell Foundation opera scholarship in 1951 and went to New York City, where he joined the New York City Opera Company.

Lacking in experience, he fell into bad vocal habits which caused the loss of his job and nearly ended his career, according to Mr. George.

MRS. EDITH Rhetts Tilton, who was chairman of the Grinnell Opera Awards Committee at the time, and Chase Boromeo of the University of Michigan faculty inspired him to start over.

He received his master's degree in voice and opera at the U of M and became a member of the Mannheim Opera Company.

Mannheim is a German provincial town with a long musical history.

Mr. Tipton says, "It's a singer's paradise."

The season lasts 11 months with unlimited rehearsal time. Once a singer has prepared a role, he has a chance to sing it 15 or 20 times during the season.

Mr. Tipton married a German girl and they have a young son.

MRS. TIPTON is a bit afraid. She said, "I fear he isn't interested any more in having a career in the United States. I hope his big success here will push his career in Europe."

Her husband has just completed the season with the San Francisco Opera Company, one of the best companies in the nation.

Critics there proclaimed his abilities, both vocal and dramatic.

After several engagements in New York, Mr. Tipton will return to Mannheim, where he is still under contract.

A seasoned artist, he has more than 40 characters in his repertory.

Members of the Presbyterian Church here were happy to read of the success of the young man who directed their choir from September 1955 until June 1956.

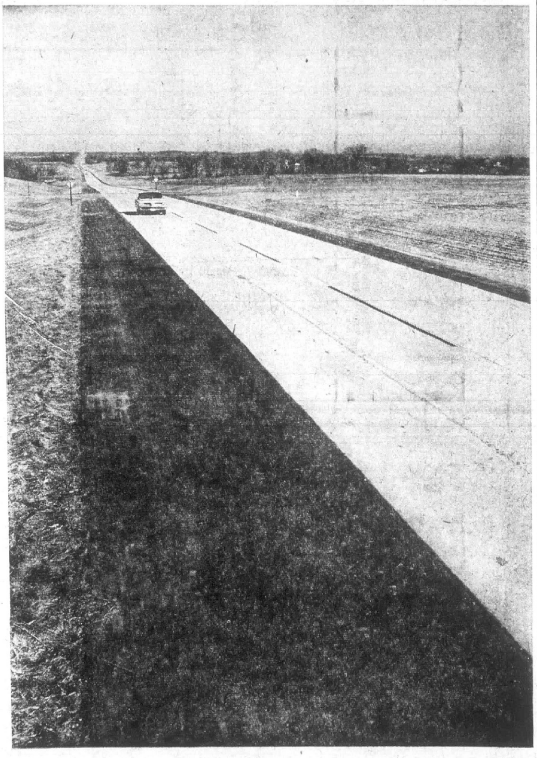
New Section of M-52 Is a Beauty



The Herald camera shows two portions of the new M-52 between Billington's Corners and US-12, a distance of four miles. It's a real beauty. The concrete ribbon is 24-feet wide with expansive berms, nine-feet on the west and seven feet on the east. M-52 runs from the Ohio-Michigan line, through Adrian, Manchester, Chelsea and Stockbridge, then on to Lansing. The new four-mile link straightened out the highway, which formerly ran into Tecumseh via M-50, then north on Evans St. to Clinton. It cost $630,000. with work started last April and completed in November. The old M-52 from Tecumseh to Clinton, is now a county route, re-named Tecumseh-Clinton Hwy.

SERVING TECUMSEH, BRITTON, RIDGEWAY, MACON AND TIPTON

Long and Short

By TOM RIORDAN

Week after week, the good old Herald goes to press.

Sometimes — not often, you understand — we wonder if all the fuss and bother is worth while.

Like the mom who labors long and loyally to feed and cloth her brood, the staff wonders if anyone really notices or cares.

Then, wham. We walk on Cloud Nine.

Did you see that Sunday column by Judd Arnett in the Free Press?

It came as a complete surprise to us. And don't bolts out of the blue like that please so much more?

Judd did a piece on the long years of labor by school teachers. He used portions of a Herald story regarding the recent citizens survey of our schools.

But nicest of all, were his opening lines:

"Leafing through the neatly-printed pages of one of my favorite weekly newspapers (The Tecumseh Herald) the other day, I came upon the returns . . . "

Folks called to see if Herald staffers had seen the item. My brother even sent a clip, adding, "Ah, fame!" This was one of his longer letters of the year.

Judd's comment was heady stuff indeed. It makes us all want to churn into the wonderful labors of producing your paper.

Can spring be far behind?

Gene Burrell of Dundee has already started his golfing for 1963 and who could blame him.

Sunday afternoon he toured Tecumseh Country Club, started with a par on No. 1, ended with an eagle on No. 9.

That last deal meant two shots for a hole almost 400 yards long. Following a long belt off the tee, he dropped a nine-iron approach shot from about 120 yards out.

Nothing can serve to turn a person's stomach like the Horace Dodge hearing in Detroit in which he and his wife carried on like two spoiled brats.

The family brawl finally ended up with Gregg—that's Mrs. Spoiled Brat—having her monthly allowance set at $6,000.

Turning to happier thoughts, Tecumseh's Girl of the Silver Screen, Julie Parrish (nee Joyce Wilbar), will have a lead role in the next Jerry Lewis picture.

She did a bit part in Lewis' "It's Only Money", which will be played at the Strand in Tecumseh sometime this winter. Her job in that one earned Julie a prime role for the next.

Julie was on the Dobbie Gillis television show last week and performed like an old pro — which she is rapidly getting to be.

Floyd Guy, Jr. of the Strand is starting to pull a few wires with his booking agent to swing a Michigan premier for the second Lewis film, bringing Julie back home for an "in person" appearance.

Three ladies from Saginaw drove to Tecumseh Sunday to take pictures of old St. Peter's.

Making the junket were Irene Ridge and Marie Barth, who instruct at the Webber Junior High School, and a friend, Mrs. Milton Seiferlein.

They were accompanied by Mrs. Seiferlein's daughter, Dorothy, who lives in Ann Arbor and is secretary to the dean of Michigan's school of medicine.

The visitors said they met a couple from Mason, who also were here getting some pictures of the church.

Relaying the story to the rector, the Rev. Frank Hawthorne, he reported that many folks stop on Sundays to "shoot" the famous building.

Up in Marysville, they recently tore down an historic farm home.

A local man there took pieces of wood from the old building and fashioned a replica of the farm, about two feet square.

This could be a thought in helping to preserve the memory of Old St. Peter's.

Hodges Adds New Pharmacist

George Rabun, 24, formerly of Lombard, Ill., and a graduate of Ferris Institute, is now employed as a pharmacist at Hodges Drug Store.

Mr. Rabun and his wife expect to move to Tecumseh soon from Parma, near Jackson.

Final Services at St. Peter's To Be Sunday

Final services in Old St. Peter's will be held this Sunday at 8 and 11 a.m.

"The declaration of the secularization of the building," as issued by the Rt. Rev. Bishop Richard Emrich will be read at 11.

This will officially "remove the consecration" of the 129-year-old structure.

Guest speaker at the service will be the Rev. Milton Austin, representing the Very Rev. Frederick Brownell, dean of the Southwest Convocation.

The church was consecrated by the Rt. Rev. Samuel Allen McCoskry on Jan. 29, 1837. He was the first Episcopal bishop of Michigan.

"We expect to have our first service in the new church Dec. 17," explains the Rev. Frank Hawthorne.

"The floor is in, the altar is finished and the pews are expected to be installed by then," he adds.

Formal opening and dedication of the new church and Parish Hall will be held in January.

The old building will probably be removed the following week, the Rev. Mr. Hawthorne explains.

Richard Frank of the Michigan Society of Architects will spend Sunday photographing and measuring the old church for the Michigan Historical Commission.

The altar from the old church will go into a new chapel planned for the Parish Hall.

The old bell, cast in 1880 and recently reconditioned and electrified, has already been installed in the new copper-covered steeple.

Santa Due in Town on Friday

Santa Claus will fly into Tecumseh from the North Pole Friday afternoon, arriving from the airport promptly at 5 p.m. He'll motor to the Four Corners, where he will visit with youngsters and pass out candy until 2 p.m. Santa is going to be on hand again Saturday, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., also 3:30 to 7:30 p.m. From here he goes back north, then returns to Tecumseh Dec. 14 and 15.

Harpist To Give Solo Saturday

Mrs. Herbert Voege, harpist of Adrian, will be soloist at the annual Christmas Tree Lane Tea at the Methodist Church Saturday, Dec. 8, at 2 p.m.

Minako Furuta, a crusade scholar at the University of Michigan, will be the guest speaker.

Tickets are available from Mrs. Erwin Buss.

What kind of squash did I grow, Russ Garno, local barber, wonders? From one side it looks like a pumpkin, from the other like a squash growing inside a pumpkin ring. Reader comment would be appreciated.

Traveling Art Show on Display at Adrian College

The Michigan College Art Association's traveling art exhibition is now on display at Adrian College.

More than 30 different paintings, graphic arts and sculptures representing a wide range of interests constitute works from members of the art departments of the eight member colleges.

Adrian College encourages all who are interested in art to see this classic exhibition between the hours of 9 a.m. and 9 p.m. daily in the Rush Union Hall on the campus.

NO ACTION TAKEN

Officials of 3 Districts Chat

School boards and superintendents from three districts — Tecumseh, Britton-Macon and Clinton — met Monday night for a general discussion about a comprehensive-type high school.

No action was taken.

Boardmen discussed their problems and what they expect to trouble their schools in the future.

Where Tecumseh is now facing a crowded high school, the other two schools are now primarily overloaded in their elementary systems.

Whether another meeting will be held was not decided. None was scheduled.

All of the officials expressed opinions that their districts would not approve additional school expenditures at this time.

Library Can't Afford To Buy New Volumes

Tecumseh Public Library can buy no new books for the next seven months.

This was reported last week at the regular meeting of the Tecumseh Library Board.

The library depends on state penal fines for half its budget, and these fines unexpectedly dropped $2,000 this year.

Already working on a tight budget for salaries and operating expenses, the library board had only one area where money could be cut:

► Fund for books.

► Pictures and records.

A contract which had provided Tecumseh with the bulk of its new popular reading was cancelled.

In an effort to trim costs, the board raised the cost of replacing lost library cards from 10c to 25c. This covers handling and postage.

LIBRARIAN Jule Fosbender said, "I know we'll have many requests for these new books. We always have many people who read the latest book reviews and immediately request copies. But we have no money left."

Half the library operating expenses are paid through a .32-mill tax levied throughout the Tecumseh School District. A small amount comes from a state aid fund, and the remainer from fines. Largest share of the penal fines come from overweight trucks, and Tecumseh enjoyed the proceeds from the fines levied by the Cambridge Junction weight station.

A large part of these fines now are being paid in justice offices in Jackson County, and Lenawee County loses the revenue.

MEANWHILE, Tecumseh's library gets busier and busier.

Since moving into the new library building in August, the library has had a tremendous upsurge in circulation.

From 4,545 in October, 1961, circulation jumped to 6,350 in October of this year.

In the same time, the number

Fence at 'Pit' Turned Down

Despite a petition from people who live near "The Pit" on Adrian St., it will not have to be fenced in.

The decision by City Council at its Monday meeting climaxed two hearings and meetings with residents and the owner of The Pit, Mrs. Regina Gallo.

A popular swimming area, the Pit covers approximately seven acres.

Residents had petitioned Council to have "The Pit" fenced to prevent their youngsters from approaching the water.

Councilmen decided on the basis that it was not up to the city to make a decision on the requested fence.

The motion, unanimously passed, denied the petition on the grounds that the extent of the hazard did not warrant city action.

City Attorney Jim Beardsley previously told Council that the officals would have to declare the pit a nusiance before they could force enclosure.

IN OTHER action, Council:

► Approved looping a water main at S. Evans St. and Russell Rd.

► Approved second readings for ordinance regarding burning leaves on the streets, ordinance about night parking on the streets, and an amendment to ordinance relative to a surcharge on water.

ALL IN THE DRAW

One Is Happy, Another Sad

Two people experience the extremes of human emotions — one sorrow, the other joy — Friday night.

Arlis Spivey, 70 Pleasant Dr., was unhappy.

Mrs. Jessie Brown, 304 E. Kilbuck St., couldn't stop smiling.

Coupons with their names on them were drawn, in this order, in the first of four $50 giveaways in Tecumseh.

Another $50 drawing will take place this Frfiday at 8 p.m. in downtown Tecumseh. Free chances are available for the prize at 24 local stores, all listed on page three.

IF MR. SPIVEY had been present for the drawing last week he would have been given the packet of script, good for $50 of merchandise in the 24 participating stores.

But he wasn't.

So a second coupon was pulled.

This one had Mrs. Brown's name. She shouldered her way through the crowd in three seconds flat to claim the cash.

MRS. JESSIE BROWN

A widow of 17 years, Mrs. Brown said the money will certainly come in handy this month. She reported the winning coupon had been deposited at Sluyter's Electric.

The winner must be present. A maximum of 10 names will be drawn. If none happens to be downtown, the $50 will be added to the following week's total.

Picture Honors Susan's Memory

TIPTON—A memorial for Susan Buell was dedicated Nov. 25 during the Sunday School hour at the Tipton Community Church.

A picture of Jesus was presented by Susan's family.

Susan, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Buell, died May 2, 1961 of cancer. She was ten years old.

Robert Osburn was in charge of the service. John Dewey gave the opening prayer.

Shirley Allen and Karen Davenport played "Blest be the Tie That Binds" as an instrumental duet. Robert Platt and Michael Raymond presented a duet, "Nearer My God to Thee."

Mrs. Latham Dewey presented the memorial and it was accepted by the Rev. Paul Frederick. Kenneth Eisenminger gave the closing prayer.

The picture will be placed in the basement of the church, as this is where the intermediate classes meet, which Susan attended so faithfully.

Donatons from Clubs Are Sought

A last-minute appeal to Lenawee County organizations to participate in the CROP drive is being made.

Bob Johnston of Clayton points out that "we need to aid our churches and farm friends wind up the drive.

"A contribution to CROP means the most food delivered for your money," he states.

Clubs and other organizations can participate by sending a donation, marked for CROP, to:

Willis Moore
Court House
Adrian

The current CROP drive is for corn or cash. Ten grain elevators in the county, including the Hayden Mill in Tecumseh and J. J. Walper in Britton, are accepting corn for CROP.

THS Chorus Plans Sing Wednesday

"The Story of Christmas" is the title of the program to be presented by the Tecumseh High School Chorus Wednesday, Dec. 19 in the high school cafeteria.

There will be three sections to the program.

The advent will contain music leading to the birth of Christ.

The nativity section will behold music of that night when Christ was born.

The section on rejoicing will present music befitting this. The audience will be welcome to sing familiar carols with the chorus at the conclusion.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

The truth is out. For sure Dame Nature has flipped her lid. We were sure that something was amiss when the farmers started plowing and the lilac bushes were trying to bud.

Mrs. Mel Partridge, 206 W. Chicago Blvd., brought the evidence to The Herald office Tuesday afternoon.

Sprigs from a forsythia bush that in two or three more days will be in full bloom proved the point that Mom Nature is more than a little confused.

Who wouldn't be with such marvelous spring weather continuing into the month of December.

Mrs. Glenn Miller reported pussy willows in bloom in the yards of Mrs. J. T. Callihan and Mrs. Elmer Burleson.

People in Florida have nothing on Tecumsehites. My, how we have enjoyed it.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Bailey returned Friday from a 5,000-mile trip to California, accompanied by Rebecca Baily of Adrian, who is remaining in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Patton of Tufton for an extended visit.

Fun for Family Promised in Show on College Stage

The Adrian College Players will present Andre Obey's "Noah" in Dawson Auditorium Friday and Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

A play for the whole family, "Noah" is full of fun and color while dealing with the theme of a man's lonely quest for a new world.

School-age youths are invited to a special matinee performance at 2 p.m. on Saturday.

A large cast of characters — and animals—is headed by David Morton as Noah and Patti Richards as Mrs. Noah. Scenery and lighting will be provided by the Play Production class under the supervision of Mr. Robert Tolan of the Department of Speech and Theater.

Tickets at $1 for adults and 50c for young people through high school age.

of persons actually using the library for study or reading — not just to pick up or drop off books — rose from 931 to an estimated 1,500.

Some 620 reference questions were asked of the library staff, compared with 480 for the month a year ago.

Faced with this surplus of customers and shortage of money, library staff and board members expressed even more heartfelt thanks to the Tecumseh Kiwanis Club, which has collected more than 800 useable books from private collections of local residents who were willing to donate them to the library.

Sailor Can Be Proud of His Part

When the USNS Simon S. Buckner was honored as "Smart Ship of the Year" in Brooklyn, N.Y., an area sailor was there front and center.

As a member of the Buckner's crew since June, 1961, John Swanston of Clinton, an electrician's mate third class, could be justly proud.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Swaintson, the sailor is married to the former Marilyn Plank of Britton, daughter of Mrs. Donald Ries.

A letter of commendation was awarded to crewmen. It read:

"The Commander, Military Sea Transportation Service, Atlantic Area is pleased to note that you were designated by the Commanding Officer, Military Department, USNS Buckner as having contributed to the winning of the 'Smart Ship' Award for excellence and reliability.

"You are commended for your part in the attainment of the high standards which existed in your ship through the year. This performance of duty reflects credit on yourself as well as the Military Sea Transportation Service."

'God the Only Cause, Creator'

"God the Only Cause and Creator" will be the subject of the lesson-sermon at Christian Science church services Sunday.

A noted Tecumseh military man was subject of a recent article in the Ft. Bliss, Tex., newspaper. Sent Mrs. Louisa Awrey by her son, the article was part of a series on origin of names of buildings, fields and other locations on the fort grounds.

"McNair Rd. . . . was named for Maj. Gen. William Sharp McNair.

"Gen. McNair was born Sept. 18, 1868 at Tecumseh, Mich. . . . He was graduated from the U.S. Military Academy in 1890 . . . served in the China Relief Expedition . . . He commanded successively Camp Zachary, Taylor, Ft. Knox and Ft. Bragg. He was chief of staff, Panama Canal Dept., 1922-24, commander of the Fourth Coast Artillery District, Ft. McPherson, Ga., 1930-32.

"Gen. McNair retired in 1932 and died April 6, 1936."

The Herald was unable to find a phone number for Mrs. Awrey to find the name of her son or to thank her for sending the clipping.

Youngsters of Tipton Busy on Yule Efforts

By ROBERT OSBURN

TIPTON—We are doing many things for Christmas here.

The first grade room has three bulletin boards. One has a scene showing the three kings riding on camels to Bethlehem to see Jesus. On another there is a picture of Santa and his reindeer. Santas head is sticking out of a chimney and it says "A Merry Christmas."

The second grade room has a bulletin board with a picture of Santa and his reindeer and a Merry Christmas. On the other board there is a paper tree and two paper wreaths with mittens with little pictures on them.

The third grade room has put up paper candles and holly on their bulletin board.

A choir scene and a bulletin board with a tree and candles made with paper are what the fourth grade has to show for Christmas.

THE FIFTH grade room has a manger scene with paper mache figures. They have made a musical bulletin board and a "'Snowmans Christmas". They also have written a play.

The sixth grade room has put up little figures such as the three kings and the little angels. They are planning to show how the Jewish people observe Hanukkah.

The PTA has planned to dig up a Christmas tree from Mrs. Shaw's farm. The tree will be planted in the school yard.

After Christmas it will be used for feeding the birds.

Mrs. Shaw, the sixth grade teacher, is planning to bring an antique organ to our school so we can sing Christmas carols with it.

We are planning to have an assembly program for Christmas Dec. 21. Parents are invited.

On the bulletin boards in the hall, Mrs. H. C. Bailey's first graders have made a scene about the Christmas Story.

In the south showcase, Mrs. Dorman Edwards and some of the sixth graders made a manger scene and in the west case the fourth grade has put in a choir scene.

Letter Recalls Pioneer Days

EDITOR'S NOTE: Mrs. Hoyt E. Whelan of 601 W. Chicago Blvd. received this letter from her father, L. B. Spencer, exactly 55 years ago. She has treasured its remembrances of the life of her family as many as a hundred years ago. Last week the letter was read to Tecumseh Rotary Club members.

Mr. Spencer was born in Section 27 of Raisin Township, west of what is now Holloway. The family lived there until Mrs. Whelan was in her mid-teens, then he moved to Detroit.

The letter, which he wrote should be kept for "Alice," now is in her possession. Alice, now is Mrs. Marcus Fisher of Lansing.

Detroit, Mich.
Nov. 28, 1907

My Dear Daughter:

Yours of Nov. 19 received by me on my arrival home yesterday. I am now in the store waiting for the express company to deliver a deer to me which (they tell me over the phone) is on the wagon between here and the express office. I am alone in the store because of this being "Thanksgiving" day. I have a good fire in the office and I am comfortable.

Your letter stating that you would think I would find the "hunters camp" quite a change from steam heat and electric lights puts me in the mood to write and I will pen you a letter that you can keep for Alice to read when you are as old as I am now and I was born March 2, 1858.

Your mention of change reminds me that I have seen many changes in ways of living. My earliest consciousness of home was a house that had a parlor, kitchen and woodhouse. Nothing more. We lived in the kitchen and I played in the woodhouse but we never opened the parlor unless company came, and there was no sitting or dining room. We had a cook stove in the living room, and a very, very, little box stove in the parlor.

Mother cleared the table and put all the dishes away carefully in the buttery, after every meal, folding and laying away the cloth. After supper we all gathered around the naked table by the cook stove to spend the evening.

NO ONE had a large rocking chair. There was one in the parlor but it was never brought out. Mother had a little one she used — the rest sat on common chairs (wooden). There was no lamp lit — Kerosene was not in use in our part of the country, and had not come into general use anywhere. Mother always had a generous supply of tallow candles which I watched her make herself. One (or if company came in, two candles) would be lit and no one complained of insufficient light to see by.

Father would get the papers and mail once a week from Tecumseh and when that was read and re-read there was little use for a reading lamp until the next week. And people could sit and talk by the light of one candle.

Father owned 60 acres of land, about half of which was under the plow but far from free of stumps. It was not far back to the woods.

Of money there was little and of farm tools very few. Axe and hoe, plow and a homemade drag which had teeth made by the blacksmith. Scythe and cradle. Wagon and double buggy. Two horses and a few cattle. There were stumps in the road in front of the house. We had lots of good victuals to eat and very little else. We had brown sugar for common and sorghum — white sugar only for company.

THE BARN was 36x40 and ample. We had a rough board hog pen with slab roof and corn crib the same. Also a slab roof cowshed on which I used to climb. Indeed that is quite a change from this store and office in a big city.

The snuffers were always on the table with the candles, but the electric light is next me now and needs no snuffing and no match. By the way, brimstone matches were one of the new luxuries then and of very recent introduction. This writing is occasionally interrupted by telephone at my elbow ringing. I was 16 years old and going to boarding school at the Raisin Valley Seminary before I ever heard tell of a phone, and much older than that before I ever saw one. You were born before I ever talked through one or saw an electric light.

DO YOU realize that I served long years of apprenticeship in woods craft? Do you realize how many stones I have dug off the land and stumps dug and burned? And log heaps piled and fired? Do you know I am an expert at piling log heaps so they will burn and that I am an expert at splitting rails, fence posts and fence stakes?

Perhaps you think it takes only a beetle and wedge and muscle to do these things, but it takes more to be successful. Could you fall a leaning tree and not split it to spoil the saw logs in it?

Talk of change. I have dug miles of trench and laid the tile in it with my own hands. You can little know how much of that farm was worthless because wet when I was little.

Can you blame me if I have always worked and hoarded for a change, for a chance to spend the later part of my life in comfort? Still I like at times to have a taste of the old life. It has been 12 years since I hunted deer before, or carried a gun at all. I wanted a taste of the woods again. My first deer hunt was in Clare County nearly 25 years ago. I seem to be as strong now and have as much endurance as

MRS. HOYT WHELAN . . . SHE RECEIVED LETTER

then, for which I am truly thankful this day.

I want to tell you about that old parlor that my mother kept so neat. It had green paper shades at windows with red cords and large tassels to tie when the curtain had been rolled up from the bottom. No patent rollers then, and no lace curtains to go with the shades.

The carpet was rag, woven with very large or wide dark and light stripes, the rags having been colored with a liquor made by steeping the bark of trees. The furniture was light colored and cane bottomed — by furniture I mean chairs — because there was little else. One small table holding the album and the big Bible. The big Bible was not for common use but only when we had company. Paint on woodwork was white and ceiling white plaster. Sides of room had cheap paper with a very narrow dark border at top not more than two inches wide.

My first recollection of a bed is of four high posts, and long legs, with white curtain hung around. No mattress or springs or slats. The large tick was filled with oat straw and laid on cords stretched under it. It was a serious matter to fall out of so high a bed. And when the tick had been newly filled and rounded up, I was cautioned to get right into the middle of it and be careful. Father later shortened the legs by sawing them off.

The first 30 years of my life were spent on the farm. I would not like to go back. Still I was a successful farmer, and there are times when I would like a few weeks of the old life.

WELL, FLOY, it is evening — the deer has come and been skinned and cut up and is now ready for the pot, and the skin ready to make into a nice rug. I wish you might have some of the meat.

No, I did not go with a Detroit party but went with the very crowd you speak of. They registered from Tipton, Clinton, Manchester, Brooklyn and Onsted. Eleven of us in all with one from Ft. Wayne, Indiana. We killed 15 deer and a right good crowd they were.

I note what you say in your letter about getting free from debt. I hope for the best for you but times are likely to be bad for some time to come. I would advise you strongly not to put in sheep on borrowed money this year. Even should you get them at a price that might look cheap to you, they are possibly going to be much cheaper next spring.

The papers are printing only one side of the story — why, I don't know. I think we are far from seeing the worst yet and it is likely that prices of everything will go to lower levels.

The woods up north are full of idle men and wages to those working are cut from 35 to 26 dollars a month. Mills cannot see their way clear to run. In the city there are now many idle. People are hoarding and economizing and the idle cannot spend. Consumption is being cut down and every business man is hedging.

You had best go careful and safe and be a little longer getting out.

Very kindly yours,
L. B. Spencer

News From Boysville

By RICHARD MC MILLLAN

The Boysville Glee Club presented an hour's concert at Mereywood Hospital in Ann Arbor Dec. 5. Under the direction of Brother Philip Armstrong, C.S.C., they sang 10 numbers.

A vocal group led by Boysville Junior Joseph Laus also entertained at the hospital.

On Sunday, Dec. 16, the Glee Club will travel to Manchester to present a concert for the Altar Society of St. Mary's Parish and the Knights of Columbus.

The Cala Club, a group of Mexican singers and dancers, entertained at Boysville on Sunday. The program was presented in the gymnasium and lasted an hour and one-half.

Boysville's Junior Varsity basketball team won its first game of the season by defeating the Britton Junior Tories, 36-30, in a contest played just before the two schools' varsity teams met.

In that game, the Britton Tories, aided by their superior height, drubbed Boysville's small but scrappy Knights, 85-46.

Stan Klos led the Knights with 22 points, while his brother, Ron Klos, contributed 14.

The boys returned from their annual Thanksgiving vacation on the evening of Sunday, Nov. 25.

Seven boys remained on campus during the vacation period because distance hindered them from going home. Several boys are from the "upper" Upper Peninsula.

Boysville was recently a recipient of a profilometer, a precision instrument which measures a one-tenth of a millionth of an inch.

The machine was presented to Boysville by the Dexter Council of the Knights of Columbus in cooperation with the Micrometical Manufacturing Co. of Ann Arbor.

Gentlemen instrumental in obtaining the gift for Boysville were Bob Duprey and Grand Knight Dan Dahmen of the Dexter Council: Dick Nash, Boysville chairman of the Council; and Walter Mayer, field service engineer for Micrometrical.

Frank Kabat of Micrometrical also played an important part in making the instrument available for Boysville.

The profilometer was brought to Boysville by Mr. Duprey and Mr. Mayer, and was explained to Edward Pacioni, Boysville shop instructor, who will use the instrument in his machine classes.

Booklet Tells of Vital Need for More Nuns

A colorful, fully illustrated booklet titled "Where Do Sisters Come From?" is being distributed to all adults attending Mass in the Catholic churches of the area.

The booklet points out that 10 years ago in the Archdiocese of Detroit, there was a total of 136,729 Catholic students, and 2,727 Sisters to teach them.

Today there are 191,289 Catholic students, and 3,121 teaching Sisters.

This represents an increase of 40% in students, but only a 14% increase in teaching Sisters.

Ten years ago in this area there were 151 nursing Sisters in 10 Catholic hospitals, caring for 168,053 patients of all races and creeds. Today, in 13 expanded Catholic hospitals, there are only 176 nursing Sisters, caring for 379,913 patients.

This means that although the need for nursing care has increased 126% in 10 years, the number of nursing Sisters has increased only 17%.

Most Rev. John F. Dearden, Archbishop of Detroit, is carrying the facts about this need directly to Catholic parents, in whose hands rests the power to encourage or discourage vocations among Catholic young people.

"Where Do Sisters Come From?" is the fourth in a series of booklets which comprise the Adult Education Program for Vocations.

Citizens List Many Complaints about Schools

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series of articles relating the findings of an opinion survey made in the Tecumseh School District by a group of interested citizens.)

Tecumseh Public School's Citizen's Advisory Committee left lots of room on its questionnaires for written comments. Too much room, they thought occasionally during the weeks that they were compiling all these comments.

Some 409 questionnaires of 500 given out were returned in time for tabulation.

The University of Michigan Bureau of School Services counted the straight yes and no answers, and those where the answer required only a check.

But the written comments took weeks of work by committee members, who had to check each comment, and put the like comments together.

Any comment not made at least five times (one per cent of the questionnaires) or that would not fit under another general category, was listed under "other."

The comments then were broken down into eight categories:

School Board
Administration
Teachers
Hot Lunch Program
Bussing
Buildings and Maintenance
Curriculum
General

Where the same person made the same comment several times on his questionnaire, the comment was only figured once in the totals.

Here are the comments:

Rotarians Feast on Venison

Rotary Annes prepared a venison dinner and daughters of Rotary members served the food for the "Million Dollar Dinner" last Tuesday evening at the Methodist Church.

The meat was provided by local Rotarian "deer slayers" Bob Moore, Bob Aten, Al Merz and Fay Whelan.

The proceeds of such dinners by Rotary Club is donated to the Rotary International Fellowship Foundation, a program for students assisting with international understanding.

Dick Meyers, new industrial relations director of the Tecumseh Products Co., was the speaker of the evening.

He has had many years of experience in an executive capacity with the UAW under Walter Reuther.

Those who prepared the dinner under the direction of Mrs. Hugh Walter were Mrs. John Surratt, Mrs. Ed McClain, Mrs. William side Cemetery.

Davis, Mrs. Robert French and Mrs. Clifford Knudson.

Waitresses were Emily Manwaring, Ann Surratt, Carol Davis, Linda Knudson and Nancy Clark.

During the program time Fay Whelan read a letter written by his grandfather in 1907 to his mother, Mrs. Hoyt Whelan. The interesting letter is printed on page four of this issue of The Herald.

Party Is Next

Den mothers of Pack 73 met Thursday evening at the Scout Cabin with the co-ordinators, Mrs. Harold Milosh and Mrs. Thomas Kampmueller, in charge of discussions.

Plans were made for future pack meetings especially the Christmas meeting Tuesday, Dec. 18, at 7:30 p.m. in Fellowship Center of the Presbyterian Church, sponsore of the Pack.

"The Magic of Christmas" will be the theme of the meeting with seasonal skits, induction of new Cubs, awards, Santa's visit and treats.

Each Cub will bring a wrapped gift of not more than 30c value with a note attached, telling if it is for a boy or girl and for what age it would be most appropriate.

These will be given to the Tecumseh Service Club for distribution to the needy.

The den mothers gave accounts of the progress Cubs are making on gifts for their parents and decorations for the Christmas tree.

Plans were also started on the January theme, "Freedom Festival."

Parents To Tour Schools

Ridgeway and Macon Schools have decorated classrooms for the Christmas open house to be held Wednesday, Dec. 12, at 7 p.m.

The evening performance will begin at 8 p.m.

UP AND IN—Norm Tucker dunks a doggie in the Dundee win, the opener for Tecumseh Friday. Norm took up on the hardwood where he left off on the gridiron, as did most of the other Indians cage starters. Tecumseh hosts Flat Rock this week, junior varsity tipoff at 6:30.

Tecumseh Five Hot on Court

By JIM LINCOLN

Perhaps the best basketball team in three years at Tecumseh romped over a veteran Dundee five in the Huron League and season opener, 61-52, Friday night on the Vikings floor.

Prior to the varsity tilt, the reserves walloped their opponents by 18 points, 49-31.

Although Coach Doug Murdoch's quintet won by only nine points, the final score is misleading, as the Indians led by 12 points at the half and at one time in the third stanza, Tecumseh rolled up a 25-point margin.

Norm Tucker, twice a cage letterman, played less than three quarters but still ran off with the scoring honors, netting seven goals and six free throws for 20 points.

Tucker committed his third foul early in the second quarter, and his fourth in the third period, each time being yanked after the infraction by Murdoch.

After the score was tied seven times in the first quarter, the local five outscored the Vikings by 11 points in the second period. Following the half, Tecumseh poured in 13 points to Dundee's four at one stretch in the third quarter to wrap up the game.

Whether the Indians tired or let up, Dundee came on in the final three or four minutes for 16 straight points to close the gap to only nine points.

All five Indian starters played some excellent basketball, sometimes a bit ragged and occasionally missing an easy shot, but they turned in a pretty fair game with only a couple of weeks' practice.

Their strong points were speed, scrap and better than average shooting. In fact, Tecumseh had 11 free throws with nary a miss.

Late in the game and in the first period, the Indians also were out-rebounded by the taller Dundee team.

Coach Jim Hoffman's reserves won easily behind a 23-point second period. Ahead 42-17 at the end of three periods, subs played the rest of the way to finish the game.

Greg Allen with 15 points and Dave Tilton with 10 were top scorers.

Other Tecumseh reserve scorers were:

Beasley 2, Baird 7, Derby 2, Thomas 3, Hughes 2, Osburn 4, McEnroe 2, and Lawson 2.

Halfback Danny Greene led his Tecumseh mates in the post-season honors of the all-star squads.

Dan was named to the Associated Press All-State second team.

Tackle Mike Osburn and End Norm Tucker both were AP honorable mention selections.

In the Free Press, Greene and Tucker both rated honorable mention.

Tucker won first team selection on the Detroit News All Suburban squad.

Previously, Tucker, Greene and Quarterback Tim Sisson were on the Huron League "star" eleven.

For All We Hold Sacred . . . Attend Church

"LET NOTHING YOU DISMAY"

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

One of a million carolers. And on Christmas Eve she will bring comfort, reassurance, joy to many.

Mrs. J. is blind. She has never seen the carolers . . . but eagerly she listens for their arrival.

Mr. H. is an invalid. His nurse invites the boys and girls in and serves them cocoa. Mr. H. loves their happy smiles as well as their joyous voices.

Little Paul R. broke his leg last Saturday. That's why he's not caroling this year. But they'll be around to sing "Silent Night" under his window. That one is Paul's favorite.

When you hear the carolers on Christmas Eve, pause and consider the Love that inspires their singing. That Love was born in a Bethlehem stable one holy night centuries ago.

Bombers Clobber Beetles

Largest single aerial treatment program for Japanese beetle in the country was recently completed when four converted B-25 planes finished applying dieldrin pellets in Monroe and Lenawee counties.

Total acres aerially treated was 80,135.

Costs was $366,400.

The Japanese beetle feeds on more than 250 kinds of vegetation. Southeast Michigan becomes infested from adjoining Lucas County in Ohio, where there is no federal-state treatment program as in Michigan.

In the Monroe-Lenawee project there were 800 tons of the insecticide applied. Additional spots are to be treated by equipment on the ground that were not economical to treat with planes.

Ground work is expected to be finished within the next few days.

CORN-PICKING TIME—Every autumn the farmer hopes for clear dry weather to get his corn picked. This fall has been excellent for the chore. One of the last area farms to have the corn harvested was at the Irwin Sieler place along M-50 near Tipton. In the above photo, Mr. Sieler's son, Wilbert, who farms land near Dundee, operated his two-row picked on a strip of his dad's land. Mr. Sieler ran his one-row picker on another plot. Earlier the pair had picked corn at the son's farm.

HERALD PHOTOS

Mrs. Sieler pitched in on the corn-picking chore—only she preferred to do her's by hand. She gathered the bright yellow ears which were missed by the picker on stalks near the edge of the field or one which didn't drop into the wagon pulled behind the picker. The Sielers have been on the present location for the past year.

Con-Con Report

For and Against

(Editor's note:—This is another articles in a series about the proposed new Michigan constitution.)

Much of the support for the proposed new Michigan constitution which the state's voters will pass judgment upon at the April, 1963, election is coming from the so-called nonpartisan organizations.

Urging adoption of the new document are these major groups:

► Michigan League of Women Voters, which has 3,700 members in 33 local chapters.

► Michigan Education Association, representing 70,000 school teachers and employees.

► Michigan Municipal League, composed of city and village oficials from 430 municipalities.

► Michigan Farm Bureau, first to announce its support of the document and originally opposed to constitutional revision, represents about 70,000 farm families.

► Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers, which has about 300,000 members in 2,000 local units.

► Michigan State Chamber of Commerce, which represents 1,300 buinesses and industries.

► Michigan Junior Chamber of Commerce, which helped in the petition drive to call Con-Con.

► United Church Women of Michigan, a general department of the Michigan Council of Churches which claims it can reach one million women in 24 denominations.

► Michigan Division, American Association of University Women, which has chapters in the state's larger cities.

► Michigan Association of Registers of Deeds, the first group of county officials to endorse the document.

► The Republican party of Michigan.

Others who have indicated they will soon make a decision on the proposed constitution include the Michigan Retailers Association, representing mercantile interests in the state, and the Michigan Townships Association, a group which includes township officials throughout the state.

OPPOSITION to the new document appears to have a narrower base. Lined up against the constitution are:

► Michigan State AFL-CIO, which has about 600,000 members. Two affiliates of the parent union, Michigan State Employes Union and the Michigan Federation of Typographical Unions, individually have announced opposition.

► Michigan Farmers Union, a group smaller than the Farm Bureau and strikingly opposite in philosophy.

► Michigan State Grange, which passed by only a bare majority a resolution opposing the new constitution; those in opposition feared the new document gave too much representation to metropolitan areas.

► Michigan Branch, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, which has its greatest concentration of members in Flint, Pontiac and Detroit.

► Michigan Justices of the Peace Association, representing 6,000 justices.

► The Democratic party of Michigan.

There is some overlapping of membership among groups supporting the document and between those endorsing and opposing it.

The groups all promise large-scale educational programs to acquaint their members with the reasons why the new constitution is good—or bad.

A pamphlet summarizing the most significant changes proposed in the new constitution may be secured by addressing a postcard to:

MARDA GENE DUNCAN'S

A MENTAL PROBLEM

Does he have hallucinations of being chased, does he hear things, or is it merely a case of bubbling-over high spirits? Crossing the yard at a normal pace he will all-of-a-sudden take off running as fast as he can; coming down a tree trunk we have seen him jump the last two or three feet to the ground; running in a straight line he suddenly veers sharply to the right or left.

Everything is done quickly and for no apparent reason. Mighty strange actions—even for a squirrel.

When he first showed up a few weeks ago two traits were noticeable right away. He was exceptionally fast and extremely greedy.

This year's bumper crop of walnuts had been raked over the creek bank—no, it's not that we don't care for walnuts because we are all extremely fond of them; it is simply that this tree has never produced nuts that are good—they shrivel up.

BUT GETTING back to the squirrel, he found the piles of nuts and almost went out of his mind.

He acted as though he could hardly believe his good fortune and any minute the bonanza of good eating might disappear.

With speed almost equalling a Little Red he flew into the walnuts. The process goes something like this—grabbing one of the big nuts, he lugs it halfway up the mulberry tree, pauses a moment to tear the shuck off and then it's full steam ahead.

He scoots to the top of the tree, jumps into Marsh's big elm and is soon out of sight. All speed limits on the tree roads are broken, this character works at a pace which is frantic.

I don't know where he is caching the nuts but he is never gone long.

When he isn't carrying away he is burying. (If only half of them should grow there will be walnut trees all over.)

Holding his head quite high so that the walnut in his mouth doesn't get too much in the way, he makes a bee-line into either our front yard or Marsh's.

A surprisingly few, quick scratches with his front feet and there is a hole big enough for the walnut.

He tucks it in, packs the dirt back in place with his nose and finally, carefully puts the whole thing down. It is fun to watch this; his front feet beat a regular tattoo.

ALMOST a week ago the squirrel must have decided that the nuts weren't going to suddenly vanish so he took some time out to explore.

This is when we started noticing the odd actions mentioned in the first paragraph.

This is also when he discovered the feeder and we discovered what an attractive thing he really is. His general color is dark for a fox squirrel and his face is actually dark.

The end of his tail is black—although bushy, it is rather blunt: I think he might have had trouble sometime.

When he sits with his back to us, we laugh at his ears. The backs of them are light, as light a tan as is his tummy. He is some squirrel!

As yet his manners at the feeder have not been too far out. He is flighty, runs away from his own shadow; but food-wise he is still taken with the walnuts on the creek bank. One of these days though, we expect him to put on a show up close.

So it is that we have a squirrel who is most entertaining but after watching some of his kookie actions we can't help wondering, does he have a mental problem?

Exchange To Gather in Adrian

Forest Abner was installed as vice-president of the Tecumseh Exchange Club Nov. 26 by Past President Kenneth Hall.

The vacancy was due to the resignation of Albert Taylor, who recently moved to Toledo to accept a position there.

Jack Metcalf was made a board member. Douglas Dunn and Mr. Metcalf were fine masters for the evening.

Orville Bishop presented Mayor Harold Easton, who reviewed the city budget for the year 1962.

He explained the operation of each department and actions of the City Council.

Dec. 3 members and their wives went to Adrian to meet with other clubs from Bedford, Dundee, West. Toledo and Adrian.

The event was held in the First Baptist Church with Judge Frederick W. Howell, immediate past president of the National Exchange, as speaker.

Savings Bonds Gaily 'Wrapped' for Yule Gifts

A familiar and popular gift item — United States Savings Bonds—will be available in an attractive new "package" this Christmas, according to H. Dale Gardner, volunteer chairman of Lenawee County.

The package consists of a handsome new gift envelope which will be available free at local banks.

The envelope is faced in blue with a drawing of the American eagle holding a red, white and blue streamer. It is backed in white and flapped with the blue inscription, "A Gift for You . . . A Share In America".

"The folders are easy to mail, and can be slipped into a Christmas card envelope or tucked into a child's Christmas stocking. However they are given, they are certainly easy to receive!"

Applicants must be between the ages of 21 and 26 and hold a baccalaureate degree from an accredited college or university at the time of selection for this school.

Upon completion of 17 weeks indoctrination at the Officer Candidate School, graduates are commissioned Ensign in the U.S. Coast Guard Reserve and required to serve on active duty for three years.

Dick Niedermier of 1st Armored at Fort Stewart

Pvt. 1/c Richard Niedermier, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Niedermier, 2654 Munger Rd., is with the 1st Armored Division deployed at Fort Stewart near Savannah, Ga.

Home station for the 1st Armored is Fort Hood, Tex.

Presumably the division was "pre-positioned" at Fort Stewart to make it ready for immediate movement if defensive action required that.

President John Kennedy's desire to visit units before they are deployed back to home bases suggests that the 1st Armored Division is among the ground forces scheduled for withdrawal.

Club Members Tour Library Before Session

Members of the Progress Extension Club met at the new public library Nov. 26 to tour the building, before proceeding to the home of Mrs. Howard Kronberg for the lesson.

Mrs. Merton Boss and Mrs. Carl Kerns presented the topic, "Communication: the Art of Persuasion."

Plans for a Christmas party Dec. 17 were made.

LOCAL BUSINESS

"Advertising is salesmanship in print . . ."

If this brief definition of advertising is followed literally, much of the material which passes as advertising should not qualify. Too often, essential elements of salesmanship are not included in promotional efforts.

Selling is done only when a business offers a prospect a real and unique benefit. It is purely incidental when a simple listing of name and telephone number brings business to a store.

Compare the headlines from advertisements of two Chicago markets.

Market A: "U.S. Graded Choice, Naturally Aged Sirloin Steaks — 89c lb."

Market B: "See Us For Quality Steaks."

The first headline tells the consumer specifically what he can get and how much it will cost. It offers direct, tangible benefits. It could be expected to bring pre-sold customers to the market.

The second headline does not sell. It provides no concrete information. It promises no benefits — an essential of good salesmanship.

If the advertiser was disappointed in results, the blame could be placed on faulty use of advertised space.

NEWSPAPER advertisers have no reason for using incomplete salesmanship. The large space available on the newspaper page provides ample room for supplying full shopping information to a mass audience.

In other words, newspaper advertising is the most interesting of advertising because it is bona-fide news.

Canvass Shows Vote in County

The official canvass of votes in the 1962 General, Election shows that in Lenawee County 8,593 voters cast their ballots for Gov. Swainson, 16,175 for Gov.-Elect George Romney, and 59 for Socialist-Labor candidate James Sim.

The total Michigan vote received by the three candidates for the State's top office was 1,420,096 for Republican Romney, 1,339,513 for Democrat Swainson, and 5,219 for Sim.

In the close vote for lt. gov., incumbent T. John Lesinski received 8,507 votes in Lenawee County compared to Clarence A. Reid's 15,626. Democrat Lesinski received a state total of 1,337,872 compared to Republican Reid's 1,334,855.

Secretary of State James M. Hare, running for reelection for an unprecedented fifth term, won with the largest plurality. Hare's 1,489,527 votes gave him a 300,509 edge over Republican Norman O. Stockmeyer, who polled 1,189,018 votes. In Lenawee County, Hare received 9,704 votes compared to Stockmeyer's 14,483.

Stay Active, Senior Citizens!

Older people can be happier and healthier if they keep active, according to a doctor at The University of Michigan Medical Center.

Dr. C. J. Tupper, director of employees' periodic examinations offers a concrete program of daily activities to help the aged help themselves. He advises them to:

► Cultivate appropriate extrovert activities. Moderate sports and club activities, he says, can "lead to a feeling of belonging and of being a contributing individual."

► Keep in touch with current affairs. An older person's conversation can be interesting and stimulating if he's up-to-date on sports, politics, and books, Dr. Tupper explains. "Forget your past when talking no matter how superior you think it may have been. Focus your mind on the present and future."

► Pay more attention to dress and posture. "Walk buoyantly and sit erect, and try to keep your face as free from distortion as possible." Dr. Tupper stresses that a better appearance contributes to success with others and increases self-respect.

► Create a definite masculine or feminine personality. 'A woman at 80 can be a fascinating and charming individual, obviously feminine. A man of 80 can be strikingly masculine," Dr. Tupper says.

ALSO HE cautions older people not to loose their sense of humor. All too frequently, he says, a person's sense of humor departs with the onset of aging.

He points out that other activities that help are writing letters, attending church services, and doing maintenance work.

A simple think like developing an inquiring attitude about food can make mealtime an adventure rather than a dull routine, he adds.

Finally, Dr. Tupper says, these points can serve as a daily checklist to constantly remind senior citizens that they can do something about the way they feel.

His comments were made on a University broadcast, co-sponsored by the Michigan State Medical Society.

Allen Dickinson Takes Pre-Flight at Pensacola

PENSACOLA, Fla.—Naval Aviation Officer Candidate Allen F. Dickinson, son of Mrs. Lillian M. Dickinson, 211 West Pottawatamie St., attending a 16-week course at the Naval School of Pre-Flight there.

The course covers officer indoctrination and pre-flight subjects prior to basic flight training in propeller-driven aircraft. The 18-month program leads to commissioning as an officer and designation as a naval aviator.

Annual Toll of Fires on Farms Is $8,000,000

Farm fires in Michigan have been on the decline since 1958, but more than $8 million worth of farm buildings and equipment still go up in smoke annually.

Although the loss of farm homes has dropped quite rapidly, there still is plenty of room for improvement, says Richard Pfister, agricultural safety engineer at Michigan State University.

Mr. Pfister advises all families to think and talk about an escape plan for use in case of fire. "We need such plans for the home since this is where most fire deaths occur," he warns.

All families should plan "regular" and "alternate" escape routes for day as well as night.

"Designate a location for the family to gather once they have reached safety to avoid confusion," Mr. Pfister points out.

He also advises designating a specific location for emergency equipment such as a ladder, a rope, flashlight or other devices.

Principles of escape such as keeping doors closed and putting a wet cloth over the face should also be discussed, he adds.

Home fire alarms are extremely valuable in alerting families. "However, you can also buy 'gypo alarms,' " cautions Mr. Pfister. "Alarms having an Underwriter's Laboratory label have been tested for reliability and are the best buy," he says.

Fires caused by overheated furnaces increase directly with a drop in outside temperature.

Home owners must realize that a furnace can only be used to its capacity and not to the extent needed to keep the house warm.

Good insulation around doors, windows and in the ceiling will make the home more comfortable and help prevent overheated furnaces, Mr. Pfister notes.

A checklist of the 20 most important farm fire hazards is available from the MSU Bulletin Office at East Lansing or from county extension offices. The number of the bulletin is F-308.

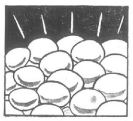
HEAT LAMPS are one way to keep the death rate low among many kinds of young livestock and poultry. But don't forget the fire hazard. The lamp itself should be protected by a canopy or shield. Hang the fixture from a separate chain so there will be no strain on the electric cord. Make sure the cord is resistant to moisture and high temperatures. The face of the lamp should clear standing animals by at least 6 inches and be no closer than 18 inches from the bedding.

DON'T LUG BULK MATERIALS that could be handled better and cheaper by machinery. Look around your farmstead and see how many jobs could be done easier and better through mechanization. Then find out how much cheaper a machine can work than a man. Keep in mind, though, that a proper balance must be maintained between machinery and hand labor. Some jobs require human judgment and observation to be performed properly, but many can actually be done better by machines.

EGG CLEANING WILL PAY big dividends if done thoroughly and efficiently. Eggs are food and like all food should be clean when offered to the consumer. The decision whether to clean all eggs gathered or just the soiled ones will depend on the percentage of dirty eggs and the equipment available. Research shows, however, that eggs which do not have to be cleaned maintain their quality better than eggs which have been washed or eggs that remain dirty.



BULLS NEED 50% MORE FEED THAN COWS and should be wintered by themselves until breeding time. They should be fed legume hay and silage to replace the weight lost during breeding season. Three to five pounds of grain per day for a couple of months is advisable.

Lightning Rod Fraud Operates in Michigan

A consumer fraud which was popular in the last century is still operating in Michigan.

A couple of fast-talking lightning rod salesmen are at work in Michigan right now, and have been cheating rural customers out of substantial amounts of money.

The story is always the same: claiming to represent a well-known and thoroughly reputable company which sells and installs lightning protection systems and equipment, the two men plan and begin work on an installation. At this time they take a substantial down payment.

Later, when they come to finish the job, they ask the customer to give them a check for the total price, including the down payment, explaining that the company will refund the over-payment.

If the customer has doubts, they give him a note indicating that the company will refund by a certain date, and they leave their "addresses" with the customer.

Then they get to the local bank, cash the check in a hurry, and depart before the customer can collect his wits and stop payment.

Frank Kelley, state attorney general, says if you deal with lightning rod salesmen, pay them only what you owe. Be sure they really represent the company they say they work for.

If there is any doubt, check with your local banker, prosecuting attorney, chamber of commerce or Better Business Bureau.

Mr. Kelley asks that any contact with the described operation be reported to the prosecuting attorney or to his office.

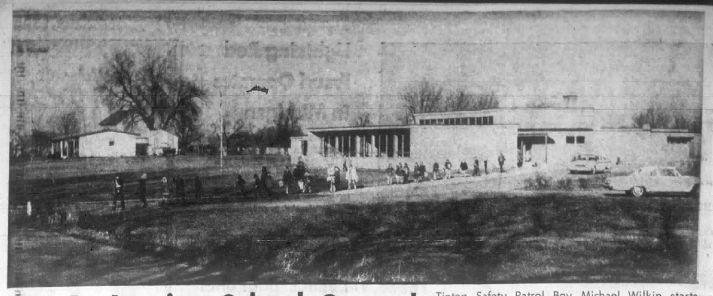
They Walk a Straight Line



No. 1 – Leaving School Grounds Tipton Safety Patrol Boy Michael Wilkin starts parade towards center of town with youngsters.

TIPTON — Students walk a straight line here and like it.

That is, as they come and go from classes to the downtown area along dangerous Tipton Hwy.

According to the principal, Mrs. Albert Tonneberger, the safety program is paying off.

Most of the 196 Tipton students ride school buses, but about three dozen live in this community and walk to and from their sessions of reading, writing and arithmetic.

The plan was worked out by Mrs. John Jones, fifth grade teacher, who is in charge of the regular school safety patrol program.

Mrs. Jones saw as the No. 1 problem Tipton Rd., which is extremely narrow — just room enough for two cars to pass in either direction.

There are no sidewalks, but instead deep ditches next to the road.

For walkers, the problem was dangerous.

To begin with, a rule was made that children could only walk Tipton Rd. in single file—never two or three abreast.

In announcing the rule, Mrs. Jones went on to explain the "why" and held sessions in which she talked on safe walking.

She set up the system in which one of her patrol boys leads the youngsters downtown. At the main four corners, two more are posted to see that the children cross busy M-50 with care.

Her patrol includes Capt. John Dewey, Michael Wilkin, Brice Slater, Michael Murphy, Gary Jones, Gary Rader, John Valdez, Adam Valdez and John Kotts.

Other patrol members are Larry Cherry, Carl Brighton, Mike Raymond, Dennis Pinter and Robert Hall.

THE YOUNG men take their responsibilities seriously.

This is illustrated by an incident, which took place not too long after the plan went into effect.

Sixth grade teacher, Mrs. Irving Shaw took a student downtown one noon to buy some candy.

As they returned to school, instructor and pupil walked side by side.

Mike Murphy, on duty at the time, called to the pair in a business-like tone, "Never two abreast, Mrs. Shaw."

When Mrs. Shaw later reported the incident to her fellow teachers, they all chuckled a moment. But they realized the school safety program was not something being taken lightly.

4-H Livestock Experts Ready for 'Big Show'

The climax of more than nine months of careful feeding, grooming and training is quickly drawing to a conclusion for many 4-H Club livestock members who will attend the 33rd annual Detroit Junior Livestock Show.

Among the 4-H'ers from Lenawee County have entered animals in the market lamb, hog and steer classes at the show are:

Ruth Will, Tecumseh
Donna Murphy, Tecumseh
Gregg Smith, Tecumseh
Dean Kirkland, Tecumseh
Tom Ragless, Jasper
Kenny Roe, Blissfield
Keith Knapp, Blissfield
Kirk Knapp, Blissfield
Dean Alcock, Adrian
Miwke Knierim, Cadmus
Cyril VanBrandt, Morenci

Cattle exhibitors have been working hard with their animals since before March 1 when all steers had to be in the hands of the 4-H youngsters. Sheep and market hog entries were required to be on feed by Sept. 15.

Dates of this year's show are Dec. 3 to 6 at the Michigan State Fairgrounds. Main emphasis of the show is on the education of young stockmen.

More than 350 exhibitors are expected to bring their prize livestock. The event is jointly sponsored by the MSU 4-H Club department in cooperation with the Detroit Junior Livestock Society.

3 To Get Top Scout

Scouters of the Wolverine Council will hold the annual pot-luck dinner and get-to-gether for all unit leaders, council and district Scouters and their wives Thursday, Dec. 6, at 6:45 p.m. at the Tecumseh Products Union Hall.

Silver Beaver awards will be given to three Scouters. This is the highest recognition that a local council can award to a volunteer scouter.

Frank W. Braden, regional scout executive of Chicago, will be the speaker.

Recognized as a national leader in the field of training, administration, staff management and finance, Mr. Braden has the responsibility for the largest area of scouting in the world, Region Seven.

It covers the four midwestern states — Indiana, Michigan, Illinois and Wisconsin — one sixth of all the scouts and scouters in the United States.

Mr. Broden became a scout at the age of 12, achieved the highest rank of Eagle, served as scoutmaster and camp director.

In 1926 he became a professional scouter and has served as a local executive in some of America's finest local councils — Toledo, Cincinnati, and Cleveland. He has served 12 years on the national staff of the BSA and traveled extensively representing the BSA — Hawaii, Puerto Rico, Cuba, England, France, Belgium, Holland, Switzerland, and Germany.

He has spoken in every sizeable city in America, is a champion of the training of scout leaders.

LIFE ON FORMOSA

By SHARON RIES

(Editor's note—This is another in the series of articles written from Formosa by Sharon, who is an International Farm Youth Exchange Student there. She is expected back in Tecumseh during January.)

Perhaps you have wondered what it is like to be a young person growing up on this island of varied cultures and changing ideas. When he is young, a Taiwanese child is allowed to do almost anything which does not endanger him and is seldom disciplined.

As the child reaches school age and begins to take on the responsibilities of studying, he is likewise expected to do more at home.

Taking care of younger brothers and sisters is often his job. It is not uncommon to see youngsters, boys or girls, carrying their brothers or sisters strapped on their backs in typical Taiwan style.

Primary school age children on the farm are also expected to help with the farm work, doing some of the lighter jobs: walking the water buffalo along the roadside to eat grasses (farm land is at a premium here so there are few pastures), raking the harvested rice over the courtyard to dry in the sun, helping clean the rice and feeding the poultry are just a few examples of the many jobs they can and do perform.

At this age also, children begin to realize the importance placed on education as they graduate from the required six years of primary school and face the competitive entrance examinations for middle school (high school).

The Taiwanese people realize that education of all is the key to solving the problems of a crowded country and changing culture in a rapidly moving world.

Besides the formal educations he gets at school, an informal education in the Confucian teachings of honoring one's ancestors and elders and filial piety is given by the parents, grandparents, and aunts and uncles in the home as the child grows up.

Since most of his relatives live with him, the young Taiwanese also has many playmates and good family fun.

As a young girl grows older she learns that men are supreme in her culture and her role is that of a silent partner, never taking credit for any deed. This traditional idea is now in the process of change as the younger generation assimilates some of the customs of the Western culture.

About the age of 18—if she has gone to the middle school, younger if she hasn't—the young lady begins to prepare things for her dowry: cross-stitch tablecloths, which will grace the coffee table in her home, crocheted doilies, embroidered pillowcases, and perhaps sewing some new clothes.

IN SOME towns it is traditional for a girl to take six or seven months of sewing instructions before she is married. Six days a week for six hours a day she learns the techniques of making shirts, blouses, dresses, trousers, slacks and the finer art of making her own patterns for these articles.

At this time in a young girl's life, parents or a matchmaker are busy trying to find the ideal husband for her. This custom is almost universally practiced in Tiawan, but many young people are becoming increasingly dissatisfied with the arrangement.

Consequently, even though the parents may choose the mate, he is now sometimes consulting his daughter or son to see if the person chosen is agreeable to him. There is seldom any courtship involved.

The boy and girl usually become engaged between the ages 20 and 28 and marry three months to two years following the formal engagement announcement.

Since this marriage custom is followed, there is no competition between young ladies to get a date with the most handsome boy in the village or vice-versa. Dating as such usually only occurs after an engagement and then is sometimes chaperoned. Boy-girl activities before marriage are always in groups.

As I have said, Taiwan is in a time of accomodating change. Young men and women occasionally date especially in the cities where there is no farm work to keep them occupied.

The time-honored traditions of courtesy and diplomacy remain and mark the Chinese people as the best diplomats in the world. Youngsters and teen-agers, rural and city, all grow up learning this art to perfection.

Chinese culture and life is filled with hard work and play and imbedded in Confucian traditions

Long and Short

By TOM RIORDAN

Of the $977.71 left in cash from the "Save Historic St. Peter's" fund, $63.20 was picked up by donors in recent weeks.

This leaves $914.51.

After noting last week's story that the library will not be able to add any new books for at least seven months because of money problems, a thought arises.

At the start of the building restoration drive, it was agreed that should it fail, money on hand would go to the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation.

Could this money be given to the Fund, builder of the library, earmarked for the purchase of new books?

In each, a book plate could be placed saying, "This book given to the Tecumseh Public Library in memory of Old St. Peter's Episcopal Church, 1833-1962."

The plate could include a small picture of the church.

The Herald would be happy to donate the necessary gummed labels and printing if the plan is to be adopted.

Next to actually preserving the building, it would seem this is about the best way of helping keep the memory of the historic church alive.

Reader comment — especially from folks who contributed to the recent restoration drive — would be appreciated.

$60,000 in Woolens Are Ruined

Soot from a furnace explosion ruined $60,000 in merchandise at the Clinton Woolen Mills store.

Manager E. J. Crawford said he hopes to reopen the store sometime next week, after the cleaning crew finishes work. All merchandise in the building was sold to a salvage operation.

Some items in the warehouse were undamaged, but the store will reopen with 90 per cent new stock.

Mr. Crawford said the explosion knocked open the furnace clean-out door, and soot was circulated through the building all Sunday night.

The loss was covered by insurance.

DRIFTS PILE HIGH—Snow scraped from the roadways combines with drifts to form high banks on county roads. The first snowstorm of the season was a dilly. Coming right on the heels of a long Indian Summer, it struck with unexpected force. Wind-piled drifts and a glaze of snow and ice made roads impassable, halting school busses Friday and slowing traffic to a crawl. Many had to shovel their way out to main roads, only to find their cars wouldn't start. Garages had a busy time, starting stalled cars and hauling others out of ditches.

Church Services Will Be Listed

Next week's issue of The Herald will feature a calendar of special Christmas services in area churches.

Pastors are invited to bring information on events, times, topics and dates to the newspaper ofifce early in the week, to assure publication.

Musical Tryouts Scheduled

Tryouts for the Tecumseh Players production of "Girl Crazy" will start at 8 p.m. Friday in the Class Room of the Tecumseh Community Center.

Saturday's tryouts will be from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m. is reserved for callbacks, but initial tryouts will be heard Sunday for those unable to attend Friday or Saturday sessions.

Director Robert Tolan suggests that interested persons come prepared to give a musical selection of their choice. Mr. Tolan is being assisted by Mrs. Allen Russell.

Musical director is Miles Cowdrey. Mrs. Ted Pihl is in charge of choreography. Technical director is Mrs. Dale Bowen and Mrs. Fred Porkorny is in charge of publicity.

Allen Russell is handling tickets, while Sid Turner is in charge of programs.

THS Choral Concert Set for Dec. 19

Highlight of the Tecumseh High School annual choral concert Wednesday, Dec. 19, will be the singing of Handel's "Hallelujah Chorus," accompanied by Dexter Bailey at the organ.

Many solos and ensembles will be featured in the program, including the newly formed girl's ensemble.

The Madrigal Singers and Honor's Quartette also will be featured.

The theme of the program is "The Story of Christmas" told mainly with sacred music.

Among the favorite Christmas hymns and carols to be sung are "O Holy Night," "O Little Town of Bethlehem," "Silent Night" and "Whence Comes This Rush of Wings."

Nazarenes Plan Revival Series Starting Sunday

A five-day revival meeting at Tecumseh Nazarene Church was scheduled from Wednesday through Sunday, Dec. 16.

Dr. E. W. Martin, district superintendent, will speak each evening through Sunday at 7:30, and special music will be presented. Dr. Martin also will speak at the 11 a.m. Sunday service.

The Rev. Herbert Nation, pastor, invites all interested to take part in the meetings at the church, 807 Sunset Dr.

1,000 More Homes Learning of Christmas in Tecumseh

An additional 1,000 homes in the area are receiving free copies of this week's Christmas edition of The Herald.

It features holiday pictures and stories, as well as the latest news about Christmas merchandise on sale in Tecumseh.

Beginning Friday evening, Tecumeh stores will be open until 9 each night until Christmas Eve, exclusive of Sundays. Holiday music will fill the downtown area.

Santa Claus will be headquartered at the Four Corners Friday from 4 until 9 p.m. and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. and 4:30 to 7:30 p.m.

Santa is going to be downtown all next week from 4:30 to 9 p.m. daily. He'll be sporting a brand new suit, made by the Jaycee Auxiliary with $50 in materials furnished by the merchants.

There will be free parking in all off-street lots from Monday until Christmas. Meters for three days of next week were purchased by storemen and the balance is being given by the city. Merchants paid $120 for their trio of days.

Maidens Planning Christmas Party

Donna and Debbie Osburn were hostesses for members of the North Franklin Maiden 4-H Club recently. Plans were made for a Christmas party.

Names were exchanged and it was decided that mothers would be invited as guests.

Members voted to donate funds for the rental of billboards to advertise 4-H.

The remainder of the evening was spent sewing. The next meeting will be held Dec. 18 at the home of Carol and Karen Davenport.

Mrs. Edward Osburn served refreshments.

Bands Plan a Concert on Monday

Two hundred seventy-five musicians will present a concert Monday, Dec. 17, at Tecumseh High School.

The concert, with admission free, is presented by the two junior bands, cadet band and senior high symphonic band.

Music will range from the popular "It's Beginning To Look a Lot Like Christmas" to the grandeur of "Gloria in Excelsis."

A feature of the program will be a flute ensemble playing an unusual arrangement of "Silent Night."

Schools Seek Way To Even Tax Burden

Tecumseh school board Monday authorized business manager Norval Bovee to continue investigating the possibility of evening the tax bills sent to local property owners.

School, county, township and special education taxes all are collected in one large winter-time lump—just when budgets are flattened by holiday and cold-weather expenses.

Only the Tecumseh City taxes are collected in the summertime.

Mr. Bovee told board members taxes could be spread out more, with the summer and winter tax statements about the same.

Main advantage to the schools would be the collection of tax money before school starts in the fall. This would probably eliminate the necessity of the schools borrowing bank funds for current expenses.

Reason for borrowing is the usual delay in the state aid. The business manager informed the board that approximately 35% of the 1962-63 budget has been spent, but only 18% of the revenue received.

In other action, the school board:

► Approved sale of a bulldozer to Tecumseh Equipment for $2,000, and an auction between E. H. Schmidt and L. Tehke for the dozer's plow.

► Heard a report from Supt. James McDowell about educational services cut since 1960-61.

► Was told that the local Michigan Education Association district salary committee and bus drivers would be seeking salary increases.

Rash of Crashes Follows Snowfall in Tecumseh

Tecumseh police report a rash of small property damage accidents in Tecumseh since the season's first hard snow last Thursday.

Chief Murrel Clark, back in his office after a stint in Bixby Hospital, reports 19 fender-benders since last Thursday, more minor accidents than the police investigated during all last summer.

Small property damage accidents average about 12 a month during the winter. Most of the past week's accidents were rear-end crashes and drivers backing across streets without clear vision, due to heavy frost and snow clouding their rear windows.

Suspense Builds Before Drawing

It was all business, that $50 drawing last Friday evening. As several hundred folks stood waiting, the first chance was drawn.

Hardly had the public address system boomed out the name and address — Ken Martin, 707 Inner Dr. — when the winner stepped forward.

Mr. Martin, accompanied by his wife and son Kenneth Eddie III, age 2½, happily claimed their prize.

Mr. Martin works in IBM at Tecumseh Products.

The only suspense of the evening took place before the drawing. Howard Hunt, who made the pick-up of chances at the 24 participating stores needed more time than usual.

At 8 p.m., everyone was set for the fun. But there were no chances and no Howard. They arrived about 8:10, to a round of applause from the crowd.

Two additional prizes — one-year subscription to The Herald — also were awarded.

► Carolyn Chase, 205 N. Ottawa St.

► Mrs. Ward Perso, 409 W. Pottawatamie St.

Before their tickets were drawn, Mrs. Journey Stoner's name was pulled, but she wasn't present.

That's the major stipulation to get the $50 or other prizes—the winners must be on hand. A maximum of 10 names will be drawn and if the award is not claimed, it will go over to the following week.

There are still two more $50 drawings.

This Friday's event will take place in front of Gambles and Woolworth's. In addition to the big prize, there will be other runner-up gifts.

Winning the $50 can be easy. Free chances are available in 24 Tecumseh business places (see full page in this issue). No purchases are necessary and the only stipulation is that you be at least 18.

The money comes in script, which can be spent in any of the participating stores.

THS Faculty Men, Alumni To Battle Visiting Cagers

Members of the Tecumseh High School faculty, coaches and alumni will be the opposing team when Canada's Harlem Diplomats play at the Tecumseh High School Gymnasium Thursday, Dec. 20.

Tickets are available at the door for the event, sponsored by the Student Council.

Many fans refer to the Diplomats as Canada's version of the Harlem Globetrotters.

The Diplomats, who appreciate the compliment, are fast becoming world known themselves.

They played in eight countries last season.

$2,000 Tuesday Fire Damages Wisner Home

Fire damages amounting to at least $2,000 were inflicted on the John Wisner home, N. Tipton Hwy., about noon Tuesday.

Tecumseh firemen report severe damages to floor joists on the first floor and considerable smoke damage throughout the house. The basement fire also ruined electric wiring in the basement.

Mrs. Wisner, who works at the Tipton post ofice, discovered the fire about 11 a.m. when she returned home from work. The house was filled with smoke.

Ralph Seager and Don Purkey, using oxygen masks and with ropes tied around them, discovered the fire in the basement.

The Tecumseh department was gone about two hours from the station.

5,300 Phone Books

General Telephone Co. will have a Christmas present for all its customers in Tecumseh, Britton, Clinton and Tipton: New telephone numbers.

Actually, you can dial the old number and receive your party, but in the new phone books being mailed next week, the numbers are listed without the old name prefixes.

For instance, HArrison 3-2174 becomes 423-2174.

This is part of a nationwide change to all-numeral dialing, done because telephone companies are running out of easily recognizable names for telephone exchanges.

The new phone books will go in the mails Dec. 20.

K. L. Conway, district manager for General Telephone, says more names, Yellow Pages and information are included in the directory than ever before.

More than 5,300 directories will be distributed throughout this area with all up-to-date information.

Mr. Conway has this suggestion about the replacement of your directory:

"Leaf through your old directory. You may find something valuable in it. Money, important letters and notes, as well as cherished addresses, have been found in telephone directories. And, while you are going through the old directory, you'll want to transfer the frequently called numbers you have written to the new book.

"Housewives and homeowners will be especially pleased with the Yellow Pages this year," Mr. Conway continued, "the classified section of the telephone directory has been expanded to give better identification to different types and classes of businesses."

Mr. Conway pointed out that the back inside cover has space provided for frequently called numbers. Information on direct distance dialing and emergency calling is listed in the introductory pages, and on the inside front cover are long distance rates to major out-of-state cities.

GAA Members Go Caroling Tuesday

Members of the Girls Athletic Assn. at Tecumseh High School will go caroling Tuesday.

The annual event, starting at 7 p.m., includes visits to the homes of shut-ins.

Anyone knowing of a shut-in who would appreciate hearing the youthful carolers is asked to call Sherry Packard, HA 3-2791

Bowler Nearly Doubles Score

Gerald Baker, in his first season rolling in the Tecumseh Products League, bowled a 229 game last Wednesday, 104 pins over his 125 game average.

For turning the trick, Mr. Baker will receive an American Bowling Congress award, a shoulder patch marking his achievement. This is the first year ABC has given the award.

The game was rolled at Airport Bowl.

SOME CUT THEIR OWN—A lot of families around Tecumseh cut their own Christmas trees each year. The Leslie Wykes clan, 505 Nokomis St., made the trek Sunday to property of City Attorney James Beardsley, southeast of Tecumseh, where folks can select and cut trees. AT LEFT—Mickey Wykes shoulders the tree on the way to the car. ABOVE—Tiny Jerry Wykes leads the family out of the area, followed by Mickey, Danny, Mrs. Wykes, Cathy and Mr. Wykes. RIGHT—Dean Linden, who with his twin brother, Dennis, manages the tree sale, warms his hands between transactions. Mr. Beardsley started his project in 1952, planting 40,000 trees over a 40-acre area. He cut out the first tree in 1958 and the following year invited some friends in to select trees. The sale of trees began in 1960 and nearly 500 have been taken from the property since then. There are eight varieties of evergreens, six pine and two spruce, some which have grown as much as 12 feet high. Mr. Beardsley explains he is interested only in breaking even on the effort, getting his satisfaction from knowing how much happiness will be engendered around the trees at Christmas.

Shirley Deis, Charles Hassenzahl Exchange Rings, Wedding Promises

The marriage vows of Shirley Kaye Deis and Charles John Hassenzahl were spoken by the couple in an afternoon ceremony Saturday at the Raisin Valley Friends Church.

The Rev. Lawrence Cox performed the double-ring ceremony and Sharon Pfund was at the organ.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. William Deis of 1587 Sutton Rd. and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hassenzahl of S. Occidental Rd.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a gown of white taffeta fashioned with an inlay of scalloped lace at the neckline.

The fitted bodice featured long tapered sleeves and the skirt formed a petite train.

A taffeta rose secured her fingertip veil and she carried an arrangement of red roses, white carnations and ivy.

THELMA JO Holley was maid of honor and Linda and Joan Deis were the bridesmaids.

Each wore a red ballerina-length gown. Miss Holley carried red and white striped carnations and the bridesmaids carried red carnations and holly.

MRS. CHARLES HASSENZAHL

Barbara Hassenzahl was the flower girl in a green satin dress gathered at the waist with a white cummerbund.

Richard Eberline was the ring bearer.

Duaine Sayler served as best man and the guests were seated by Jerry Emery and David Hassenzahl.

A reception for 200 was held in the church parlors with Mrs. Robert Krouse, Mrs. Sam Stewie, Cheryl Krouse, Maureen Donward, Joyce Baker, Christine Eberline and Diane Saylor assisting.

THE COUPLE spent the weekend traveling in the eastern states and will vacation in Arizona in January.

Mrs. Hassenzahl is a 1962 graduate of Adrian High School. Her husband is engaged in farming.

Parents of the bridegroom entertained the wedding party Friday evening at the Tipton Coffee Shop.

Kiwanians Hear Tales of Rockets

Guests for the evening were the Rev. and Mrs. Donald Porteous, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Ross and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Pickford.

The Rev. K. F. Koeplin, pastor of Grace English Evangelical Lutheran Church, will present a talk on Christmas at the Dec. 13 Kiwanis meeting.

The annual Christmas party for the children of Kiwanians will be held Thursday evening, Dec. 20.

Christmas Tea

The Social Room of the Methodist Church was filled to capacity Saturday afternoon for the Annual Christmas Tree Tea.

The room was appropriately decorated and in addition to the large decorated tree each table had an individual Christmas centerpiece.

More than 85 members and guests were served Christmas pudding and tea under the supervision of Mrs. William Davis, assisted by Mrs. Arthur Eaton and Mrs. Lenore West.

The welcome was given by Mrs. Edward Beal, program chairman. Mrs. Herbert Voegé, harpist, of Adrian entertained the group with three numbers. She played "Rigaudon" by Rameau", Chanson dans la Nuit" by Salzedo, and a pavane, a 16th century piece, whose composer is unknown.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hood sang "White Christmas" and "Silver Bells," accompanied at the piano by Dexter Bailey.

Minako Furuta of Tokyo, gave an account of Christmas in her homeland.

She said Christmas isn't celebrated in individual homes there, and therefore she is especially interested in observing Christmas in the States.

Miss Furuta is a graduate student, studying for a master's degree at the University of Michigan. She is a Crusade Scholar, sponsored by the Methodist Church.

Mr. Bailey presented two compositions by Chopin, 'Prelude in C Minor" and " Prelude in D Flat Major." He responded with an encore playing Chopin's "Prelude in G Minor."

Hallelujah Story Told

Sunday, Dec. 16, at 10 a.m. the Rev. Donald Porteous of the First Methodist Church, will speak on the topic, "When Truth Becomes Alive." The message is centered on how George Handel was inspired to write the "Hallelujah Chorus" in the Messiah."

Saturday, Dec. 15, the MYF will sponsor a Christmas Bake Sale at the church at 10 a.m. The proceeds will be used exclusively for the promotion of the youth work within the local church.

Sunday, Dec. 16, at 7 p.m. The church school will present a Christmas program entitled "The Birthday of Our King."

It will be directed by Mrs. Carroll Sprague assisted by youth and adult members of the church.

The junior and primary choirs will assist as the narrator, Sonja Sprague, brings the group through the centuries from the peasants to the family of 1880, to a family of modern times.

The White Gift offering that will be received will be sent to the Methodist Children's Village in Detroit.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Society Editor

The crunch of snow under foot, every branch and projection covered with the sparkling white stuff and temperatures below the zero mark — certainly King Winter has arrived in Tecumseh.

Huge snowmen grace many lawns in the city. Children are bundled by mothers until they are roly polys and the safety patrol boys stamp their feet to keep warm.

Teachers and parents are concerned about frost-bitten young fingers and toes.

Who would believe that the temperature was a warm 60 degrees here last press day?

Babies are in the news this week. Dr. and Mrs. Robert Mohr have brought their new halfback, David Alec, nearly eight pounds, home from a Battle Creek Hospital. He was born Dec. 1. The Mohrs will spend the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Mohr.

While the dentist's office was closed, Mrs. Richard Peterson, receptionist, became mother to a lovely little girl.

Now that the babies have arrived and everyone is fine, the office will be open again as usual Monday, Dec. 17.

Newcomers, Mr. and Mrs. George Rabun, are the parents of a son, Mark Allen, born Dec. 9 at Foote Hospital, Jackson. They are living at Paul's Trailer Park now. Mr. Rabun is employed as a pharmacist at Hodges Drug Store.

Mr. and Mrs. Ford Mudgett are now the parents of 10 children. Teresa was born Friday night at St. Joseph Hospital, Ann Arbor. She has three brothers and six sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Danforth entertained six little ladies for the pleasure of their daughter, Jamie, Sunday. The guests and Jamie attended a movie and returned to the Danforth home, where they were served a buffet supper featuring ice cream Christmas trees and decorated cup cakes for dessert.

Those on the guest list were Laura Wilson, Georgeanne Albana, Stephanie Brooks, Lesly Otter, Marcia Gilbert and Tracie Brooks.

Ricky and Reed Skinner, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Max Skinner of 807 River Acres Dr. played in an accordian and guitar recital Tuesday evening in Adrian.

They are students of Nancy Mehan, who operates a music studio in Adrian.

Dexter Bailey accompanied Milton (Rocky) Bailey of Adrian Monday evening when he presented a Christmas program for the Literary Club of Adrian.

Chief of Police Murell Clark returned to his home Tuesday from Bixby Hospital, where he had been a patient for more than a week.

A 1/c James F. Hartsell was discharged from Ellsworth Air Force Base in South Dakota Friday. He had been stationed there since returning from a two-year period spent in Germany. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Hartsell brought him home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwyn Service of Tampa, Fla. returned to their home Saturday after spending three days with his mother, Mrs. Rose Service. "Big John" brought a delicious basket of juicy fruit and a huge cocoanut to the staff of The Tecumseh Herald.

The play was presented in two acts, with scenes at the Holy Family's home in Nazareth.

The cast included:

Joseph — William Whiting
Christ Child — Donald Dziachan.
Playmates — Thomas Rohrer, Paul Velandra, Thomas Johnson, Robert Lindstrom, Jamie McWilliams, Mary Boudrie, Sara Beck, Gloria Nettro.
Villagers — Chris Peters, Michael Cote
Maidens — Paula Mueller, Sharon Shrader

Taking part in the nativity scene were Judy Buku, Steven McCrate, Jan Wilson, Leo Gonzales, Leslie Rowe and Douglas Dick.

Rams Cool Tecumseh

Flat Rock cooled off Tecumseh's hot shooting performance from the previous week to hand the Indians their first loss of the season, 64-58.

The game, orginally scheduled for Friday night, was postponed until Saturday because of the weather.

The Rams came from behind to nip Coach Doug Murdoch's five after trailing throughout most of the game. Tecumseh held a three-point lead at the half, but was outscored in the third and fourth quarters.

Norm Tucker had an offnight but still led the Indians with 15 points. Dan Greene netted 14. Jim Tangeman, high-scoring Ram forward, collected 25 points.

Coach Jim Hoffman's eagers tallied their second straight easy victory with a 45-29 win over the FR reserves.

Tecumseh plays at Airport Friday night.

Garden Club Gives Plants to Shut-Ins

Little Garden Club members will brighten the lives of some area shut-ins not just for Christmas, but for a long time afterward.

Club members will donate plants they have nurtured for the shut-ins. The plants will be taken to the club meeting Dec. 18, along with the names of the persons to receive them.

The meeting, in the farm home of Dr. and Mrs. Robert J. Murray on Green Rd., also will include installation of new officers and new members.

Assisting Mrs. Murray with the annual Christmas social will be Mrs. Thomas Corkery, Mrs. Wilbur Andrews and Mrs. Richard Colson.

Meeting Delayed

The meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church originally scheduled for Dec. 10 was canceled because of the snow storm.

Plans are to hold the meeting Monday, Dec. 17.

'Miracle Worker' Scheduled Here

"The Miracle Worker," a picture about two extraordinary people of indomitable will—Annie Sullivan and Helen Keller—will play at the Strand Theatre Dec. 19 through Dec. 22.

A winner of Parents Magazine's special merit award, the picture tells the dramatic and inspiring story of Annie, a dedicated young Irish girl, who brought light into the dark world of a deaf, mute and blind child.

Ann Bancroft and 14-year-old Patty Duke recreate their stage roles as Annie and young Helen for the United Artists release.

Con-Con Report

Longer Terms

Four-year terms for four principal state elective officers are provided by the proposed new Michigan constitution, which voters will be asked to pass judgment upon at the April 1, 1963, election.

The longer terms would become effective for those elected in 1966 as governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state and attorney general. These officers presently serve two-year terms.

In acting to increase the terms of these officials, the Constitutional Convention followed the advice of former state executives and conformed to policies which have been adopted by many U. S. state governments.

Advocates of the longer term pointed out that the present two-year incumbency provides too short a time for an administrator to become properly acquainted with his job.

They felt, too, that an official's efficiency is impaired when he is obliged to campaign for re-election as often as every two years.

Terms for members of the state senate are also increased to four years by the new constitution, but members of the house of representatives continue to serve only two years.

THOSE ELECTED for four-year terms in state office would be chosen in balloting in alternate even-numbered years beginning in 1966, so as not to conflict with national presidental elections.

Although the new constitution does not specifically so require, it is presumed that the legislature will continue party primaries for the nomination of candidates for governor.

Candidates for lieutenant governor, secretary of state and attorney general would be nominated at party conventions.

THE LINE of succession to the governorship in the new constitution is lieutenant governor, secretary of state and attorney general. The matter of further succession, after the three elective officers, is left to legislative determination.

A clear distinction is made for the first time between temporary succession to the governorship, such as during his absence from the state, permanent succession due to his inability to perform his duties.

A method of using the supreme court to determine when such inability exists—and when it ends—is also provided for the first time.

Another new provision of the proposed document meets a long-felt need. The governor is provided with a furnished residence and receives an allowance for its maintenance. This conforms to the practice in 41 other states.

The new document provides that the nominees for governor and lieutenant governor of each party run as a team, with votes for the governor to be also cast for the lieutenant governor in the same manner as with the president and vice-president of the U.S.

This would eliminate devisive situations in state government when the governor and lieutenant are from opposing political parties.

Fellowship Will Sing Yule Carols

Eleven members of the Youth Fellowship of the First Baptist Church attended the Association Christmas banquet at Temperance recently.

Red and green streamers were used to decorate the youth room.

A potluck supper was held Dec. 8 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Griewahn for the members.

The group will go caroling to Maple Lane Manor Dec. 16.

The annual Christmas party will be held at the Griewahn residence Dec. 23.

An Association roller skating party will be held at the Rainbow Acres Rink in Toledo Dec. 27.

HIGH PRICE PUT ON FAKE MONEY

TOKYO — (AP) Counterfeit 1,000-yen notes that have turned up in the last year are worth more than the real thing right now. In an effort to trace the counterfeit origins, police offer 10,000 yen ($27.78) reward for each bogus 1,000-yen note turned in.

Those Japanese folk are an unfortunate people. For centuries prior to the late Lord Maynard Keynes' visit to our shores they were the most thrifty hard-working people in all the Orient.

But today, they are in that stage of the practice of hot house monetary economics, fake yen (phony yen) are more valuable than Japan's legal yen, and to make matters worse, any Japanese person who is not up to his ears in debt owing money on a bicycle, automation tooth brush, can opener, tight-fitting toreador pants, British-made Homburg hat, business-as-usual soft leather brief case, and the like, has no more status than a United States citizen that does not owe a penny on his domicile, compact, and the like, like some of the Detroit newspaper staffers do.

And that's the way it goes since Lord Keynes crossed the ocean from his tom fool Oxford college to lecture on the practice hot house monetary economics in the United States — the way it goes in the Orient, in Latin America, in our Caribbean Lake, in Canada, specially in Canada's Alberta.

In France, in The Netherlands, in the Germanies, at Detroit Cobo Hall, City-County Building, Detroit Economic Club, up at Alpena, everywhere except in the United Kingdom — debt — debt — debt up to the ears, specially national debt, is a financial asset that gives good old status, and brings prosperity, of course.

The Island Kingdom is so tiny it could be dropped into Texas with no more fuss than a Houston person saying to a fellow Houston person, "Did you hear a noise like a bang over by our Loobok Bar-be-Que stand? No? Oh well, I suppose Loobok folks are celebrating another Department of Agriculture hike in the price of their cotton.

"Ever since the early 1930's in which we went off the gold standard of money at home and the United Kingdom began to earmark our gold money for outflow to the socialized Bank of England, Loobok folks have got to be the most celebratingist folk in our Texas."

And tis thus, dear fellow Tecumseh Herald readers, as we hindsight over the years of "National debt is a financial asset."

"Over the years Capitol Hill has paid and is paying $35 for $20 worth of gold on the grounds such tinkering is a profitable business."

"Over the years that spark folks to ask debt ridden Capitol Hill for money to construct white elephant economic projects to boom business like Sleeping Bear by the Traverse Cherry country, like brand new fairgrounds for financially-solvent Alpena County, for money to build new city halls to replace old city halls capable of housing municipal public servants snug as bugs in rugs not for the remainder of this century, but far into the next century, and the construction of other white elephant nonsense.

The thought comes to roost in the Thinking-Head, it is not United Kingdom bungling as the late George Bernard Shaw would have us believe, but it is brains that builds empires that were old when our land was a wilderness and which today are empires on which the sun never sets.

Boysville NEWS

By DICK McMILLAN

A get-together of patients at Mercywood Hospital in Ann Arbor and the Boysville Glee Club, Dec. 5, was termed a success by Brother Philip Armstrong, C-SC, director. As a result of the visit the boys gained a better understanding of the problems faced by mental patients.

Boysville's Fighting Knights lost their second game of the season 66-40 to the Sand Creek Aggies Friday. Stan Klos led the Boysville attack with 15 points, while his brother, Ron, followed a close second with 14 points. But Jim Burrow, leading Aggie scorer, and the offensive work of his teammates proved too much for the Knights.

The Boysville J.V. team now has a 1 and 1 record after the Sand Creek team defeated them 36-30 Friday night. Until the fourth quarter the Knights were able to keep pace, but they were unable to withstand a fourth-quarter rally.

Boysville's Saddle Club has become a great success under the leadership of Mr. Lips and Mr. Lehman, moderators. The club consists of 42 boys. The eight original horses plus a Shetland pony, four pedigrees and a Morgan are in excellent condition. Dave Zajac,, Tom Morden, Bill Frei, Richard Cowan and Dan Maline, captains of the club, serve as prefects.

Vic Dennis, Jim Schwanki and Ray Lemanski presently make up the "ear trimming" crew for the Barber Shop. Brother Thomas Friel, CSC, supervises the work and orders the supplies.

PAULA MUELLER, 511 W. KILBUCK ST. PUTS FINISHING TOUCHES ON NEIGHBORHOOD GIANT

SNOW FAMILY—Five-year-old Karen Graf, a kindergartner at Herrick Park School, has her own snow family. Karen and her mother, Mrs. Richard Graf, fashioned this mom, dad and daughter going shopping on Friday. The job took about an hour. Mrs. Graf explains that the original project was one snowman, but Karen insisted on doing another and another. The family idea grew and soon dad was wearing a hat, necktie and belt, mom had a scarf, shawl and carried a purse. For baby there were a bonnet and shirt. The two Graf sons, Richard Lee and Marc, were too busy sledding and shovelling snow to help.

Tecumseh Feminine Cage Coach and Players Take in Basketball Clinic

Theresa Pickens and six girls of the Girl's Athletic Association of the Tecumseh High School attended the girl's basketball clinic at Adrian College Saturday.

Between 150 and 200 high school girls from southern Michigan represented about 20 different high schools.

The purpose of the clinic was to teach the girls the new roving player game, where one girl may play from anywhere on the floor.

The afternoon activities included a discussion of the women's rules for basketball and a demonstration of officiating techniques.

This clinic was sponsored jointly by the Adrian College Physical Education Department and Southwestern Michigan Board of Rated Officials of which Miss Pickens is a member.

The girls accompanying Miss Pickens were Sherry Packard, Pat Lawson, Nancy Goodin, Mary Smith, Sheila O'Neil and Lois Handy.

The Tecumseh girl's basketball team has scheduled games with Britton, Manchester, Dundee, Hudson and possibly Catholic in Adrian and the Clinton girl's teams.

The games will be played on Monday and Thursday evenings.

"THE BRIDGE AT MORET" IS ONE OF OILS BARBIZON COLLECTION NOW ON DISPLAY AT THE TOLEDO MUSEUM

Modern Problems Are Age-Old

The problems that brought about America's big post-war rush to the suburbs aren't really new at all.

The common complaints of serious water shortage, loss of farmland to new roads, sprawling cities and industrial expansion were being heard over a century ago when the famed Barbizon school of artists was prominent in France.

Early in the 1830s the Barbizon masters turned away from the sprawling cities and suburbs and sought the quiet of rural life.

They gathered in the small village of Barbizon, some 30 miles south of Paris in the forest of Fontainebleau.

In a form of social protest, these artists left the "incredible" expansion of cities which the new industry of the Industrial Revolution was bringing about.

GATHERED together at Barbizon, they began to paint nature as they saw it in Barbizon — the rural landscape, animals and peasants of the quiet village removed from industrialization and its accompanying city growth.

Out of this movement came eight great masters whose works may be seen in the exhibition, "Barbizon Revisited: Masters of the French Landscape," which will be shown at the Toledo Museum of Art through Dec. 27.

The release from modern life provided the artists with a sense of contact with an era that was slowly slipping away. They painted animals when machines would have been a more appropriate symbol of the times.

They painted wood-gatherers and shepherds instead of industrial workers or middle-class managers, fully believing that modern industry could be spurned and that man could cling to the soil.

THEIR complaints are being echoed today. Artists wanted to get away from the city. Too many trees were being cut down. Scores of houses were being razed. Roads were ruining the beautiful countryside. Too much water was being taken from the rivers.

Today's growing disenchantment with suburbia also seems to have a parallel in Barbizon, for the Barbizon artists did not find the permanent calm and release they had expected to discover in the countryside.

Their works reflect their own wanderings throughout France and their own sense of uprootedness.

Ridgeway Gets Four New Lights

RIDGEWAY — This village has new street lights.

Work was completed by Consumers Power Co. Dec. 4, according to Robert Thompson, lineman in charge.

Four new lights went up and 11 were replaced, making a total of 15 lights in the village.

Two were placed on Ridge Hwy. on the north and south ends of the village, each with 2,500 luminaire bulbs with 189 watts.

Seven lights with 6,000 luminaire bulbs of 405 watts were placed on M-50 within the village limits.

There are two center suspension lights and the rest are hung from 12 and 16-foot brackets.

William Merrick was instrumental in getting the new lights by means of a petition of the residents.

Gustav Tiede, Ridgeway Township supervisor, said that the cost of the new lighting system will increase the tax in the village about $265 this year.

Seventy signatures were obtained on a petition from about 150 villagers to make the improvement.

The millage in Ridgeway is .00248.

In later years, $500 will be added to the taxpayers' yearly budget.

CHEVROLET... on the road every day!

ITS RELIABILITY COMES FROM ITS QUALITY

A nutshell description of Chevrolet trucks could be "Trucks That Work". It's not exactly earthshaking but it says a mouthful. It's what Chevrolet trucks are best known for—their reliability. Ready to work, day after day, whenever you are.

You can't build trucks that perform like this if you don't put quality into engine, chassis and body. Chevrolet does: double-wall construction, insulated cab, select-wood body floor, chain-supported tailgate, ladder-type frame, the careful attention to upholstery and finish. It's this kind of quality that makes any Chevrolet truck—from pickup to heavyweight tandem—worth more on the average at trade-in!

Christmas in Germany

James Beach, Kalamazoo College junior, won't be at home in Tecumseh for Christmas.

He'll be thousands of miles away—in Germany.

Studying at the University of Muenster in Germany with 22 of his classmates, he'll spend the holidays there.

Jim, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Beach, 210 Pine St., is one of 80 Kalamazoo College juniors studying in foreign university centers in Germany, England, Ecuador, Turkey, West Africa and France.

They will return to Kalamazoo in March.

The school's 840 students are enrolled in Kalamazoo's new plan for year-around education.

Features of the program include six months of study for juniors at a foreign university center, with no increase in tuition, a quarter of independent off-campus research for seniors and staggered vacation periods for both students and faculty members.

Jim will find in Germany that appearance of the Advent wreath with its four candles marks the beginning of the Christmas season. One candle is lit on each of the four Sundays of Advent.

On St. Nicholas Eve, Dec. 5, a German representing the patron saint of the day went from door to door with a sack of goodies for well-behaved children and a bundle of rods to beat the bad ones.

The day after Christmas the season known as DieZwolften (Twelfth Night) begins. New Year's Eve is the most important day in this season with much attention given to prophesying the future.

This is done by a process known as Bleigiessen. Molten lead is poured into containers of cold water and from the figures which are formed, one is supposed to be able to predict the future.

LOCAL BUSINESS

"Holiday Hegira . . ."

This term has been used by some merchants to describe the fever of some local shoppers which take them away from the local scene to do their Christmas buying.

What is accomplished when local consumers make a frantic flight to their holiday shopping 50, 75, or 100 miles away. An informal check among our friends reveals the following accomplishments:

1. Transportation costs which increase the purchase of goods by approximately 20%.
2. Loss of time approximately one full day.
3. Inability to locate desired goods in an unfamiliar shopping center.
4. Purchase of goods which can not be easily returned or serviced.
5. Exhaustion, blisters, and thinned shoe leather.
6. Prices which are often higher than local prices.

Yet, the exodus to far-away cities for Christmas buying continues this year as it has in the past. As in the past, the local merchant may not be able to understand why his customers desert him during the best of all shopping seasons.

There is an explanation for the Christmas movement away from hometown. Usually, the differential is advertising.

Metropolitan stores blanket every hamlet with detailed advertising of their Christmas offerings. Many local stores just assume that local people know they can obtain the same bargains at home.

The assumption is faulty. The Christmas shopper pre-buys largely from newspapers and catalogs. Thus, the local retailer's best defense against "Holiday Hegira" is complete advertising in the local newspaper.

Turn on Auto Lights When Sun Starts To Set

When the sun starts to set, turn on your automobile lights.

That is winter advice to motorists from James M. Hare, chairman of the Michigan State Safety Commission.

A study of urban and rural fatalities in Michigan over a five-year period shows that December is the deadliest month of the year with 10.1 percent of all traffic deaths.

"Michigan lies in a latitude where the sun sets early in winter," Mr. Hare reminded motorists. "On Christmas eve, for example, the sun drops over the horizon between 4:25 and 4:39 in the afternoon. The variation in the time of sunset is due to the difference in latitude between our southern tier of counties and the upper part of the State."

He pointed out that many December and January accidents happen in the morning when the sun rises much later than at other times of the year.

On the 45 degree North latitude, which cuts across the state on a line roughly between Alpena and Traverse City, the sun rises on New Year's morning at about 7:38.

Because of this and other factors like morning fog, the need for driving with lights on during the early hours of the day is most important.

The greatest number of fatal and injury accidents on Michigan's rural and urban roads occurs between 4 p.m. and 5 p.m. Last year 1,707 injury-death accidents took place on rural roads while 511 were suffered on streets in urban areas.

TO THE EDITORS:

I just got back from a highly successful shopping trip to Tecumseh.

Two days ago, I spent a frustrating and tiring day in downtown Detroit. I wish I had believed the ads in your paper, and done my shopping in Tecumseh first.

I spent an hour in Detroit looking for table scarves for one present. The only ones I found in Detroit, my home town, were either the wrong size or outrageously expensive.

The Watkins Shop had several rolls of lovely material for scarves, including a lace square pattern that could be cut to the exact size I wanted.

Flushed with this success, I began looking for some yarn to match some skeins. I needed the yarn to finish a Christmas project.

To my delight, the D & C Store had not only the same brand, but exactly the same shade as I had bought earlier in Detroit.

I found the merchandise available, the stores beautifully decorated, and the clerks both friendly and helpful.

I'm glad I wasn't able to finish my shopping in the "big city." It gave me a chance to find that Tecumseh, my new home, has just what I'm looking for.

Sincerely yours,
Barbara Miller

Youths Entertain Hospital Patients

By MRS. JOHN HAMILTON

Members of the Senior High Fellowship of the Presbyterian Church enjoy the unique privilege of presenting the annual Christmas-Birthday party for the youngsters at Ypsilanti State Hospital.

There are 150 patients between the ages of eight and 16 and about half of these are well enough to receive schooling.

It is to this school group that the Tecumsehites have been taking the party the first Thursday in December for the past four years.

At their regular meetings late in November, decorations and favors are designed and made by the members.

At the hospital, the Senior Highs mingle with the patients and assist in games until time to eat.

A popular menu of sloppy joes, potato chips, milk, cake, ice cream and Kool-Aid is served.

This is the only time during the year when a complete meal is brought into the hospital.

Local merchants have been generous in making donation to this project and include Ted Brooks, Dick Myers, The Kroger Co., A & P, Woolworth's, Twin Pines Dairy, Tony's Bakery and Driggs Dairy.

Each of the 26 young people who went from Tecumseh also took something.

THERE IS, of course, satisfaction in feeding institutionalized people whose regular diet is controlled by the state's austere budget.

But the real joy of the project is the personal contact between our young people and the patients who need understanding and acceptance from those "outside."

Each year this party has given significance to the Christmas activities of the Fellowship.

The group is indebted to:

► Mrs. Frederick F. Dickinson who created ideas for favors and decorations;

► Mrs. M. R. MacClain who made the sloppy joes;

► Mrs. John Quigley who is the go between and the one who inspired the project;

► Mrs. James Barton, whose assistance and good humor were essential.

► Rest of the parents whose co-operation and trust made the whole thing possible on a night when our first severe snowstorm made the roads almost impassable.

Marilyn Sundal, Thomas Price and Mr. and Mrs. John Hamilton are advisors for the group.

Wreaths Greet Ball Goers

Two huge wreaths on a coal black wall drew special praise from the crowd of about 300 attending the Annual Hospital Auxiliary ball Dec. 1 at the Tecumseh Country Club.

Red birds were perched on the traditional Christmas wreaths of green, along with other appropriate ornaments.

A sleigh owned by Tim Neill was gayly decorated by Mrs. Alton Snyder and her committee with bright colored packages and outlined in tinsel.

Spotlighted, the sleigh made a delightful scene on the lawn near the front entrance.

Guests danced to music by Ken Edwards' orchestra both before and after the midnight buffet served from a table decorated with toothpick snow trees.

Dr. and Mrs. G. B. Marsh assisted by hospital board members and their wives and other doctors and their wives served as hosts.

Mrs. Howard Furry was general chairman, with Mrs. Wilbur Andrews in charge of tickets and invitations.

Mrs. Cecile Smith and Mrs. Earl Lindsley greeted the guests at the door.

Home Tour Is Planned

BRITTON — The Mary Circle of the Britton Methodist Church is sponsoring a Christmas Tour Wednesday, Dec. 19 from 3 to 5 p.m. and 6 to 8 p.m.

The Wayne Dunbar home, the Dale Monagin home, the Clare Griffin home, the Elmer Eberhardt home and the Edward Kanous home are among those to be visited.

Tickets and maps will be available at these homes or from Mrs. Robert McWilliams, Mrs. Wayne Dunbar, Mrs. Forrest Barrett, Mrs. Andrew Crutchfield, Mrs. Dale Monagin, Mrs. Paul Frazier, Mrs. Ivan Olds, Mrs. Gerald Richards and Mrs. Edward Kanous.

Refreshments will be served at the residence.

Tipton Hours

Postmaster Thelma Swarts has announced the schedule for the Christmas season. Saturdays, Dec. 15, and Dec. 22, the post office will be open all day. Dec. 17 to 24, the office will not close during the noon hour. A dispatch of mail will be made Sundays, Dec. 16 and 23, at 11:30 a.m.

Insurance Agencies Merge

A new insurance agency has been formed at the result of a merger between Tecumseh and Adrian firms.

Lenawee Underwriters, Inc. came into being Dec. 1, when King-Roberts Agency of Tecumseh merged with the Ron Hartung Agency of Adrian.

Four months earlier, King-Roberts had purchased the Moran Insurance Agency of Adrian.

Officers of the new corporation are:

President—Delbert E. King

Vice-president — Ronald R. Hartung

Secretary and treasurer—Gerald C. Roberts

The new agency will have offices and at 913 S. Main St., in here and at 913 S. Main St. in Adrian.

Specializing in personal, commercial and industrial insurance appraisals and analysis, the amalgamation was made so that "the public could be better served," explained Mr. Roberts.

The agency represents 10 leading insurance companies, which write policies on a wide variety of items.

Harry D. Moran, who formerly owned the agency under his name, will continue active with the new organization.

Persons Who Have Gone to Farmers Week Since 1932 Are Being Sought

Farmers' Week at Michigan State University has been an annual event on the Michigan State University campus for nearly half a century.

The 1963 week which will run from Jan. through Feb. 1 will be the 48th.

Only a handfull of persons have attended all of these programs through the years — but many have been coming regularly for more than 30 years.

Leaders planning this year's event are interested in learning the names of people who have visited the campus over the past three decades.

A special luncheon honoring all who have attended for 30 years or more will be held as a feature event of the week on Jan. 30, 1963.

Prof. E. B. Hill of MSU's Department of Agricultural Economics heads plans for the "30-Year Club" event. Hill is interested in building a mailing list of persons who first attended Farmers' Week more than 30 years ago and have attended most of them since that time.

He asks that all who qualify should send their names to him: Agricultural Hall, MSU, East Lansing, also to The Herald.

All attenders of the week who are eligible for the club will be invited to the luncheon to be held at the MSU Union.

1,000 Miles of Freeways

Opening of the 1,000th mile of Michigan freeway on Dec. 12 makes it possible for motorists to drive those thousand miles three times as safely, and in two-thirds the time required on the roads they replaced, Automobile Club of Michigan said today.

"This is a milestone in Michigan highway building comparable to the first mile of concrete road in the United States or our first 5-year, $50,000,000 road building program, adopted in 1919, aimed at getting the state out of the mud,' said Fred N. Rehm, Auto Club general manager.

The first mile of concrete highway poured in this country was on Woodward Avenue, in Detroit, between Six and Seven Mile Roads, and was completed in 1909.

"These freeways now make it possible to drive from Detroit to Muskegon in less than three hours, a trip formerly consuming at least four hours.

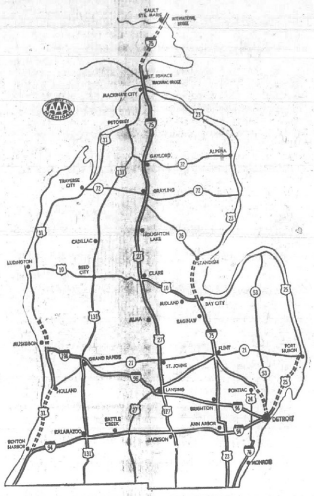
"The trip from Detroit to New Buffalo has been cut from five to 3½ hours, and the drive from the Michigan-Ohio boundary to Mackinaw City has been reduced from eight to 5½ hours.

"The other links in the freeway network have cut driving times between other points in the state by similar margins."

What this means, said Mr. Rehm, is that motorists now have easy access to the entire state, something that will spur the economic and tourist development of Michigan as have few other single things in the past.

"Unquestionably there will be some local dislocations of business because of the new routes and limited access to and from them," said Mr. Rehm, "but this should be temporary in nature.

"The tourist industry and the development of the state as a whole was made possible because the public was enabled to move about freely and rapidly, and this will continue as the public finds greater mobility on these freeways."



FREEWAY SYSTEM — Michigan's rapidly expanding freeway system (double lines) is shown lacing the state together in this special map from Automobile Club of Michigan. The new 160-mile-long Detroit-Muskegon Freway, I-96, contains the 1,000th mile of freeway in the state. Together with I-94, the Chicago Road, it connects eastern and western shores of Michigan. The still-abuilding I-75 runs up the center of the state, temporarily utilizing portions of US-23, US-10 and US-27. Also shown are the completed portions of other state freeways, together with some of the older trunk highways (single lines).

Tecumseh area children may talk directly with Santa Claus on the telephone by calling HA 3-7471.

The Tecumseh Jaycee Auxiliary, assisted by donations from the Retail Division of the Chamber of Commerce and the VFW Auxiliary, has succeeded in sewing a new suit for Santa Claus.

Jaycee seamstresses were in a dither because although the suit was complete, beard and wig had not arrived for his appearance Friday.

The necessary articles were borrowed from a local church group and Santa arrived on schedule.

Mrs. Dwight Helms of the Auxiliary said Monday that beard and wig have been promised for this weekend.

Youths Entertain Hospital Patients

By MRS. JOHN HAMILTON

Members of the Senior High Fellowship of the Presbyterian Church enjoy the unique privilege of presenting the annual Christmas-Birthday party for the youngsters at Ypsilanti State Hospital.

There are 150 patients between the ages of eight and 16 and about half of these are well enough to receive schooling.

It is to this school group that the Tecumsehites have been taking the party the first Thursday in December for the past four years.

At their regular meetings late in November, decorations and favors are designed and made by the members.

At the hospital, the Senior Highs mingle with the patients and assist in games until time to eat.

A popular menu of sloppy joes, potato chips, milk, cake, ice cream and Kool-Aid is served.

This is the only time during the year when a complete meal is brought into the hospital.

Local merchants have been generous in making donation to this project and include Ted Brooks, Dick Myers, The Kroger Co., A & P, Woolworth's, Twin Pines Dairy, Tony's Bakery and Driggs Dairy.

Each of the 26 young people who went from Tecumseh also took something.

THERE IS, of course, satisfaction in feeding institutionalized people whose regular diet is controlled by the state's austere budget.

But the real joy of the project is the personal contact between our young people and the patients who need understanding and acceptance from those "outside."

Each year this party has given significance to the Christmas activities of the Fellowship.

The group is indebted to:

► Mrs. Frederick F. Dickinson who created ideas for favors and decorations;

► Mrs. M. R. MacClain who made the sloppy joes;

► Mrs. John Quigley who is the go between and the one who inspired the project;

► Mrs. James Barton, whose assistance and good humor were essential.

► Rest of the parents whose co-operation and trust made the whole thing possible on a night when our first severe snowstorm made the roads almost impassable.

Marilyn Sundal, Thomas Price and Mr. and Mrs. John Hamilton are advisors for the group.

Wreaths Greet Ball Goers

Two huge wreaths on a coal black wall drew special praise from the crowd of about 300 attending the Annual Hospital Auxiliary ball Dec. 1 at the Tecumseh Country Club.

Red birds were perched on the traditional Christmas wreaths of green, along with other appropriate ornaments.

A sleigh owned by Tim Neill was gayly decorated by Mrs. Alton Snyder and her committee with bright colored packages and outlined in tinsel.

Spotlighted, the sleigh made a delightful scene on the lawn near the front entrance.

Guests danced to music by Ken Edwards' orchestra both before and after the midnight buffet served from a table decorated with toothpick snow trees.

Dr. and Mrs. R. G. B. Marsh assisted by hospital board members and their wives and other doctors and their wives served as hosts.

Mrs. Howard Furry was general chairman, with Mrs. Wilbur Andrews in charge of tickets and invitations.

Mrs. Cecile Smith and Mrs. Earl Lindsley greeted the guests at the door.

Home Tour Is Planned

BRITTON — The Mary Circle of the Britton Methodist Church is sponsoring a Christmas Tour Wednesday, Dec. 19 from 3 to 5 p.m. and 6 to 8 p.m.

Tickets and maps will be available at these homes or from Mrs. Robert McWilliams, Mrs. Wayne Dunbar, Mrs. Forrest Barrett, Mrs. Andrew Crutchfield, Mrs. Dale Monagin, Mrs. Paul Frazier, Mrs. Ivan Olds, Mrs. Gerald Richards and Mrs. Edward Kanous.

Refreshments will be served at the residence.

Tipton Hours

Insurance Agencies Merge

A new insurance agency has been formed at the result of a merger between Tecumseh and Adrian firms.

Lenawee Underwriters, Inc. came into being Dec. 1, when King-Roberts Agency of Tecumseh merged with the Ron Hartung Agency of Adrian.

Four months earlier, King-Roberts had purchased the Moran Insurance Agency of Adrian.

Officers of the new corporation are:

President—Delbert E. King

Vice-president — Ronald R. Hartung

Secretary and treasurer—Gerald C. Roberts

The new agency will have offand at 913 S. Main St., in here and at 913 S. Main St. in Adrian.

Specializing in personal, commercial and industrial insurance appraisals and analysis, the amalgamation was made so that "the public could be better served," explained Mr. Roberts.

The agency represents 10 leading insurance companies, which write policies on a wide variety of items.

Persons Who Have Gone to Farmers Week Since 1932 Are Being Sought

Farmers' Week at Michigan State University has been an annual event on the Michigan State University campus for nearly half a century.

The 1963 week which will run from Jan. through Feb. 1 will be the 48th.

Only a handfull of persons have attended all of these programs through the years — but many have been coming regularly for more than 30 years.

Leaders planning this year's event are interested in learning the names of people who have visited the campus over the past three decades.

A special luncheon honoring all who have attended for 30 years or more will be held as a feature event of the week on Jan. 30, 1963.

Prof. E. B. Hill of MSU's Department of Agricultural Economics heads plans for the "30-Year Club" event. Hill is interested in building a mailing list of persons who first attended Farmers' Week more than 30 years ago and have attended most of them since that time.

He asks that all who qualify should send their names to him: Agricultural Hall, MSU, East Lansing, also to The Herald.

All attenders of the week who are eligible for the club will be invited to the luncheon to be held at the MSU Union.

1,000 Miles of Freeways

Opening of the 1,000th mile of Michigan freeway on Dec. 12 makes it possible for motorists to drive those thousand miles three times as safely, and in two-thirds the time required on the roads they replaced, Automobile Club of Michigan said today.

"This is a milestone in Michigan highway building comparable to the first mile of concrete road in the United States or our first 5-year, $50,000,000 road building program, adopted in 1919, aimed at getting the state out of the mud," said Fred N. Rehm, Auto Club general manager.

The first mile of concrete highway poured in this country was on Woodward Avenue, in Detroit, between Six and Seven Mile Roads, and was completed in 1909.

"These freeways now make it possible to drive from Detroit to Muskegon in less than three hours, a trip formerly consuming at least four hours.

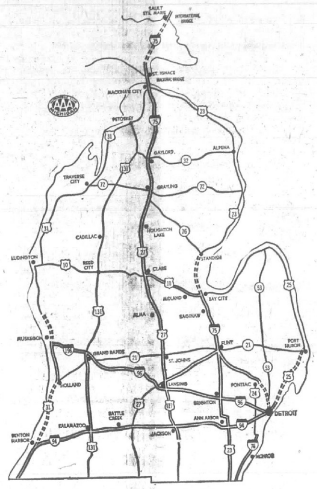
"The trip from Detroit to New Buffalo has been cut from five to 3½ hours, and the drive from the Michigan-Ohio boundary to Mackinaw City has been reduced from eight to 5½ hours.

"The other links in the freeway network have cut driving times between other points in the state by similar margins."

What this means, said Mr. Rehm, is that motorists now have easy access to the entire state, something that will spur the economic and tourist development of Michigan as have few other single things in the past.

"Unquestionably there will be some local dislocations of business because of the new routes and limited access to and from them," said Mr. Rehm, "but this should be temporary in nature.

"The tourist industry and the development of the state as a whole was made possible because the public was enabled to move about freely and rapidly, and this will continue as the public finds greater mobility on these freeways."



FREEWAY SYSTEM — Michigan's rapidly expanding freeway system (double lines) is shown lacing the state together in this special map from Automobile Club of Michigan. The new 160-mile-long Detroit-Muskegon Freway, I-96, contains the 1,000th mile of freeway in the state. Together with I-94, the Chicago Road, it connects eastern and western shores of Michigan. The still-abuilding I-75 runs up the center of the state, temporarily utilizing portions of US-23, US-10 and US-27. Also shown are the completed portions of other state freeways, together with some of the older trunk highways (single lines).

Guests included the younger Mrs. Crawford's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Heeman of Tecumseh, the Arthur Crawfords and Mrs. Charles Duckworth.

Mr. Crawford, employed by an East Lansing travel bureau, plans to continue his schooling at M-SU, working toward a master's degree.

Santa Has Telephone in Town

Tecumseh area children may talk directly with Santa Claus on the telephone by calling HA 3-7471.

The Tecumseh Jaycee Auxiliary, assisted by donations from the Retail Division of the Chamber of Commerce and the VFW Auxiliary, has succeeded in sewing a new suit for Santa Claus.

Jaycee seamstresses were in a dither because although the suit was complete, beard and wig had not arrived for his appearance Friday.

The necessary articles were borrowed from a local church group and Santa arrived on schedule.

Mrs. Dwight Helms of the Auxiliary said Monday that beard and wig have been promised for this weekend.

Candidates interested in applying for these scholarships should request forms from the departmental office, Anthony Hall, MSU, East Lansing.

'Dimes' Are Spent Here

BRITTON — Lenawee County polio patients have received $370,221.32 in aid from the March of Dimes campaigns conducted here from 1938 to 1961.

This is 91 per cent of the $406,470.04 collected in the county during this period, with the remainder kept by national headquarters for research and other expenses.

Although more than $200,000 was sent to the national offices, all but $36,253.62 was returned for use by the local chapter.

These are some of the facts learned Dec. 3 when six persons from Ridgeway Township attended a March of Dimes meeting in Adrian.

They were Mrs. Glen Gripton, Mrs. Herman Bates, Mrs. Paul Rowlands, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Davilla and Mrs. Elizabeth Spohr, township chairman.

Mrs. Davilla was introduced as a new member of the county board.

In the 25 years March of Dimes campaigns have been held, polio has changed from a dread national scourge to a disease almost totally conquerable.

March of Dimes funds still are used to care for polio patients and the therapy equipment they need, but the National Foundation now has turned to a fight against birth defects, arthritis and other crippling diseases.

Those at the Adrian meeting viewed a film on March of Dimes. The film, and speakers, will be available to interested organizations any time after Jan. 2.

The Lenawee County financial statement for the past five years was given as:

Year	Patients Assisted	Cost
1957	307	$49,224.38
1958	209	12,721.47
1959	209	10,131.20
1960	82	13,304.83
1961	82	7,947.57
Total for Past Five Years		$93,324.45
Unpaid Bills held by Chapter Dec. 31, 1961		7,335.30

Ohio Samaritans Aid Standard Motorists

BRITTON — Dick Cadmus of Clinton and Paul Rowlands were among the thousands of motorists and truck drivers marooned in Ohio last Friday and Saturday because of snowbound roads.

Mr. Cadmus and Mr. Rowlands were fortunate to be taken in by a young couple, Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Beigh, and share the warmth of their home and food. In the home with them were two young truck drivers who were also stranded.

In the next farm home were 20 stranded motorists, including a seven-month-old baby, and the five-member family of the owner.

Traffic was lined up for miles on state route 23 near Fostoria. A large semi-tractor and trailer skidded across the highway making it impassible.

In a few hours the driving winds had piled snow drifts as high as five feet, stranding the motorists. Red Cross units set up emergency kitchens and sleeping areas. Four cities were closed to traffic in northern Ohio.

George and Barry Brablec and Lee Taylor flew over the vicinity of the line-up and landed in Findlay. Mr. Rowlands was transported to Findlay Saturday afternoon and returned home by plane.

Mr. Cadmus stayed with the trucks and late Saturday evening farmers in the vicinity had removed enough snow to enable the cars and trucks to be moved.

Big Brittons Beat Bulldogs

BRITTON — The Tories downed a tough Summerfield team Friday night 65-45.

The Tories were unable to hit in the first half, but with a strong defense were able to hold the Bulldogs until the big guns of Britton found the range.

Coach Sam Hamilton said this was one of the big games for Britton. He was well pleased with the Britton defense and their second-half comeback.

The Tories defense of Tom Komon, Fred McCrate, Phil Benedict, and Ken Southwell kept the big-scoring front line of Summerfield consisting of Goodin, Tripplet, and Fisher to a total of 32 points, with most of these coming in the fourth quarter.

Ron Mastie and Pepper Griewahn's out shooting kept the Bulldogs from laying back on the Torie front line.

SUMMERFIELD'S reserve squad walloped the Britton reserves 80-26.

Britton will play three games in the next week, Friday here with Adrian Catholic Central, at Dundee Saturday and at Ida Tuesday.

The Tories have the only undefeated team in the River Raisin Conference. Whiteford is 2-0 in the league, but lost a non-conference game.

Summerfield, Deerfield and Sand Creek are all 1-1 in the league, but the first two also have won non-league games for 2-1 overall.

Adrian CC lost one league game, and won a non-conference tilt. Ida is down one game, a league contest, and Boysville has been blanked in its two league games.

Jaycees Have Wives as Guests

Tecumseh Jaycees held their annual Wives Night Thursday at the Tecumseh Country Club with 47 present.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Packard were honored guests. President Richard Creswell expressed the gratitude of the Jaycees to Mr. Packard for the time and effort he has used to repair toys for distribution to needy families at Christmas time.

Mr. Packard responded by telling the group that he had done himself a favor, since his physical well-being has been much improved since he started the work.

Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Newton and Mr. and Mrs. Arlis Spivey.

Mrs. Richard Creswell, auxiliary president, presented the Jaycees with a stand for the Jaycee banner. It was designed and made by Dwight Helms.

LEGENDS AND TRADITIONS

Just imagine, Christmas is only twelve days away! My, where does the time go? Without a doubt this is the busiest time of the whole year but let's take a minute or two and think about a few of the 'whys'. Christmas is a time of traditional things; shall we go into some of the legends?

Christmas trees—so beautiful and exciting, all shiny and sparkling—they are surrounded with as many legends as they are decorated with ornaments.

One of the most familiar, to us at least, concerns the poor woodcutter and his family. It was a stormy Christmas Eve but they were happily celebrating with little more than family love and a cheerful fire when suddenly there was a knock at the door of their small forest cottage.

Standing on the threshold was a small child, hungry, dressed in rags and shivering with the cold. The family welcomed the stranger and their evening was all the happier for being able to share it with one who had even less than they.

IN THE MORNING they were awakened by the sweet singing of an angel choir. Their visitor was now wearing not ragged clothes, but regal robes and a halo.

They recognized and worshipped the Christ Child. By way of saying thank you, He broke a twig from a nearby tree, and put it in the ground; the twig immediately grew into a large, beautiful green tree.

"I have gladly received your gifts, and this is my gift to you. Henceforward, this tree shall always bear its fruit at Christmas, and you shall always have abundance."

Thus we decorate our trees till they are gay and magical. Symbolically of course the star at the top of our tree represents the star of Bethlehem or if we use an angel, it stands for the many angels associated with the birth of the Savior.

Another Christmas tree story is set at the manager-side in that small Holy City nestled in the Judean hills.

It was the first Christmas night and all the trees had come to pay homage to the Babe. They had come from all over the world and among the gigantic redwoods, the lovely magnolias, the tall cedars, the palms and so forth, a tiny fir from the far North was completely overshadowed.

Actually it seemed that the other trees did their best to hide the little fir from the Infant. Suddenly, however the stars began to fall and as each came down it caught upon the pointed, outstretched arms of the little evergreen.

Soon it was ablaze with light and that is another story of the beginning of the Christmas tree.

OF ALL THE plants and flowers the poinsettia is, far and away, the most popular at this time of year. It's story is old and sacred.

In Cuernauaca, Mexico it was the custom to have a manger in every church and chapel and every Christmas Eve the peasants brought flowers to decorate the Infant's Crib.

One Christmas Eve a small, sad-eyed girl grieved that she had no flowers to take to the Christ Child.

As she sat by the roadside crying an Angel appeared and told her, "Lovely Child, weep no more. Go pluck a weed from the roadside, bring it to the altar and wait."

With absolute faith she did as the angel bid and lo, the moment the weeds were placed they were transformed into the flaming scarlet poinsettias we know today. No wonder they are such a beloved Christmas flower.

By the way, the name Poinsettia is derived from our first Minister to Mexico, Joel R. Poinsett. He discovered the "weed", brought it back to this country and leading botanists honored him by calling it the poinsettia. So it is that this is the time of year to enjoy the Christmas legends and traditions.

NEXT WEEK:
Merry Christmas

St. Peter's Demolition Postponed

Heavy snow and high winds postponed demolition of old St. Peter's until at least next week.

Tentative schedule for the project was that it would start this week.

Aldridge Construction Co. of Adrian has been contracted for the job.

"We'll have to wait until the heavy wind and snow blows over" explained Harley Aldridge, who added that such weather makes a wrecking job too dangerous.

Four men will handle the work, knocking down the building in sections and sawing it into pieces.

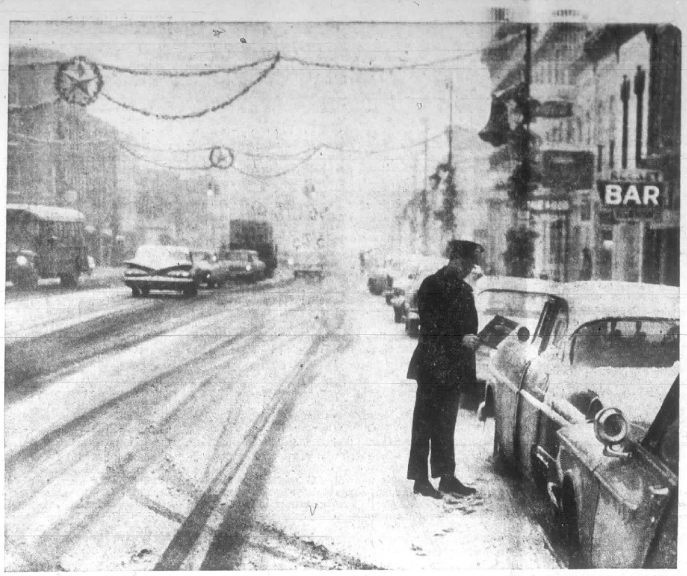
Mr. Aldridge said the spectacular wrecking tool—the giant steel ball—will not be used.

Once underway, the dismantling job will take about 10 days.

Aldridge Construction has considerable background in the field of wrecking.

The firm has handled jobs for the University of Michigan and has done considerable work around Adrian for various chain stores and oil companies. It handled demolition of 10 homes to make way for the erection of Catholic Central High School.

Mr. Aldridge said that a crane will probably have to be used to remove the pillars, which are to be sold. He will also salvage the pews for re-sale.



DUTIES CONTINUE — The weather wasn't fit for walking outdoors, but that couldn't halt Tecumseh Policeman Donald Rodehaver, whose work had to continue despite the snowstorm. Here he counsels an out-of-town driver on road conditions. Many drivers had considerable backing and hauling to do before they could move their cars from curbside drifts.

VOLUME 112 — ONE HUNDRED THIRTEENTH YEAR — NUMBER 11 | TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 20, 1962 | 18 PAGES — TEN CENTS A COPY

Long and Short

By TOM RIORDAN

Sincere good wishes to all our readers for Christmas 1962.

Well, I suppose it's time to start thinking about Christmas cards.

Why should this year be any different? No sense in rushing the project.

My type is the one that drives the post office employees daffy. A couple of hundred cards, dumped through the windows a day or two before Christmas.

If they're not delivered before the holiday, our type gets all hot under the collar and threatens dire things, such as refusing to pay our taxes because of the lousey postal service.

But, you know, the post office gang usually gets the job done on time and we're happy — they're weary.

On the subject of Christmas cards, it's interesting to note that the religious theme is running ahead of the field, that at times includes cats, dogs, etc.

It's a genuine thrill getting cards from all around the land, especially when an old friend takes the time to jot down a few lines about the past year.

The cards with pictures of the kids are grand, but it tends to make us feel a trifle ancient when those we remember being tiny tots are suddenly husky teen agers.

Remember during the busy holiday to pause a moment and recall whose birthday the day commemorates.

Children definitely live through cycles—a happy year, then a sad year, a gay year, then a fretful one.

A grandmom in town told me about the phase her nine-year-old grandson is laboring through. It's mostly bad.

The boy is forever fighting with his sister or running to his room pouting.

Recently, grammie took the pair with her when she went for a doctor's appointment.

A battle royal insued in the reception room and the frantic elder said she was ready to toss both of them into the snow.

Afterwards she tried to help shape up the lad, who stood quietly at attention as she read the riot act.

She ended up asking him, "Why can't you be a good boy?"

With a straight face, he flipped open his coat, like the secret service, revealing a large campaign-type button pinned on the lining.

It read: "I was born to raise hell."

Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus.

And there are a lot of gift possibilities still left in Tecumseh shops.

So feel free to get downtown this weekend.

Stores will be open until 9 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings.

If you plan to put off your gifting until the day before Christmas (like me), remember that shops close at 5:30 that night so that storemen and their employees might get home and prepare for their holiday.

"We heartily endorse the proposed plan to use balance of 'Save St. Peter's' fund to purchase much needed books for Tecumseh Library."

This was a message from Clara Waldron and Gladys E. Pearson.

Another reader, Mrs. Hal Tuckerman, 515 Nokomis St., paid a personal call to underline her approval of the idea.

Others have said they'd like to see the remaining $900 used for this purpose.

Hospital Group Plans Card Date

Members of the Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary made tray favors for Christmas for patients at the hospital when they met Dec. 11.

Mrs. Robert Vaillancourt and Mrs. Robert Aten were hostesses.

The annual card parties will be scheduled the last Wednesday in January. Proceeds will be used for the auxiliary's landscaping project for the hospital.

Chairmen are Mrs. Carlton Cook and Mrs. Richard Hammel.

Anyone desiring to give a party or work on any committee may call one of the chairmen.

WRECKING BAR PRIES OFF SECTION OF ROOF

St. Peter's Landmark Replaced by New Modern Church

Under leaden skies, the project began Monday. Wrecking bars bit into the old shingles, snapped off chunks of siding.

The dismantling of 129-year-old St. Peter's Episcopal Church was underway. It will be completed before the end of the year.

Aldrich Construction Co. of Adrian is being paid $800 for the job and has all salvage rights. A four-man crew is handling the chore.

Since the Parish Hall is connected to the old building, great care must be taken in the wrecking job. The demolition is practically a board-by-board operation.

ADDITIONAL PHOTO ON NEXT PAGE

Much of the wood and shingles are crumbling, but the giant oak beams, hand hewed and wooden-pegged together, are as solid as concrete. One of the crew, Herbert Schultz of Adrian, mused, "This is a rough job. The fellows who put this building up apparently never intended that it come down."

WCTU Gives to Youths at Center

A $10 Christmas gift for children at the Lenawee County Youth Center was made Dec. 11 by the Tecumseh Women's Christian Temperance Union.

The group presented the gift to Harold Tsche, director of the center, who spoke at the meeting.

He told of the problems some of the boys at the center had faced, and read an effective poem, "Don't Blame the Children."

Some 30 members and guests attended the meeting, in the festively decorated home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Everhart.

Topical information was presented by Mrs. Floyd Bryan and Mrs. Wilfred Waldron. Mrs. Emma Day presented the scripture reading and meditation.

Christmas selections of music and prose were presented by Mrs. Ashley Chase, Mrs. Nobel Gregg, Mrs. Perry Hayden, Mrs. Maynard Mulvaney, Mrs. Waldron, Mrs. Paul Brantingham and Mrs. Gordon Gove.

Mrs. Waldron was in charge of the musical portions, and Mrs. Raynor VanValkenberg was program chairman.

Final Drawing for $50 Friday

Last call — for those interested in winning $50.

The fourth and final weekly drawing for a prize of $50 will be held Friday evening at 8.

It will take place in front of the D&C.

This Christmas promotion is being staged by 24 Tecumseh merchants, whose full-page ad can be seen inside.

At last week's event, four coupons were selected before a winner was present.

Taking the $50 worth of script was Mrs. Jack Puffer, 620 N. Union St.

"It sure came in handy," exclaims Mrs. Puffer, who has been busy spending her winnings on Christmas gifts.

Not present when their names were called were George W. Hunter, 208 W. Logan St., H. A. Everhart, 306 E. Kilbuck St., and Margaret Thilo.

In addition to the big prize, a dozen other merchandise awards were given by Gambles and Woolworth's.

Hospital Hikes Rates

By JIM LINCOLN

Increases in room costs at Herrick Memorial Hospital, effective Jan. 1, were approved by Council Monday night, along with salary raises for personnel there.

Council, accepting the hospital report, raised the cost of:

► Ward from $12.50 to $14 per day.

► Semi-private, $15.50 to $17.

► Private, $18.50 to $20.

In the report, the hospital board told Councilmen that the increase in services would cover the salary adjustments and a loss to be experienced this year.

Registered nurses on the staff were given pay increases amounting to $8 per month each six months for four years. Starting salary was raised from $350 to $366 per month.

Part-time registered nurses on the staff were hiked from $16.50 to $18 per day.

Aides, maids, orderlies, desk clerks and personnel in the maintenance, office, kitchen, laboratory, X-ray and laundry departments were granted salary increases of $10 per month.

A motion to table the hospital report until Councilmen had more time to study the increase in costs and salary adjustments was defeated.

The hospital board also awarded a painting bid to Bob Brooks for decorating several rooms at the hospital.

Action for a generator plant was delayed until a written reply from the fire marshal's office was received.

IN OTHER action, Council:

► Approved a city-gift of $10 to each city employee.

► Closed city hall Monday, Dec. 24.

► Approved third reading and adoption of ordinances pertaining to on-street burning, parking on streets, and an amendment to the water ordinance.

► Gave an ordinance governing electrical installation its first reading.

► Approved investigating possibilities of having new city employees undergo a physical examination.

► Authorized purchase of a $971 pump for the sewage disposal plant.

Police Nab Young Gun Wielder Here

Tecumseh police, county sheriff's department and the State Police combined early Wednesday morning to end a brief escapade here of two youths.

They broke into the Whelan Implement Co. on Logan St., Jerry's Market on the Tecumseh-Clinton Rd. and Harry Richard's oil station, just north of Tecumseh on Allen Rd.

Held at Sheriff Robert Stites jail in Adrian are Gerald Dean Karpo, 20, 12920 Tipton Hwy., and Omer L. Vereeke, 18, of Grand Rapids.

Both youths have been in trouble with law before, according to the police, with Karpo serving time in Jackson and in California.

Police Chief Murell Clark reports the two youths first entered Whelan's shortly after midnight, took a few dollars, then went to Jerry's Market where they reportedly stole liquor, wine and a gun.

They were then traced to the Richard oil station, where they broke a window to enter.

ERNIE TOPPS, employee, surprised the two shortly after 8 a.m. when he opened the front door.

Vereeke was intoxicated and

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG

May you have the gladness of Christmas which is Hope,
The Spirit of Christmas
which is Peace,
The Heart of Christmas
which is Love.

This is my Christmas wish to you. Cards are arriving at The Tecumseh Herald office from many areas. One especially nice one was received from the Lenawee County Health Department.

Hand made, it not only sends greetings, but denotes that the old addage "An ounce of prevention is worth more than a pound of cure as far as tuberculosis is concerned."

A colored etching of an angel with gold halo and wings is manning a huge hypodermic needle aimed at curing "Mr. T. B. Germ" depicted by a red devil with a green face.

Comic and delightfully made, it certainly helped to take the sting out of all those shots and scratches we had last fall.

Another card, Herald employees were pleased to receive, came from Donald McCrate in the Navy at Great Lakes, Ill.

SN DON McCRATE

A picture of the Madonna and Child fronted the message which told of his appreciation for the paper, especially the Briton page.

Cards are a joy filled tradition in America.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Brown Jr. and family left Tuesday for Malibou, Calif. to spend the holidays with his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. James Murray, and family. They arrived Friday as did Mr. Brown's father, L. E. Brown, Sr. from Florida who came by jet.

Garbage Collector Criticized

Acme Hauling, local garbage and trash collector, again came under severe criticism Monday night at Council when reports indicated poor service and the issuance of early bills to patrons.

Councilmen reported complaints from citizens that their trash or garbage had been missed repeatedly. One patron had not had service since Thanksgiving.

City officials, fearing that Acme may not be able to fulfill its agreement with the city, planned to consult with the firm about its service and ability to continue its contract.

Acme and the city have a contract which expires October 1963.

Bob Holmes Returning on Friday

Nineteen-year-old Bob Holmes is returning home Friday from Calhoun, Ga., accompanied by his step-mother.

Bob will be released Thursday by Calhoun-Gordon County officials, who reduced a 22-day sentence imposed on the youth Monday.

His step-mother, Mrs. Florence Holmes, 124 S. Ottawa St., was accompanied to Calhoun Monday by Bob's brother, Garland Holmes, 812 River Acres Dr., and sister, Mrs. Robert Baird, 114 W. Patterson St.

Bob received a jail sentence for mis informing Georgia law officers, reporting that he had been abducted in Tecumseh Sunday morning and forced at gun point to accompany his assailant on the 780-mile junket.

He said he was able to escape in the city of Calhoun.

Later, when questioned by FBI officers, he admitted making up the tale.

Law officers traced his steps and nabbed him on the old N. Adrian Hwy., just south of US-12.

Karpo dropped the gun in a field, where it was recovered, shortly before he was picked up by the sheriff's officers.

Clark said Karpo had not admitted the break-ins Wednesday morning, although he was identified by Topps. Vereeke still was not in condition to be questioned late Wednesday morning.

Crop Funds Are Needed by Dec. 31

All groups making a contribution to CROP are asked to send it to Willis Moore, CROP treasurer, Court House, Adrian, before Dec. 31, so that all money on hand at the year's end can be forwarded to the State CROP office in Lansing.

The National Chairman of CROP, Albert Farmer, recently had this to say, "Not because we have much, but because we love much, we are working together in this worldwide fellowship of suffering and sharing.

"Out of the abundance of our hearts even more than out of the abundance of our harvests, we rejoice in hope for all mankind."

"Only through the cooperation of the churches, farm organizations, youth groups, service clubs and hundreds of individuals can a CROP campaign succeed," added the county chairman, Robert Ries of Tecumseh.

250 Attend Rotary Club Yule Party

About 250 attended the Rotary dinner-dance Saturday evening at the Tecumseh Country Club when the Tecumseh Club entertained members from Saline and Clinton clubs.

President Hugh Walter greeted the guests and fine masters Harold Easton, and those from the visiting clubs provided fun for everyone.

Former District Governor, Gene Olsen from Adrian, was among the distinguished guests.

A quartette from Jackson provided dinner music. Later Bonnie Mattis called for square dancing. Music was played by Fred Betz and his orchestra from Ann Arbor.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Bordine and their family in costume provided a program of musical solos and ensembles.

New Tecumseh Bride Meets Her Neighbors

By ALMINA HUNT

Mrs. Elmer Spreeman entertained at a coffee hour Thursday honoring her new daughter-in-law, lovely, little Yoshiko Spreeof her Japanese kimono.

Four neighboring women were fascinated by the lovely bride's explanation and demonstration of her Japanese kimmono.

Yoshi did not don the complete ensemble, since she's always been assisted by her mother and it requires an hour's time to tie the obi, or sash.

This will be Yoshi's first Christmas. She is enthusiastically helping the Spreemans with the magnificent decorating which they do each year.

YOSHI is the bride of four months of Charles Spreeman, who was stationed in Okinawa for a year while in the U.S. Marine Corps.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Spreeman of 9631 Murphy Hwy.

His bride is the daughter of Tokuei and Tomi Arume and was born in Fukuoka, Japan.

The family moved to Okinawa when Yoshi was two years old. She is the oldest of the family of five sisters and one brother.

CHARLES met Yoshi when he was a cook in the Marine mess hall in Okinawa. She was a waitress.

He thought she fitted her name well — "Yoshi" means "very nice" and ko" is a general ending meaning girl".

Yoshi soon returned to school to learn English. With her new friend's tutoring, she picked up the language rapidly.

The Marine Corps had another job for Chuck. He was transferred to Thailand, then back to the U.S. But as soon as his four-year enlistment expired, he returned to Okinawa and to the waiting Yoshi. They were married on Okinawa, then honeymooned in Tokyo and the Hawaiian Islands before coming to Tecumseh.

THEY BROUGHT many mementoes and gifts, along with slides of their journey.

The couple will live with his parents until Yoshi becomes more accustomed to American ways.

The 22-year-old, 5 foot 2 inch bride is delighted with her new home entering into all phases of mid-western living. She even took a hand at shoveling snow, after the delight of her first snowfall.

Her husband is employed by the federal government, presently at the Harvey Aluminum Corp. plant in Adrian.

VOLUNTEERS — Donna Nixon of Tecumseh (c enter) volunteered to teach an early-morning French class at a Jackson school. Medical School Accepts Ralph Ralph Helzerman, son of Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Helzerman of 612 W. Chicago Blvd., has been accepted for the fall term of 1963 at the University of Michigan Medical School.

By maintaining a 3.3 average he was able to apply at the end of three years rather than the usual four.

Ralph is expected home Thursday for the Christmas holiday.

Lessons Halted

Party Bridge at the Tecumseh Community Center has been discontinued until Jan. 7 when a class of beginners will start.

Anyone wishing to enroll in the class may do so by calling Mrs. L. B. Milheim HA 3-3044.

Young Mothers Have Exhange

Mrs. Anito Sciatto of Chelsea was a guest Dec. 12 when 19 members of the Young Mothers Club met at the home of Mrs. Bob Schiller.

A gift exchange from beneath a decorated tree revealed secret pals. The home was gaily decorated.

Mrs. Jerry Tomecek was enhostess.

A card game was played following the brief business meeting.

The January meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Russell Johnston, 707 Occidental Hwy., with Mrs. Curtis Rendel assisting.

M. Edward Sergent is Tecumseh High School's new teacher of sociology, world history and American history. Mr. Sergent is a graduate of Michigan State University and taught in Bay City before coming to Tecumseh.

French Class Delights Both Students, Parents

Donna Nixon, has started something she can't finish.

Donna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Nixon of Tecumseh, is a student at Michigan State University. For the last few months, she was a student. In addition to her regular classroom duties, she organized a French class for 26 fifth and sixth graders.

The children reported to school a half-hour early for this volunteer class. Four mornings a week the eager children learned words and phrases with a speed astonishing to their parents.

But the student teaching assignment ended with the MSU semester last week, and Donna left Jackson.

Principal Garland Raper said regretfully that it would be nearly impossible to find a replacement for Donna. Disappointed parents were searching the community for a new teacher, according to an article in the Jackson Citizen Patriot.

The only formal French training Donna has had was her two years of French classes at Tecumseh High School. "I certainly have learned as much as the students have," the Jackson paper quotes her as saying. Her education specialty is social science.

Group Convenes

Monday evening about 18 leaders of the Tecumseh Neighborhood of the Irish Hills Girl Scout Council held a potluck dinner at the scout cabin with tables decorated in the Christmas theme.

Mrs. George Halberstadt demonstrated making Christmas ornaments and decorations.

Indians Rout Airport

Holiday Tournament Opens Dec. 27

Tecumseh routed Airport last Friday night, 79-51, for the Indians second victory and Huron League win of the season.

Junior center Jerry Hebb paced the local scorers with 21 points. Norm Tucker and Jack Dick each tallied 12.

Coach Doug Murdoch's cagers broke the game wide open in the third stanza when they outscored the Jets, 21-11, for a 19-point lead entering the final quarter.

Tecumseh encounters Blissfield in the first game of the holiday tourney at Adrian, next Thursday night.

The Indians will then play Coldwater Friday night, followed by a game with the Adrian Maples on Saturday evening.

JEFF OSBURN paced the Jayvees with 24 points and a tough win for Coach Jim Hoffman's team, 50-44. Osburn's output was the highest for season for Jayvee or varsity players. .

In the varsity game, Airport stayed with Tecumseh through much of the game by hitting from the free throw line. Where the Indians collected only 13 points from the foul line, the Jets netted 21.

Coach Doug Murdoch sends his charges into a three-game holiday tournament in Adrian's gym next week. Other crews will come from Adrian, Coldwater and Blissfield. So far, the Tecumseh cagers are 2 and 1.

Closed Houses Bring Danger of Carbon Monoxide Deaths

The recent "close call" of a Lansing family with the silent killer, carbon monoxide, has prompted State Health Commissioner Dr. Albert E. Heustis to once again issue a warning to Michigan residents to be alert to this danger.

"We are right in the middle of the carbon monoxide season," Dr. Heustis said. "When cold weather is with us, the house is buttoned up tight and the furnace is turned up." Unless the furnace and chimney are in good repair, the chance of a down draft forcing carbon monoxide fumes into the living quarters is a constant threat, he said.

In the Lansing area alone, within the past year, two people have died from carbon monoxide and two other families have been overcome by fumes and narrowly escaped death.

"I can't emphasize too strongly the importance of having the heating system of a home inspected periodically by qualified heating contractors," he said.

MICHIGAN Department of Health engineers warn that excessive moisture in the house and the pungent odor of aldehydes and other combustion products which may produce a burning sensation in the eyes should be reason enough to suspect a malfunctioning heating system and call in someone to investigate.

However, carbon monoxide itself is completely odorless.

Whenever there is the slightest doubt, it is best to ask for help from a heating contractor, public utility company, or local heating inspector.

A common misconception concerning carbon monoxide exposures, according to the health department engineers, is that the furnace or smoldering fire in the fireplace "burns" up the oxygen in the house—in effect, suffocating the victims. This is not the case, say the engineers. Whenever people are "overcome" it is invariably the work of carbon monoxide fumes leaking into the house from a defective heating system or chimney down draft.

"WHENEVER an entire family simultaneously comes down with similar symptoms of illness, this should be sufficient cause to suspect carbon monoxide poisoning and take action to get the family into fresh air," Dr. Heustis said.

He also warned against the practice of using charcoal briquets indoors in the fireplace, as they are very high producers of carbon monoxide, and even with a window open can quickly build up a lethal concentration of fumes.

"With the advent of cold weather, we can fully expect a continuing report of carbon monoxide deaths until the day that everyone is made to understand the potential danger of carbon monoxide and be constantly on the alert for it—in the home, riding in the car, vacationing in a cabin or house trailer, or staying overnight in a motel or resort."

Graham Film on Holy City To Be Shown

Evangelist Billy Graham fulfills an ambition of many years as he tells the fascinating story of ancient Jerusalem in World Wide Pictures' newest film release.

"Jerusalem" will be shown in Tecumseh at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 26, in Friends Church.

The City of Jerusalem, for 4,000 years the focal point of human history and divine intervention, has been totally destroyed on at least two occasions, has been captured by conquering armies more than 20 times, but has been rebuilt from the rubble of its own ruins to outlive all conquerors.

The Holy City's place in prophecy and the promise of Christ's return are favorite themes of Evangelist Graham.

The picture climaxes with a challenge that blends sober warning with the joy and inspiration of personal commitment to Him who said, "And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again ,and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also."

"Jerusalem" is an hour-long motion picture, rich in color and the authentic sounds of the land.

Plan Trip Before Starting

"This year, Christmas comes on Tuesday at the end of a four-day weekend for those who can get Monday off," Jack L. McNamara, managing director of the Michigan Trucking Association pointed out.

Speaking in connection with the Michigan trucking industry's December Courtesy and Safety Campaign, "Holiday Hazards," he warned that this could create problems for the unwary driver.

"Before you rush ahead with plans for a big Christmas trip, remember that the very shape of the calendar means that you will have to use all or part of Christmas Day to get home in time to get back on the job Wednesday.

"If you have very far to go, you'll have to get started right after the gifts are opened Christmas morning, because a later start will leave you with an insufficient margin of safety for delays due to heavy traffic or bad weather," he warned.

Mr. McNamara also reminded would-be Christmas travelers that many gas stations, restaurants and other tourist facilities close early on Christmas Eve and remain closed, or are open only for short periods on Christmas Day.

"While we cannot begrudge these people their only holiday of the year, it is nonetheless a complication that must be faced and it can cause delay and inconvenience for the traveler.

"If your projected trip will take you beyond the range of a single tank of gas or will require eating on the road, you may want to think twice before you go," Mr. McNamara suggested.

May the Blessed light that shone from that bright Star of Bethlehem on the night of our Saviour's holy birth . . . shine always in the hearts of men everywhere. Our sincere wishes for a joyous Clfristmas to all our friends.

THROUGH MY WINDOW

MERRY CHRISTMAS

Tuesday is The Day—Christmas! About now however, everything is in such a hopeless state of utter confusion that many of us are almost ready to push the panic button.

There is that last minute gift to buy, lost addresses to find for the few remaining Christmas cards, packages to wrap, cookies to bake, maybe a tree to trim and the list could go on and on.

Adding to the panic is the noise, the doorbell rings, the telephone jangles, the radio blares, the T. V. screams and the record player—

Well, sometimes this can be the straw that breaks the camel's back; when above all the noise and confusion, Christmas music fights to be heard it is almost too much.

With all the rush, rush and hurry, hurry, ugly little doubts begin to appear. Is it all worthwhile, Christmas isn't what it used to be, everything is too commercial.

Such bitter thoughts are wrong, so wrong. Everything contributes its own to the holiday spirit, we must choose our own values.

The Christmas music, for example, it isn't played too often nor too loud—if we but take a moment to listen, the story and meaning of Christmas are so beautifully told in the carols.

"O LITTLE town of Bethlehem! How still we see thee lie; Above thy deep and dreamless sleep The silent stars go by; Yet in thy dark streets shineth The everlasting Light; The hopes and fears of all the years are met in thee tonight."

"For Christ is born of Mary, And gather'd all above, While mortals sleep, the angels keep Their watch of wond'ring love. O morning stars, together Proclaim the holy birth! And praises sing to God the King. And peace to men on earth."

"How silently, how silently The wondrous gift is giv'n! So God imparts to human hearts The blessings of His heav'n. No ear may hear his coming. But in this world of sin, Where meek souls will receive Him still, The dear Christ enters in."

"O holy Child of Bethlehem! Descends to us, we pray; Cast out our sin, and enter in, Be born in us today. We hear the Christmas angels, The great glad tidings tell; O come to us, abide with us, Our Lord Emmanuel."

This last stanza contains much for us to think about each and every day of the year, doesn't it?

ANOTHER version of the Christmas story was put to the old melody of "Greensleeves" — "What child is this who laid to rest, On Mary's lap is sleeping Whom angels greet with anthems sweet, While shepherds watch are keeping?

This, this is Christ the King, Whom shepherds guard, and angels sing: Haste, haste to bring him laud, The babe the son of Mary. So bring Him incense, gold, and myrrh, Come peasant, king to own Him; The king of Kings salvation brings; Let loving hearts enthrone Him."

"Raise, raise the song on high; The Virgin sings her lullaby; Joy, joy for Christ is born, The babe, the son of Mary."

So it is that the beautiful Christmas music should serve as a reminder of what we celebrate.

"Joy to the world: the Lord is Come; Let earth receive her King;"

Merry, merry Christmas to you all!

Wayne State Alters Term

Registration for the first Winter quarter in history at Wayne State University will be held Jan. 2, 3 and 4, with classes starting on Monday, Jan. 7.

The institution of the quarter system has substantially altered the normal University calendar with the result that many members of the community may be unaware of the new schedule.

The Winter quarter will run from January through the end of March, with a Spring quarter beginning April 1.

Information concerning class schedules and registration forms may be obtained by calling the University Information Center, TEmple 3-1400, Ext. 561, or by writing the Registrar, Wayne State University, Detroit 2.

Air Force Interviews Teachers

An Air Force representative will be conducting interviews in January at University of Michigan, Wayne State University, and University of Toledo for interested and qualified teachers to teach abroad in the Air Force Dependent school system for the 1963-64 school year.

Persons with a bachelor's degree, valid teaching certificate, two years teaching experience and preferably single may contact Marjorie M. Fuller, overseas placement officer, Civilian Personnel Office, Selfridge Air Force Base, Mich. for an interview, appointment and/or further details.

These interviews are for placement of teachers in the Department of the Air Force dependent schools in the Azores, Bermuda, England, France, Japan, Libya, Labrador, Turkey, Newfoundland and the Philippines, and applicants may indicate the countries they will accept assignment in.

Teachers are urgently needed for the primary grades, and the subject matter fields or mathematics, science, remedial reading, guidance, library, vocal and instrumental music combination, and dormitory counseling.

Interviews are scheduled Jan. 4 and 5 at UM, Jan. 7 at Toledo and Jan. 10 and 11 at Wayne State.

Circle Enjoys Party and Games

A Christmas party was held Dec. 10 night by Mary Foster Circle of the Methodist Church.

Devotions were presented by Mrs. John Curth, and three Christmas stories were read by Mrs. Edna Wilcox. Games were played, with prizes won by Mrs. Wilcox and Mrs. Edward Beal.

Money was collected for gifts to the needy.

Mrs. Carl Hale was hostess in her home. She was assisted with serving dessert by Mrs. Richard Johnson.

SOCIAL SECURITY Questions and Answers

QUESTION: I am receiving social security as a widow under 62 with 3 minor children. If I should die, will the children continue to receive benefits?

ANSWER: Yes, their benefits will continue until they are age 18.

QUESTION: I am 65, but I have been turned down by social security because I did not have enough credit for work covered by social security. Can I still earn this credit and become entitled to benefits at a later time?

ANSWER: Yes, you can earn security credit by continuing to work. When you have enough social security credit, you should apply again. A man who reached 65 in 1962, needs credit for 2¾ years of work under social security.

QUESTION: A friend of mine who had two minor children died recently, but when her husband tried to get benefits for the children his application was not approved. Why weren't benefits payable for the children?

ANSWER: Very probably this claim was not allowed because the mother was not currently insured. For benefits to be paid to the children on their mother's earnings record, she would have to have social security credit for work under social security in 1½ out of the 3 years just before her death.

QUESTION: I began getting social security payments a year ago. I am still running my small store, but I am now earning less than $1200 a year. I was told by a friend that after I started getting social security, I did not have to pay any self-employment tax. Is this right?

ANSWER: No. If you clear $400 or more from your business, you must pay your social security tax.

Do you have a question about social security? If so, write to your social security representative for Lenawee County, James Hushion, 536 N. Jackson St., Jackson. All letters are confidential and you will receive an immediate reply.

Why is it that when we talk about insurance you always recommend the Hanna Insurance Agency so highly?

Passion Play Being Brought to Adrian

The American version of the world-famous Passion Play, as performed at Oberammergau, Bavaria, Germany, for 325 years, will be presented at Dawson Auditorium, Adrian college campus, Monday thru Wednesday, Jan. 7-8-9.

It is sponsored by the Adrian Area Chamber of Commerce.

The religious drama will be staged in Adrian in English, with Val Balfour interpreting the part of Jesus of Nazareth, and with a large supporting professional cast, said Mr. Merillat. Mr. Balfour is the 4th generation in his family to make biblical drama his life work.

This ancient drama is the fulfillment of a religious vow, preserved in the village archives.

According to the chronicle, a terrible pestilence visited Germany in the 1633. Whole villages were wiped out.

Oberammergau maintained a strict quarantine and for a time escaped disaster. Casper Shusler, who was working in a neighboring town, wanted to spend the week with his family. He broke quarantine, carrying death and destruction with him. In 33 days nearly a hundred of the villagers perished.

In their despair, the people vowed to present the Passion Play periodically for all time in return for their deliverance from the plague.

Records state that from that hour the plague was stayed. The following year the play was given and from that time until the present, the vow has been kept.

THE ORIGINAL play requires an entire day to present, from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m., with a two-hour intermission for lunch. The presentation is repeated approximately every 10 years, and has drawn millions of people into the high Bavarian Alps.

The American version being presented in Adrian has been cut to 25 scenes requiring only 2¼ hours.

This original American version as staged by Heritage Productions is not expected to be within 100 miles of Lenawee County for another 10 years, said Mr. Merillat.

Ticket headquarters for the Passion Play have been set up in the Chamber of Commerce building, 216 N. Main St. Both mail and phone reservations will be accepted. The number is COlfax 5-5141.

There will be student matinees at 12:30 each afternoon, and reserved seat performances at 8:15 p.m.

AN AMERICAN VERSION OF THE OBERAMMERGAU PASSION PLAY WILL BE PRESENTED IN ADRIAN JAN. 7-9

CONSIDER IRRIGATION — but not merely as insurance against drouth. The costs are too high. To really pay off it should be used whenever soil water content is not high enough for maximum crop production. Where surface irrigation is possible, costs may be lower than sprinkling. An irrigation system requires a lot of planning. Start now investigating the best systems for your situation, arranging financing and surveying the land so as to be ready to go next summer.

BROILERS CAN SKIP A MEAL occasionally — if the period doesn't exceed 12 hours. In Michigan trials where all feed was removed for two 12-hour periods each week from a group of birds, no changes in body weight or feed utilization were observed when compared with a group which had feed available at all times. A feed reserve in the birds' crop apparently continues to supply needs for a time after feed is removed. Eighteen and 24 hour "hunger periods" did produce slight weight losses and lower feed utilization. Due to differences in use of feed, this doesn't necessarily apply to layers.

EARLY DAIRY CALF WEANING can be a very practical way to reduce the cost of raising herd replacements. It saves marketable milk or purchased milk replacer. Remember these points, though: (1) Feed limited quantities of milk or milk replacer to 4 weeks of age. (2) Begin feeding a high quality starter and water by the end of the first week. (3) Offer fresh, good quality hay daily. (4) Watch to see that the calf is healthy and eating grain and hay after it is weaned.

IS YOUR MACHINERY SITTING OUT IN THE WEATHER? It's a good way to lose money without being aware of it. Housed equipment will last about 10% longer and repair costs will run about 10% lower than with unhoused equipment. You can justify about 1.4% of the replacement cost of a piece of equipment as an annual housing cost.

Ridgeway Reports

By MRS. WILLIAM WRIGHT

This is just a little reminder that the holidays are here,
And your busy with the shopping and your heart is filled with cheer.
So be careful on the road and be a little wise,
So you'll be around on Christmas morn to see your children eyes

A nice card and note was received by this correspondent from a former resident of Ridgeway, Mrs. Estella Hite who is making her home at Greenwood, S. C. She writes, I want to tell you how much I enjoy your items in the Tecumseh Herald, they mean so much when you are so far away, thanks a million." It is something like this that makes ones puny efforts seem worth while.

The Ridgeway Methodist Church held their Christmas program last Sunday evening with Mrs. Edward Bailey as program chairman, with all the Sunday School classes taking part.

The welcome was given by Garry Walters and carrying out the Christmas Story, the 3 and 4 year olds dressed in their pajamas, each had something to say.

The primary class presented a Christmas lesson with a specialty by Susan Van Gorder and Pamala Purple.

The MYF called on friends and members Monday evening to collect blankets for the Algerian refugees of which there are close to a million and people are urged to help. If anyone wishes to contribute please bring your blankets to the Church as 650,000 are needed.

There was an instrumental duet given by Diana Bishop and Susan Smith.

A white gift offering was held at the end of the program with the proceeds going to the Methodist Children Home in Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bartle of Flint were weekend guests of Mrs. Will Fletcher.

The United workers will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Southard Dec. 20, at 8 p.m. to pack Christmas Boxes for the shut-ins.

A group from the Methodist Church will go caroling Dec. 18, in the evening.

Tories Top Dundee Five in Last-Minute Flurry

BRITTON — After an easy 53-51 win over Adrian Catholic Central Friday night, Britton's Tories played a hard-fought, cliff-hanging game with Dundee Saturday.

Trailing all through the game — by as much as 12 points at one time — Britton's eagers got fired up in the final two minutes of the game, finally edging Dundee 66-65.

Britton had to do without its high-scoring center, Phil Benedict. Injured in the first half, he suffered a badly bruised side. He stayed on the bench during the second half, consenting to a trip to the hospital only after the last buzzer sounded.

X-rays showed no broken ribs, and the doctor reported he should be back in play soon.

Teammate Pepper Griewahn, suffering with a cold, stuck with the play for 3½ quarters. He is expected to be ready for games this week.

The Tories made a real team effort. Benedict, Tom Komon, Fred McCrate, Ron Mastie and Ken Southwell kept the score nearly even, but Dundee was ahead 38-32 at the end of the first half.

Coach Sam Hamilton said Southwell, with 27 points, played his best game.

Finally putting the Tories on top were a field goal by Verl Sanch and two free throws by Southwell.

The Tories had a game scheduled at Ida Tuesday, and will play at Whiteford Friday. After the holidays, play will resume Jan. 4.

Britton has the only undefeated team in the River Raisin League, Deerfield, Whiteford, Sand Creek and Ida all are 2-1 in league play, while Summerfield is 1-2 and Boyasville and Adrian CC are both down 3.

Through the cooperation of the Ministerial Assn., church choirs from throughout the community will carol at the scene from Friday through Christmas Eve. The schedule includes Friends Church Friday evening; Children's choir of the Tipton Community Church Saturday afternoon; Episcopal Church, Saturday evening; North Blissfield Evangelical Church, Sunday afternoon; First Baptist Church, Sunday evening; Presbyterian Church, Monday afternoon, and Gloria Dei Senior Choir, Monday evening. In addition to the figures of the Holy Family and Wise men, the Nativity scene will include live animals. City dwellers are reminded that the animals, whose entire life is spent outdoors, have thick winter coats to protect them, and are unmindful of winter weather. Many persons tele phoned church and city officials last year, thinking the animals were being maltreated.

News From Boysville

By RICHARD MC MILLAN

The annual candlelight banquet was planned Wednesday, Dec. 19, in the new dining hall. Boys, faculty and close friends of Boysville were invited to the banquet, sponsored by the Brothers of Holy Cross, and given as a gift to the boys who will be home for the holidays. After a talk by Brother Philip Armstrong, CSC, director, the Boysville Glee Club was to sing several traditional Christmas carols.

The Boysville varsity team was handed its third straight defeat by the Deerfield Minutemen Friday night. The Knights played a good first quarter and led 11-10 at the beginning of the second quarter. Deerfield then began to rally and refused to surrender the lead for the remainder of the game. Final score for the game was 54-34. Bill Cannon led the Deerfield attack with 20 points. Seoring honors for Boysville went to Stan Klos, who scored 12 points.

Boysville's JV team eked out its second victory of the season Friday night by defeating Deerfield 45 to 43 in a thriller. Nip and tuck action characterized the second half until the last minute, when the Knights took a 4-point lead which proved to be decisive. Mo Jacobs was high point man in this game with 15 points.

The ice skating season opened Thursday morning after an official announcement from Brother Oliver Baran, CSC, that the ice was safe. To add to the atmosphere for skating and at the same time to insure that the boys will have the proper Christmas when they leave for home, music is being piped through loud speakers which fills the airs ways of all four corners of the campus.

Sunday, Dec. 16, the Boysville Glee Club traveled to Manchester to entertain the Knights of Columbus from that area. Plans for this week also include a trip to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor where the group will echo several traditional Christmas carols in the hospital's corridors.

The Dexter Knights of Columbus have donated to Boysville a proilometer during this past month. A proilometer is used in precision measuring and can measure up to one ten-millionth of an inch. It will be placed in the shop classroom and used by those taking the shop course.

Christmas vacation for the boys begins this Friday at 3 p.m. and ends Wednesday, Jan. 2, at 8 p.m.

With the opening of the new basketball season the Knights found themselves with a new group of cheerleaders. The new boosters include Ron Medel, Dan Byrne, Ben Thomas, Ed Johnson, John Kostal and Wayne Toms, The boys have received new uniforms and will receive a letter at the end of the season.

Happy New Year.

Only eight pages this week, so don't look for another section.

Next issue will carry a big review of 1962 in Tecumseh, with many photos from the past 12 months.

Did you hear about the fellow who went to the post office and bought up a flock of 4c stamps.

He said he wanted to have a good supply for first-class mail when the new rate goes into effect.

Bob Hunt, 9849 Murphy Hwy., reports the incident. He and fellow workers at Ford Rawsonville tried to explain to the chap, but this boy knew how to beat the post office.

She prefers to be called Joyce around Tecumseh.

This one item probably best shows that Joyce Wilbar is still Joyce Wilbar.

Although she has a new hairdo and sophisticated look, the Tecumseh movie starlet is unchanged in personality.

Joyce was home for a few days last week. We chatted about her career and took a few pictures around town.

As always, Joyce was most cooperative as we wandered into a few downtown stores. She happily greeted friends along the way, as if she were still living here and working at Van's Bakery.

Joyce said that there are a lot of wonderful folks in Hollywood and she is enjoying her career enormously.

Her stage experience with the Toledo Repertorie Theatre, the Jewish Community Theatre and the Playhouse in the Park, while she lived in Toledo, will be helpful to her next stop in show business.

That's the stage comedy she'll be doing shortly.

Joyce says her favorite Hollywood character is—of all people—Mae West, who is fabulous in full-length gowns, carrying a long cigaret holder and accompanied by several young men.

That's the way Miss West has appeared at parties which Joyce has attended. The old gal must still be quite a personality.

Christmas Past, Present Shown Through Play

"The Birthday of Our King," was presented by the children and adults of the First Methodist Church School Dec. 16.

The Christmas program was under the direction of Mrs. Carroll Sprague with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bagdon assisting.

In the program different portrayals of Mary and Joseph, Bible times, and the Indian version of the Christmas story were presented.

Some church members showed how a family of the 1800's and a family of modern times might have spent Christmas Eve in their homes.

The senior, junior, and primary choirs participated with carols during the program.

Exchange Tots To See Movie

A special program for Tecumseh Exchange Club men and their children will be held Jan. 7. Lou Klewer, outdoor editor of The Blade in Toledo, will show films of his Anarctic tour.

The Rev. Julian Gresham spoke to club members at their meeting Dec. 17. He commented on the commercialization of the Christmas holiday.

Douglas Dunn and Robert Hart were fine masters.

JOYCE VIEWS DOWNTOWN

Joyce Lands Broadway Show Role

Next stop: Broadway.

Joyce Wilbar of Tecumseh, whose stage name is Julie Parrish, has landed a lead role in a Broadway show.

She was in town over the weekend for her sister Jan's wedding. She visited with her family, the W. R. Wilbars, 421 N. Evans St., and old friends, did some shopping.

On Sunday, she was jetted back to the West Coast to gather up her clothing and sublet her Beverly Hills duplex.

Joyce is due in New York Jan. 2 to begin rehearsals in a comedy by Allen Scott.

It's called "Memo" and in it she plays opposite screen star McDonald Carey.

Joyce is tremendously thrilled about this new turn in her career, which has so far included two Jerry Lewis movies and a television shot on the Dobie Gillis show.

(Incidentally, Joyce says that the fellow who plays Maynard G. Crebbs is a wonderful guy.)

LANDING the prime part in "Memo" was one of those odd twists of show business.

Writer Scott was casting the show in Hollywood and had already signed Mr. Carey, as well as Ray Walston, among others.

He auditioned several "name" actresses for the big spot, but none seemed to fill the bill.

At lunch with Jack Cummings, a producer at MGM, Mr. Scott was discussing the problem. Mr. Cummings asked him what type he sought and after a brief description by the writer, the MGM executive said.

"I know a girl, although relatively unknown, who might be just what you're looking for."

He mentioned Joyce and Mr. Scott soon was in touch with her for an audition.

She read bits of the show with Mr. Cary and Mr. Walston. That did it. Joyce was hired on the spot.

Rehearsals begin in the Longacre Theatre of New York, will last about three weeks.

"Memo" will take to the road, opening in Wilmington, Del., late January. Play dates are also slated for Detroit, Cleveland, Boston, Philadelphia, Washington—and then Broadway!

Joyce is thrilled by the whole thing, especially the junket to the various cities.

Since leaving for the west coast less than one year ago, Joyce has been busy constantly, mainly with a six-months M-G-M talent school stint.

She was selected for the class after doing a small part in the Lewis flicker, "It's Only Money."

Comedian Lewis, pleased with her first effort, gave Joyce a lead role in his "The Nutty Professor," which was just completed and will be released in about six months.

Warner Bros. spied Joyce and offered her a two-year contract with an additional five-year option, but she turned it down because much of the work would be in that studio's run of TV series.

The opportunity for the play arrived just at the right time and she is delighted.

MRS. MARVIN WATKINS SHOWS JOYCE SOME JEWELRY

THS '5' in Tourney

Tecumseh will compete in a three-day round-robin holiday basketball tournament in Adrian, starting Thursday.

All four schools participating will play each of the three nights The schedule includes:

THURSDAY

Adrian vs Coldwater, 7:30

Tecumseh vs Blissfield, 9

FRIDAY

Tecumseh vs Coldwater, 7:30

Adrian vs Blissfield, 9

SATURDAY

Blisfield vs Coldwater, 7:30

Tecumseh vs Adrian, 9

The Blissfield-Tecumseh clash will take the place of one Huron League contest the pair are scheduled for this winter.

A trophy will be presented to the tournament winner.

"THIS IS an unique event," said Adrian high athletic director Cliff Nelson.

"We had to get special permission to hold the tournament from the state high school athletic office. Most state holiday tourneys are elimination events. This is the first of the round-robin variety in the state."

Plans for the event were made last year. It is a joint venture between Adrian, Tecumseh and Blissfield.

The tourney may be moved to Blissfield or Tecumseh if successful and will be tried again in future years.

This is the one year Coldwater can compete and a fourth team will be needed next year. At this time it is reported Monroe is the best bet.

"All the schools are highly in favor of this tourney," said Nelson. "It should help fill the athletic void during the holidays and draw good crowds."

ADRIAN'S gym will seat 1,800. Portable seats will probably be put up at one end, bringing the overall capacity to Twenty-one hundred.

Coldwater is given a flat money guarantee on the tourney with the three Lenawee schools splitting the rest for use in the athletic budgets.

It is possible that the three sponsors will be able to net more than $500 on the affair.

The doors will open each night at 6:45 p.m.

City Trucks Will Pick Up Discarded Christmas Trees

City trucks will be picking up discarded Christmas trees during January, announces City Engineer Cal Zorn.

Residents are asked to place them next to the curb.

Mr. Zorn points out that Acme, Inc., which collects garbage and refuse at most Tecumseh homes, is not required to take Christmas trees.

"The city always does this," points out Mr. Zorn.

Acme has been in the news as a result of several incidents, which city officials hope were straightened out in a recent session.

Acme's part owner, Richard Waltz, 9470 Raisin Center Hwy., huddled with Mayor Harold Easton, Mr. Zorn and Councilmen Royal Welch and Terry Mackin.

The city representatives critized Mr. Waltz's early billing for the final quarter of 1962. He had sent out statements to about half of Acme's customers in early December. They should not have been mailed until late in the month.

ACME CHARGES its 1,030 residential customers $1.50 per month for twice weekly pick-up of all trash and garbage.

Its 78 commercial accounts, some which get daily pick-ups, are billed between $3 and $25 a month, based on the amount of refuse.

Everything collected is deposited in the Raisin Township dump.

Last month, due to the heavy snow, Acme missed one complete circuit of the city, Mr. Waltz explained to officials, who had drawn telephone calls from unhappy customers.

Acme has a three-year contract with the city. It runs through October of 1963.

MR. WALTZ asks that customers observe care in placing garbage in their containers.

Sometimes people merely toss it at the can—and often miss—he told officials. This makes extra work for himself and his two-man pick-up crew.

It is suggested that all waste foods be wrapped in paper or put in grocery sacks before people place it in the container.

Acme collects from the rear of homes, unless the containers hold more than the alloted 60 pounds. In these cases, patrons must place the refuse at the curb.

The other owner of Acme is Edward Kubiske, city engineer of Ypsilanti.

Gray Ladies Entertain 125 Patients

Nine Gray Ladies from Tecumseh entertained a closed ward of 125 patients at the Ypsilanti State Hospital recently.

The ward was gayly decorated with paper cutouts made by the patients in recreational therapy.

The hostesses arranged table decorations for the party including some provided by Mrs. P. G. Colgrove.

Those hostessing the patients were Mrs. Roscoe Hewlett, Mrs. Wayne Patton, Mrs. Herman Jones, Mrs. Walter Wonderly, Mrs. Marvin Nelson, Mrs. Charles O'Brien, Mrs. James Tonneberger, Mrs. Eugene Skinner and Mrs. John Quigley.

Mrs. Thomas Corkery told the story of "The Littlest Angel."

Linda Sinky sang "O Holy Night" accompanied by Linda Gilbert.

Guests were Mrs. Neal Pearson and Mrs. Harold Pickard.

During the Christmas season plants will be taken to shut-ins in the Tecumseh area by Little Garden Club members.

FOR COMMUNITY CENTER

8 Civic Groups Combine Forces To Get Kitchen

Eight civic organizations are joining force to raise money for a kitchen at the Community Center.

They've already begun to make plan for the major fund-making event—a circus in May.

Gathering last week were representatives of Rotary, VFW, American Legion, Exchange, Jaycees and the Business and Professional Women.

Unable to attend, but expressing a willingness to take part were Kiwanis and the Tecumseh Players.

Rotary Club President Hugh Walter is spark-plugging the effort, which could bring the local project upwards of $2,000.

Mr. Walter reported that he had been in contact with the Hillsdale Rotary Club, which in two years of sponsoring the circus, netted $3,500.

OTHER Rotarians present at the initial gathering were Bob French, Andy Woodward, Gordon Garlick, Paul Maves and Cliff Knudsen.

Dick Perry represented the V-FW and Doug Maves the Legion.

Jim Barton was on hand for Exchange, Rich Creswell for the Jaycees and Mrs. Laine Holden for the B&PW.

Mills Bros. 3-Ring Circus will present the entertainment at two performances on May 9. In its 24th year, Mills Bros. is billed as "Amerca's Largest and Greatest Fund-Raising Circus Under Canvas."

"Biggest profit from this kind of event comes in the pre-show sale of tickets," explains Mr. Walter.

"That's why we intend to start selling in February, with special rates for groups," he adds.

Florida Visitors Send Poem

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. McConnell are spending their first Christmas in Florida, quite a change for northerners who associate snow and cold with the Christmas season.

Mrs. McConnell sent an appropriate poem to the Herald.

CHRISTMAS IN FLORIDA
Author Unknown

"The visitor sadly shook his head,
As he basked in the tropical sun;
'Call this Christmas?' to me, he said—
Not where I come from.

Christmas needs snow, ice and cold
And the sound of sleighbells ring,
As for me, I can't be sold on this weather
That feels like a breath of spring.

Your Santa Claus in a bathing suit?
No sir-ee—it just isn't right;
Orange marmalade and tropical fruit,
I think it's an awful fright.

We looked at him and then we smiled,
As he scoffed at our sad plight;
And we felt pity and were not riled,
'Cause he was so far from right.

For no snow fell on Bethleham
The night the first star shone;
There was no blizzard or howling gales,
That swept with a shriek and a moan.

The breeze was soft and what is more
The night the Christ Child came;
Hibiscus bloomed near the stable door,
As Mary murmured His name.

Bougainvillea of violet hue
Arched in a graceful bower;
Poinsettias, wet with midnight dew,
Proclaimed that Sacred Hour.

The Heavenly Host in the starry sky
Announced the Birth of the King;
And the rustling palm echoed the cry,
And the whole earth seemed to sing.

So we find here in our sun-drenched land,
Untouched by ice and snow;
That the Spirit of Christmas is near at hand,
And we feel God willed it so."

THROUGH MY WINDOW

QUITE A YEAR

For the past several years we have had fun with a bird calendar or diary. Using one of the big memo calendars, the kind which gives about a two inch square to each day, we jot down any new or interesting bird happening.

It is also easy to keep track of our changeable Michigan weather. Let's check back and see just what kind of a year '62 was.

The year started right out with a bang, January 1st and we had a flicker and two song-sparrows on the feeder. The eighth was the start of our evening-grosbeak frustration; a handsome male visited us but, although the town was full of them, we were ostracized from then on.

The twentieth was a big bird day, a hairy woodpecker and a ragged yellow-bellied sapsucker.

About the only bird note for February was that on the 20th we saw a crow. The weather was something, tho'—52° one day and 5° the next; snow, sleet, rain, fog and a flooded creek.

February was also Colonel Green's month. The TV sets had quite a workout.

Spring made her appearance in March—Zero temperatures the first but by the end of the month we were up into the 70's.

And just listen to the notes we made, from the 18th on we had robins, grackles, whistling swans (in the country), and the crocus and tulips were well up. Wow!

APRIL IS always a good bird month. White crown sparrows the 1st; blue jays collecting nesting material the 4th; martin house erected the 14th, much to the delight of the sparrows; cowbirds the 20th; wrens the 21st; yellow warbler the 26th; Baltimore Oriole the 27th; goldfinches the 28th; and a big beautiful brown thrasher the 30th.

The excitement extended into May as the old friends continued to return. May 1st cat bird; 12th, indigo buntings; 13th, blackburnian warbler, black polls; 19th, hummingbird; 25th, yard full of baby robins, blue jays and grackles; 26th, bob white and towhees. On the 16th it was 94°, our first porch day of the year.

June, July and August, while maybe not as warm as usual, were fine summer months and we enjoyed being outdoors.

Young birds were everywhere; baby wrens and catbirds tried to chase us out of our own yard and once we saw junior kingfisher out with his mother.

Another day Mrs. Flicker had her hands (?) full with three youngsters.

A surprising sight was three flocks of geese heading south.

September was a little of summer and a lot of fall. Hummingbirds were still busy but on the 5th we hosted two chick-a-dees.

On their way south the yellow warblers said good-by the 11th, and the 26th saw the last of the thrashers and blackburnian warblers.

October was wonderful vacation time! Pheasants and cedar waxwings kept Ida company and on the 22nd we enjoyed the mixed up combination of robins and juncos.

November and December are so current that they hardly need reviewing. Who wants to be reminded of our pre-holiday plunge into the deep freeze; one thing the snow and cold did, however, was bring the cardinals out. Three pairs of the red beauties!

So it is that thanks to our bird calendar we can check back and find that '62 really was quite a year.

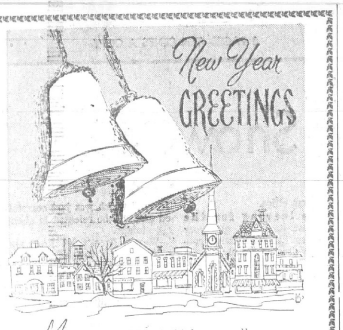
NEXT WEEK:
A Breakfast Companion

Song, Food Delivered

Christmas carols and food baskets were delivered to 13 Tecumseh homes Sunday by Rotary Club members.

Song leaders Robert Karle, Robert H. Moore, Charles Butler, E. L. Simmons and Lynn Driscoll, accompanied by 15 other Rotarians, carried the greetings and baskets to shut-ins and elderly persons.

They ended the evening with some surprise caroling for friends and members of Rotary, including seasonal and birthday greetings for Mrs. Faye Whelan.



May the New Year hold for you all . . .
all health, good times and good fortune. We look forward to serving you next year!

Always a phone at hand in a home that's Telephone-Planned

New Phone Numbers Here January 1

That's right . . . starting Tuesday, January 1, Tecumseh telephones will be identified by seven numbers. Actually, this won't involve any change in dialing habits because the numbers 4 and 2 are being substituted for the letters H and A (for HArrison). These two numbers correspond to the H and A holes on the telephone dial. The last five numerals in almost every Tecumseh number will remain the same. Why the change then? The answer: the need for more phone numbers for the future. Exchange names such as HArrison limit the number of exchange designations in a given area to 540. With seven numeral numbers (All Number Calling) there are 800 possible combinations that can be used to identify different exchanges. The explosion of the U.S. population and the new nationwide Direct Distance Dialing has put pressure on the telephone industry for more and more numbers. Eventually, every phone in the nation will have a seven numeral number.

DO YOU KNOW?

Beginning with 1963, all financial institutions wi ll be required by law to report to the Internal Revenue Service payments to any person of dividends or interest totaling $10.00 or more during a calendar year. This new reporting requirement is to minimize the unintentional under-reporting of dividends and interest income. The U.S. Treasury will then be able to trace all dividends and interest income to the income tax return of the recipient.

The new law requires that these information returns must show the name and address and identification number of the person to whom interest and dividends were paid. The identification number required is the Social Security Number in the case of an individual or the Employer Identification Number in case of a partnership or corporation.

In order to assist all financial institutions in pre paring for required tax information reporting, kindly inform them of your Social Security Number (for an i ndividual or self-employed person) or Employer Identification Number (for a partnership or corporation). If you have neither of these numbers, your financial institution will assist you in obtaining this identification number.

These numbers may be obtained by writing:

Internal Revenue Service
P.O. Box 211
Baltimore 3, Md.

In a Joint Account only one Social Security Number or Employer Identification Number is necessary on each account.

VOICE OF THE HERALD

Should Really Shine

When eight organizations get together in a major project that's news—real good news.

We're not implying that our local groups are short on cooperation. Far from it. All that was needed was a person to stage a meeting and propose a worthy joint undertaking.

The fellow in this case is Hugh Walter, president of Rotary. The project: drum up money to build a kitchen at the Community Center.

Hugh got his fellow Rotarians steamed up about the idea and then set up a session of other town service organizations.

The Herald applauds everyone engaged —and others who will be active—in this extremely worthy effort.

Most folks are willing to work on civic projects. It's a matter of getting them interested and then having the framework of a program to guide them.

All of the groups teaming on this Community Center kitchen plan have accomplished much as individual organizations and now they should really shine as a big team.

In case this thing gets real contagious, we can advance a couple of other ideas for future consideration:

1. More permanent stands for the football field to be used for games, the Band Festival and possible other outdoor shows.
2. New football lights.

Someone Noticed

Well, someone noticed.

The Herald ran three weeks without an editorial. We're not proud of the fact, but just got so snowed with other ingredients of the paper, we figured we could slip by.

But someone called our attention to this omission and we're glad he did. It shows that people do look for editorials in their weeklies.

Too many papers never have editorial opinion, or if they do it's watered-down Casper Milquetoast gruel.

The heart of a newspaper is the editorial section—large or small. It may step on an occasional toe, it may be violently disagreed with, but it is the life-blood of the paper.

In addition to the comment from our reader, we were jostled nicely by the words of a fellow weekly publisher, which appear in the current issue of Time magazine.

Time did a story on Bob Myer's tremendously successful Lapeer County Press and quoted the head man:

"The political power of the country weekly," says Myers, "is a grand illusion. More than half of the nation's 9,000 weeklies never print an editorial. Those that do are generally reactionary."

Now that the rush of Christmas is past, we should be back on our old "regular editorial" schedule.

Chamber Deserves Support

As 1962 draws to an end, Tecumseh has witnessed many blessings and some misfortunes.

One of the latter is the decline of the Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce.

During the past few weeks, the present Chamber board has undertaken a membership drive. Some prospects have been seen and remitted their $25 membership dues for 1963. Many have not been contacted.

Whether you have been contacted or not, businessman or not, if you have an interest in the Chamber and the community, the present Chamber board would appreciate receiving your dues.

The Chamber should not fold, although it is on the brink of collapsing.

The treasury is practically empty. The board cannot have an election of new board members until the membership is determined. The new board can not carry out several projects in mind unless there's money in the till.

About two months ago, the board agreed to promote Tecumseh in general — erect attractive signs at the entrances of the city, lend any effort possible to attract new industry and residents, fulfill Chamber obligations to the citizens.

The board does not plan to participate in downtown promotions, leaving the retailers to promote their own stores and activities through the Chamber's Retail Division.

Can the Chamber help make Tecumseh a better and more prosperous community? It can if you will help.

A united effort behind the Chamber of Commerce for 1963 should be a "must" for every businessman and all residents who wish to take part.

Chamber dues may be sent to Bill Powell, who is presently handling the organization's paper work.
